1966 at s.h.s.

THE ENJOYMENT we derived from being members of the happy Yellow Jacket "hive" in 1965-66 will echo in our memories for years to come. But enjoyment was not the only thing we gained. We were rewarded for the hours of endless toil we spent on homework, self-improvement, and school improvement by merely being able to say with pride, "I'm from Syracuse High School!"

THE ACADEMIC SUBJECTS of Jackets vary greatly, depending upon the grade level of the student. However, no matter what subjects we studied this year, we found that S.H.S. faculty members presented them in a most interesting and informative way.

As seventh and eighth graders, we learned the basics of math, English, practical arts, general science, geography, and Indiana history.

Freshmen found themselves with more of a choice subject-wise, but the old standbys figured in the class schedule of many a frosh.

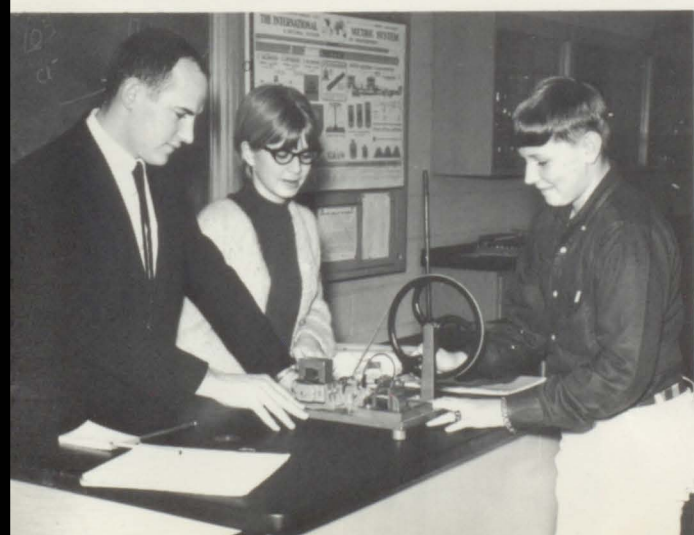

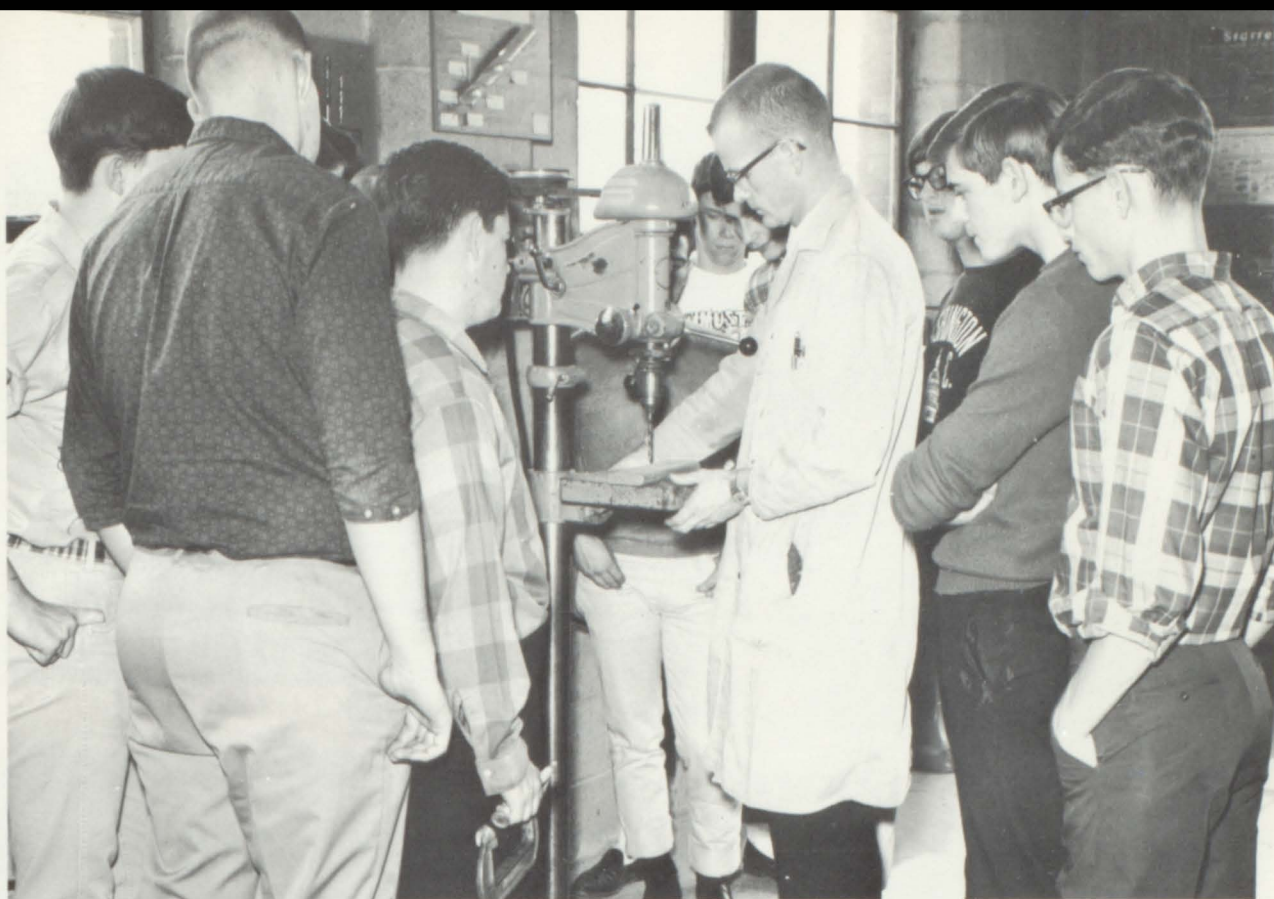

Of course, sophomores, juniors, and seniors had the greatest amount of freedom in selecting classes, and many classes were designed just for this age group.

What we learned academically this year will remain as echoes in our minds long after the words of an instructor have drifted out into an empty hall.

academically, teacher's echoes remain

*these are echoes of the prom, homecoming,

1966 WAS THE YEAR of the "in crowd," of no white socks, of burgundy v-necks, of penny loafers, of a dreamy prom at the Hotel Elkhart, of a homecoming dance and its "Queen Bee," Mary Kay Bushong, of a float sponsored by the class of '66 that won first prize in the Mermaid Festival, of the lovely "Miss Syracuse" it carried, and of many noontime gab fests conducted in S H.S. halls by students and teachers alike.

In reality, 1966 is gone, but the echoes of long, rustling formals, "hip-hip-hurrahs!", classrooms and halls ringing with laughter, the strains of many combos, the clickety-clack of white boots, and the thunder of applause for a performance well done remain ever present in our memories.

Big Road,

They were strong men. Tim was from America, and it was the Indians who were wild. He could swing a pick all day and dance a fiddle handy, and if there was a girl pleased her, for he had the tongue and the eye was a man to be stretched, he could stretch him I saw him later on in years when a thin, white but in his youth he was not so. ### 6. You Shape Your Material

The mind considers the object in whole and in part, in relation to itself and to other objects, examines the balance of its parts, contemplates the form of the object, traverses every cranny of the structure. So the mind receives the impression of the symmetry of the object.

—JAMES JOYCE

FOR the last five chapters we have been experimenting with some of the raw materials of writing. Now, like prospectors with sacks full of ore, we need to take our material to the smelter—to separate the valuable and the useful from the dross.

This analogy holds up for the writer, too. If you are a good observer, if your mind and memory are well stocked with the stuff of living, then you bring your material, all unsorted, to the writing table and to the blank white page, where you refine it and shape it and turn it into a well-made thing. You can't use everything. You choose and discard. You select and throw away.

You select. This is standard advice, and you will find it in most books on the art of writing. But how you select, and what to select are very subtle problems. I am afraid I cannot give you any solutions to these problems, though there are some general principles that might pass for solutions. I would rather set up some problems and let you solve them for yourself, since that's what you will have to do anyway. As a starter, suppose you read carefully ACADEMICS are the mainstream of life at S.H.S. When we say "academics," we mean the classes we sit through every day, the homework we drag home or leave in our lockers, and the invaluable teachers who instruct us in a variety of subjects.

social studies, business make

"CHECKMATE!" . . . "that's the good word," says Mr. Imlay. Yes, our own Mr. Imlay is a chess enthusiast. He also enjoys reading and owns an extensive library. As a teacher of government and problems-in-democracy, Mr. Imlay spent three years at Nappanee before coming to S.H.S. this year. His advice to high school students--"Never quit learning."

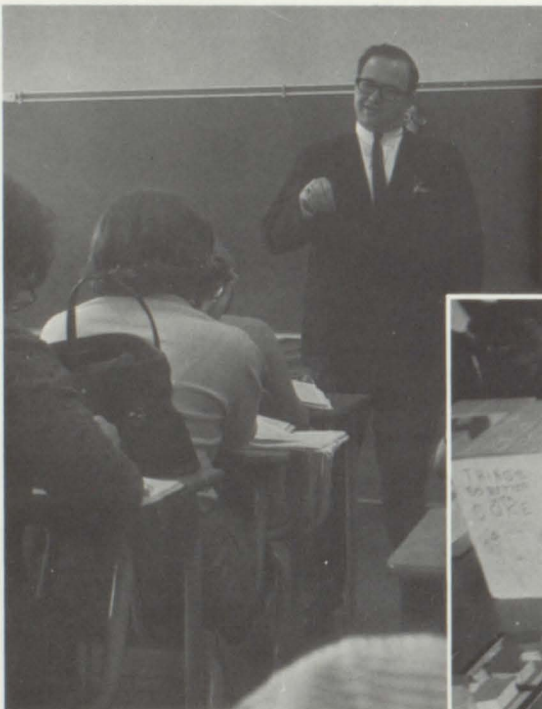

READING is also the favorite pastime of Mr. Metzger. This year he taught Latin and eighth grade history at S.H.S. Mr. Metzger is another "traveler" and spends half of his day at Milford and half of it here. A firm believer in the cliché "Man does not live by bread alone," Mr. Metzger also subsists on the satisfaction of creating an atmosphere in which his students can learn.

MRS. BENDER, S.H.S. world and American history teacher, has thirteen years of teaching experience. She has taught in schools from Riviera Beach, Florida, to Goshen Junior High School emphasizing one of her special interests--traveling. When Mrs. Bender is unable to travel by conventional means she explores the world through books.

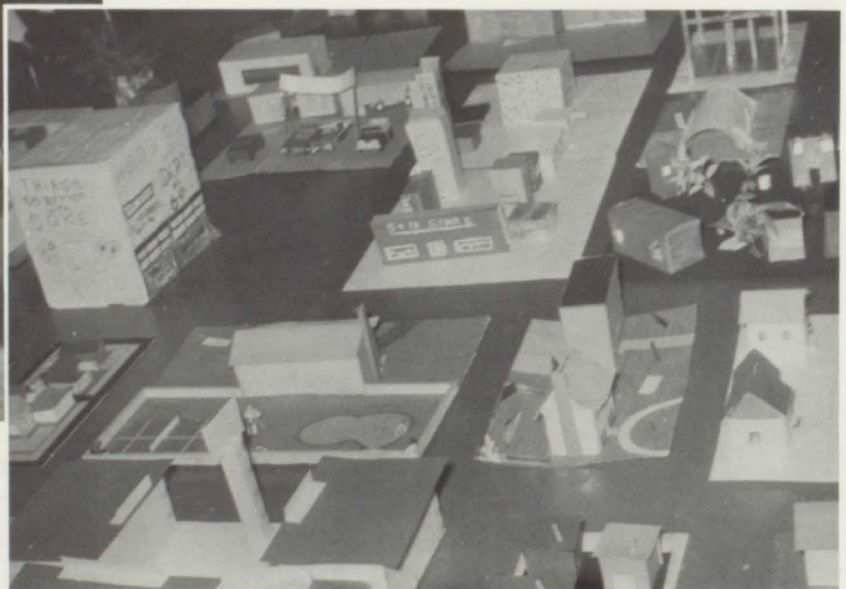

"YOU DON'T have to stay awake nights to become a success--just stay awake days."

This sage advice comes from Mr. Longenbaugh and is directed to all high school students--not just study hall snoozers. Mr. Longenbaugh, who received his A.B. degree from Indiana Central, has been teaching for twenty-five years. He teaches Indiana history and geography to junior high students.

MR. IMLAY lectures to one of his government classes. AT RIGHT--a town-planning project of a problems-in-democracy class.

Students wait anxiously for the answer to this question.

MR. UMMEL enjoys all types of sports, whether participating, coaching, or watching. He attended Beaver Dam High School, Manchester College and Indiana University. He says, "In teaching, it is more important to help students to do better work by inspiring them--not driving or pushing them."

MR. FAWLEY is a member of the English department as well as the commercial department. He enjoys teaching because, "I love young people, and feel that they are our greatest hope for the future."

MR. BOND came originally from Hagerstown, Indiana, and received his degrees from Ball State University. He advises students, "Work hard at what you do. Take the advice of your elders as helpful suggestions and not as criticism."

MR. WORKMAN is one of our new faculty members. He taught formerly at South Whitley, and Warsaw. In his spare time he enjoys golf, fishing, and selling insurance.

This is the business faculty of our school, all looking very jovial--probably chuckling at one of Mr. Fawley's little stories.

s.h.s. science and math students

OUR SCIENCE faculty, Mr. Cobbs, Mr. Neff, Mr. Edwards, and Mr. Moser, are often found here--the chemistry lab.

science

MR. NEFF employs still another principle of physics in his helpful demonstrations.

MR. NEFF is a 1960 graduate of Manchester College, and received his master's degree from Purdue University in 1963. He is a native of the area having lived in Nappanee, Indiana, and attended New Paris High School. He is the sponsor of the Science Club and in his spare time enjoys flying, bowling, ping-pong, water skiing, and ice skating.

MR. EDWARDS has taught at Syracuse for the last six years. He is also the vocational agriculture teacher at our school as well as general science teacher.

MR. MOSER, besides being a science and physical education teacher, is coach of "B team" basketball and varsity track. He is an avid fan of all sports, which he likes to discuss in his classes.

MR. COBBS is another graduate of Manchester College. His aim in teaching is, "To help young people achieve to the best of their abilities, for a better world."

enjoy science fair success

MR. NEFF is both a science and a mathematics teacher and does his best to see that the very best educational opportunities are provided to the students in these areas.

MR. BRICE possesses a record to be proud of, thirty years of teaching experience. He received his degrees from Indiana Central College and Indiana University; however, he is a native of Reedsburg, Wisconsin. There is one thing which he stresses to all students, "What you learn is more important than the grade you make."

MR. BOND is also a member of the commercial department. He believes in working with and helping his neighbors of the community as well as his students.

MR. COBBS, a first year teacher at Syracuse, graduated from Manchester College. He advises all students to, "Give serious consideration to their purpose in life, and the part that education plays in this purpose."

Mr. Neff explains his next step to his associate teachers.

ENGLISH INSTRUCTORS
Mr. Fawley, Miss Hoover,
Mrs. Wagner, and Mrs.
Preston discuss yearbook covers in the library.

MR. FAWLEY, a native of North Manchester, Indiana, is the senior English, modern literature, and shorthand instructor at Syracuse. He has just completed his twelfth year of preparing S.H.S. students for the future. He is also the sponsor of the National Honor Society and the senior class sponsor. Among his many hobbies are coin collecting, reading, and music. His advice to high school students is: "Live every day as if it were your last."

MRS. WAGNER was born in Decatur, Indiana, and received both her B.S. and M.A. degrees from Ball State University. When asked about previous teaching experience she replied, "I've taught five glorious year--all at Syracuse." She also added, "I have faith in the teenage generation and don't believe a finer representative group exists than what we have here at S.H.S."

MRS. PRESTON can rely upon 27 years of classroom experience when teaching and counseling her students. She is also the sponsor of News Staff this year. Her important advice to students is, "Read, read, read!"

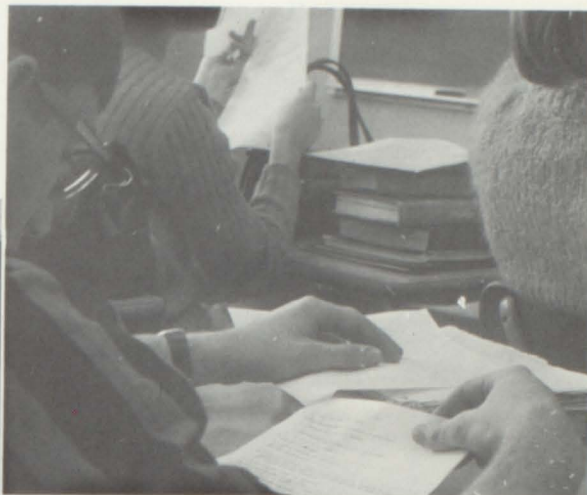

MISS HOOVER is a native of the Goshen area. Concerning teaching she says, "There aren't many jobs that are more important, challenging, and personally satisfying--and frustrating!"

hablamos espanol

MRS. ABALLI, who originally made her home in Havana, Cuba, traveled to the United States many times before she came here to live permanently. She and her family were very fortunate to escape Castro's Cuba only days before all residents were forbidden to leave. Mrs. Aballi received her degrees from Indiana State University. "You have too many things--don't take them for granted," is very knowing advice from this S.H.S. Spanish teacher.

AN A.B. DEGREE from Manchester College brought Mr. Metzger into the world of public education. He teaches Latin and history to S.H.S. students. Mr. Metzger reminds us to set our goals high, ". . . but recognize your limitations and learn to live with them."

home ec., industrial arts,

MRS. BAUMGARTNER, S.H.S. home ec. instructor, received her B.S. degree from Ball State University. She has been teaching for seventeen years, six of which have been at Syracuse. This year her students took a variety of subjects ranging from interior design to food preparation, but these courses had a common goal--to acquaint the girls with practical information about being happy homemakers. DURING THE SECOND SEMESTER, Miss Click, who had been a student teacher the first semester, became a permanent member of the staff, teaching seventh grade home ec.

MR. EDWARDS is a graduate of Purdue University and has taught at Syracuse six years. He is head of the agriculture department as well as sponsor for both F.F.A. and 4-H. His hobbies include hunting and agricultural engineering.

MR. ALFORD, a native of Huntington, Indiana, obtained his degree from Ball State University. This year he is the sponsor of student council, intramurals, and the junior class. His philosophy on teaching is, "It can't be done without willing students." And, at the same time he advises student to "Use your time well."

MR. EDWARDS and students examine one of the exhibits in the vocational agriculture room.

MR. ALFORD answers questions on one of his classroom assignments. Later, his students will have a chance to put the knowledge to practical use.

fine arts, library

AN INDIANA UNIVERSITY A.B. degree holder, Mrs. Whiteman serves S.H.S. as the high school librarian. A native of Orleans, Indiana, she has twenty years of teaching experience to her credit. Her hobbies include reading, knitting, and sewing. Mrs. Whiteman, who practices her philosophy of life which is: "Keep your feet on the ground and maintain a sense of humor," is also the invaluable and experienced Echo adviser and audiovisual club sponsor. Mrs. Whiteman, whose native habitat is the library, also maintained quarters in the cubbyhole at the bottom of the ramp for the purpose of readmitting students to school after absence.

MRS. WHITEMAN and Steve Baumgartner examine the READER'S GUIDE TO PERIODICAL LITERATURE.

MRS. TALMADGE, a graduate of Western Reserve Institute with a B.A. degree, was the creative arts teacher at S.H.S. for nine years and the first semester this year. Mrs. Fisher took her place when she moved with her family to Detroit, Michigan. After Mrs. Loser graduated in March, she replaced Mrs. Fisher.

PHOTOGRAPHY, jazz, science-fiction, aviation, and model-building all somehow fit into the busy schedule of Mr. Bame, Syracuse music director. A newcomer to the Syracuse schools this year, Mr. Bame took on the task of reshaping the high school, junior high, and elementary bands, rehearsing the high school choir, and forming a group of especially talented singers, the Madrigal Choir. He is also the sponsor of the Modern Music Masters, a nation-wide organization that promotes interest in music for high school students.

MRS. TALMADGE AND MR. BAME discuss the creative arts at the piano in the band room.

phys. ed., health strengthen us

PHYS. ED. AND HEALTH instructors Mrs. Carpenter, Mrs. Talmadge, Mr. Bond, Mr. Moser, and Mr. Longenbaugh form a jovial group which has met in its natural habitat . . . the new gymnasium.

GYMLEADERS D. Money, C. Smith, and C. Frye assist Mrs. Carpenter with her classes. AT RIGHT Mrs. Carpenter confers with G.A.A. officers J. Auer, S. Pittman, M. Bushong, and P. Ridings.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION, usually taken in grades seven through ten, is always a popular subject with many students. As any study bound Jacket will attest, this year was no exception if judged by the constant squeals coming from the gymnasiums. A GOLF ENTHUSIAST, Mr. Roderick, who is not pictured here, is a traveling teacher as is Mrs. Carpenter. Although Mr. Roderick has no high school classes as such, he coaches the golf and junior high track teams. MRS. CARPENTER is the devoted instructor of girl's phys. ed. A 1960 graduate of Ball State University, Mrs. Carpenter did her student teaching at Syracuse. Her teaching load is divided between Syracuse and Leesburg. She also sponsors G.A.A. and cheerblock at Syracuse.

ANOTHER GOLFER, Mrs. Talmadge, came to S.H.S. nine years ago after three years experience at Wilson Junior High. Mrs. "T" teaches Health to eighth grade girls. 1966 MARKS the second year at S.H.S. for Ball Staters, Mr. Bond and Mr. Moser. A native of Hagerstown, Indiana, Mr. Bond teaches math, health, and business and coaches freshman basketball.

MR. MOSER teaches phys. ed., physiology, and biology as well as coaching B-team basketball and track.

MR. LONGENBAUGH, a 20 year veteran of S.H.S., teaches history, geography, and phys. ed. and coaches the junior high baseball team.

ACTIVITIES

ACTIVITIES are the part of a Jacket's life that make the laborious task of studying and doing homework worthwhile. Various organizations call our hallowed halls "Home," and in this section we present an echo of their activities.

ROW 3--Mr. Alford, Sponsor, D. Harper, R. Searfoss, C. Kroh, D. Webster, R. Mauzy, M. Brower, T. Griffith, Mrs. Wagner, Sponsor.

THE STUDENT COUNCIL, headed by president Terry Griffith, and one of the most active organizations at S. H. S., forms a representative student-administration government in which all students from grades 7 through 12 are represented by members from their respective classes. The Student Council and the National Honor Society worked hand-in-hand to produce a revised edition of the student handbook which contains rules, privileges, and other important information. A suggestion box was maintained in the main hall for the purpose of airing the students' ideas about changes which might better the school. Each suggestion was carefully read and acted upon by the Student Council or the administration according to need.

Besides governing the student body, the Student Council sponsored several events during the year. A variety of convocations from Bohemian glass-blowing to trumpet playing were features that everyone appreciated. During the Christmas season the members became Santas and Elves by decorating the school in holiday finery and by sponsoring a "penny pitch" and a Yuletide convocation.

"Dress up" days were sponsored to honor holidays and "Granny" dress days honored our Mother's mothers. Courtesy Week was another successful project of the group.

In the 1965-1966 school year the Student Council strived to make S.H.S. a better place for education. They succeeded in every way!

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY made good use of the 1965-1966 school year. Throughout the year they sponsored a wide variety of events, the most popular of which were caroling in December and their ice skating party in February. Regular meetings were held at the homes of members, often featuring prominent and interesting speakers. This year our neighboring school of Milford took a giant step forward with the organization of its own NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY. This was made possible by the long hours of toil given by our Society members in helping them to organize and get started properly. This unselfish gesture of friendship was something to really make the whole school proud of our young scholars.

LAYOUT COMMITTEE--S. Cutter, Mrs. Whiteman, sponsor, J. Schoeff, editor, M. Kern, asst. editor, S. Traster, D. Leer.

THE 1966 ECHO STAFF STRIVED to make The Echo a treasury of echoes of the personalities and activities of the year 1965-1966.

At the hand of photographers, artists, and typists, events were captured to be related in The Echo.

Layout committee members, working under the guidance of Mrs. Whiteman, sponsor, and Jo Ellen Schoeff and Mike Kern, co-editors, used the materials gathered by other staff members to the best advantage to produce an annual of and for the students of S.H.S.

NEWS STAFF REPORTERS gave accurate and detailed reports of nearly every event that took place at S.H.S. this year.

Unable to publish a school newspaper because of lack of space, money, and time, news staff members wrote their articles for the local newspaper, The Mail-Journal. Mrs. Preston, sponsor, and Julie Connolly, editor, assigned and proofread a variety of articles including reports on sports events, individual and group scholastic achievements, and activities of classes and clubs.

Weekly features were a 'Senior of the Week' column and 'Hearda Whopper Says', a column which covered weekly events in general and was written by an ever inquisitive Sandra Yeager. The news staff photographer, Tim Yeager, a winner of the American Newspaper Publishers Association's Most Valuable Staffer Award, recorded many events on film and often supplied pictures to accompany articles written by student reporters.

SCIENCE CLUB ACTIVITIES are numerous, but they all have one thing in common . . . they all concern the goal of the club which is to better the understanding of science among the club members and the S. H. S. student body.

Speakers and films are a focal point of many club meetings. All of the club members participate in the Lakeland Community Science Fair and receive many of the top awards. A visit to the Regional Science Fair is another activity of the club. Under the capable direction of Mr. Neff, Sponsor, the Science Club has truly achieved its goal this year.

EXPERIMENTS are a large part of scientific understanding.

THE LILLIAN HAMMAN CHAPTER of the Future Teachers of America added more members to its roster and more activities than ever to its busy schedule this year. Meetings were held at school and at the homes of the members, and guest speakers were featured throughout the year. The F. T. A. also gained popularity among the teachers this year. The club's Christmas project of presenting homemade cookies and decorations to the S. H. S. teachers was greatly appreciated. Another of the group's projects, a Teacher Appreciation Tea, was popular. Exploratory teaching in the elementary for senior members ended a rewarding year of F. T. A. activities.

PRONUNCIATION is the key to successful Spanish, as Mrs. Aballi illustrates to the "Club de Espanol."

SPANISH CLUB was a new organization at S. H. S. this year. Sponsored by Mrs. Aballi, S. H. S. Spanish teacher, the club spent much time organizing its members and preparing club rules and membership requirements.

Since nearly all of the club members were in one of the two levels of Spanish taught academically, the club activities coincided with many of the lessons being taught in the classroom. Numerous reports were given by club members on Spanish speaking countries, and refreshments of Spanish origin were often served. Officers Roger Stiver, Rob Clevenger, Jayne Poynter, and Bob Carlson organized the club so that it will grow and bring the magic of the Spanish language to all S. H. S. students.

THE MODERN MUSIC MASTERS, or Tri-M as it is commonly known, is an honorary society for high school music students. Eligibility for membership is determined on the basis of points which are earned by participating in state and district contests, public or community performances, and belonging to either band or chorus or a church sponsored vocal group. Due to conflict in schedules, the Tri-M was hindered in beginning the club year. However, under the guidance of Mr. Bame, they sponsored several activities throughout the year and brought the international language of music into the lives of all S. H. S. students.

concerts, pep bands, dance band band activities

HIGH SCHOOL BAND MEMBERS were a busy group this year. Among their various activities were fall, Christmas, and spring concerts. The band produced precision drill routines for basketball games, and formed pep bands which also provided entertainment at the games.

Another division of the band was the Dance Band. Composed of carefully selected band members, the Dance Band added a light touch of jazz to a National Honor Society chili supper, pep sessions, and basketball games. Mr. Bame, director of the sixty-six member group, tried, as all band directors, to raise the level of music played by the band. A variety of music was played, and band members found that belonging to the group this year was a challenge as well as a pleasure.

S.H.S. TWIRLERS, Judy Bryan, Kristie Niles, and Majorette Sue Traster, lead the Yellow Jacket Marching Band whenever it performed. All three girls were seniors this year and had been twirling since elementary school.

Judy and Kristie's royal blue velvet uniforms were trimmed in gold braid and represented our school colors.

Sue's glittering gold sequined attire added sparkle to the band and won her fame as the S.H.S. "Golden Girl."

The girls performed along with the band at events such as the pre-basketball season pep rally and bonfire, home basketball game performances, and various parades.

S.H.S. is understandably proud of its award-winning twirlers who never fail to dazzle spectators with snappy routines.

THE JUNIOR HIGH BAND, under the direction of Mr. Bame, offers a good musical foundation for students in the seventh and eighth grades. Members meet several times a week and play songs ranging from classical to popular music in order to acquaint members with different forms of music.

The junior band serves as a stepping stone between elementary music and the high school band.

JON ROBERTS receives DeKalb Achievement Award.

THE FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA, OR F.F.A. as it is commonly known, is the national organization for boys studying vocational agriculture in public secondary schools. Syracuse F.F.A. members enjoy the fellowship gained in belonging to the organization, and they gain valuable experiences by working with their many activities. Besides sponsoring a grain show in conjunction with the local 4-H club, the boys participate in soil, grain, poultry, and forestry judging. Other activities include field trips to such interesting places as the Farm Progress Show and a meat packing plant. The boys also sell garden seeds and watermelons to finance their organization. Under the guidance of Mr. Edwards their sponsor, the Syracuse F.F.A. members are learning to become better farmer-citizens.

S.H.S. CHEERBLOCK members, 120 strong this year, were a dazzling group at all of the Jackets' basketball games. Attired in newly-purchased gold and blue jerseys, these screaming fans offered tremendous support for the Jackets. The Cheerblock not only showed its loyalty at basketball games, but also backed the team at pep rallies and pep sessions.

THE VARSITY CHEERLEADERS kept the Cheerblock on its toes by using snappy cheers to urge the team on to victory.

CHEERBLOCK OFFICERS for the 1965-66 year were Deb Money, president, Sue Frye, vice-president, and Sue Cutter, secretary. They are shown here with Mrs. Carpenter, Sponsor.

SCHOOL SPIRIT was certainly in the spotlight this season. With the help of the Cheerleaders, Cheerblock, and the Dirty Thirty, the Jackets boasted some of the best student support among the area teams.

Although our varsity cagers were able to clinch only one victory this season, there were many tense moments, well-played ball games, and fans who shared the disappointments of the team and the coaching staff. After every game throughout the schedule, one could see the looks of despair upon their faces. And, if you listened to them converse you could hear them say to each other hopefully, "Maybe, next time." The next game, the fans would always be back, yelling as hard as ever, for a team that was really great.

The assist leader this year was our speedy little guard, John Wortinger, Brad Bauer pulled down the most rebounds for the Gold and Blue, with 131. And equally as important were all the other team members who devoted their talents to the 1965-66 basketball campaign.

CHEERLEADERS are to the fans what a coach is to a team. During pep rallies and games alike, they laid the foundation for our school spirit.

THIS YEAR'S BASEBALL team is definitely a team of which the school can be proud. After compiling a string of 18 wins in the summer league, they faced the dismay of losing to North Webster in the finals of the tournament, making an 18-1 record, the best ever achieved by a Syracuse team. Not content with resting on their laurels, the Jackets marched on to a 9-2 regular season record!

lettermen's club

THIS YEAR, THROUGH the efforts of the administration and coaching staff, the Syracuse High School athletic department organized a chapter of the Lettermen's Club. The objectives of the club are to promote a high standard of athletic achievement, to create a fellowship among varsity athletes, to recognize service with membership throughout the organization, and to strive to be of service to the high school.

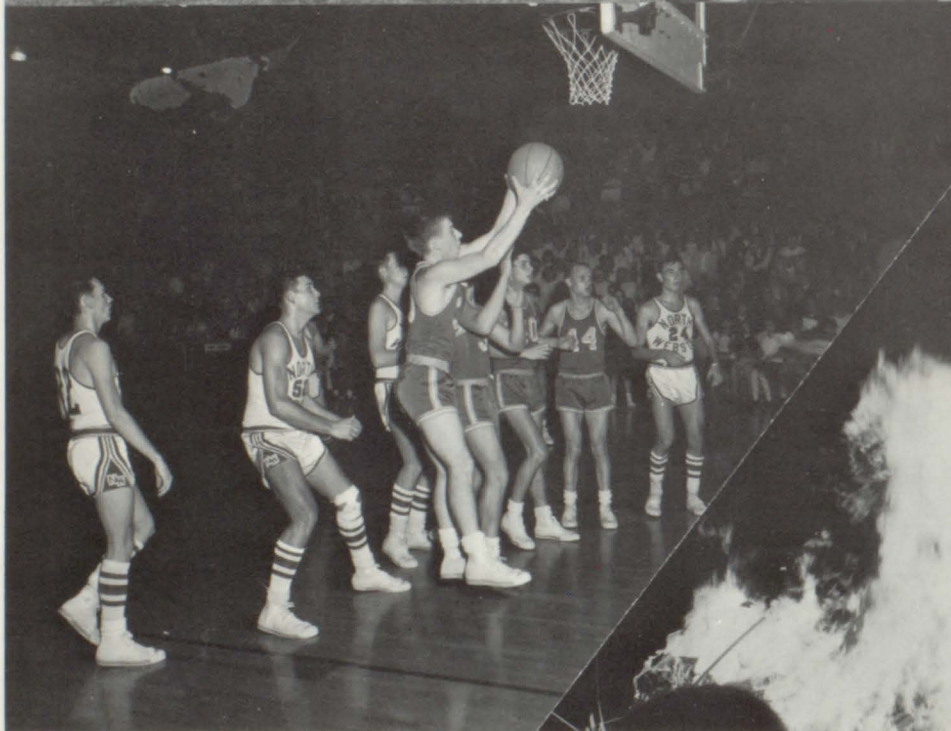

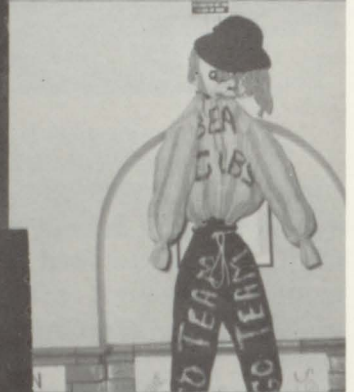

Membership of the club consists of active members and student managers who have received at least one letter in a major varsity sport and who have met the initiation requirements. To remain in the organization, the members must defend their letters by participating in that sport every year.

PERSONALITIES

PERSONALITIES are the backbone of S.H.S. Without the students, faculty, administration, and staff, there would be no activity, no need for education, no place to find knowledge, no foundation for wisdom.

lakeland community schools

LEWIS S. IMMEL, Superintendent of the Lakeland Community School Corporation, has his office in the corporation building south of Syracuse on Highway 13. However, his face is familiar to every student at S.H.S. His frequent visits to our school and his appearances at many school functions make him a well-known and respected administrator.

THE LAKELAND COMMUNITY SCHOOL Corporation School Board is comprised of responsible spokesmen from the townships involved in the corporation.

James C. Stucky, president of the board and a representative from Turkey Creek township, has served faithfully for three years. Vice-president, Jerry L. Helvey, was a newly appointed member to the school board in September of 1965. He is an active community member of the North Webster area. On July 20, 1965, Chas. H. Purdum, Jr., secretary, was appointed representative from Van Buren township. Charles W. Kroh, treasurer of the organization, also represents Syracuse and has served on the board since its reorganization three years ago.

administration and guidance

mr. slavens guides us

BEFORE COMING TO S.H.S. at the beginning of the 1965-66 school year, Mr. Slavens held several different positions at North Vernon High School ranging from industrial arts instructor to junior high principal. His six years of experience at North Vernon prepared him for the highly respected position of Syracuse High School principal.

Mr. Slavens received both his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Indiana State University where he majored in industrial arts, physical education, and administration.

A firm believer in the philosophy that anything is possible through work, Mr. Slavens stated that he likes the attitude of our students and is proud to be associated with S.H.S.

benefit students and faculty alike

Our guidance department has an ample supply of materials for those students considering further education.

This year, for the first time, students have found the services of a full time guidance department at their disposal. Both Mr. Deeter and Mr. Workman maintain their offices in room fourteen. MR. DEETER obtained his degrees from Manchester College and Indiana University. He attended high school at Leesburg, Indiana, where, coincidentally, he was a former student of Mr. Fawley. He has an interesting philosophy on life, "Each person should strive for the ultimate goal in life, which is happiness."

MR. WORKMAN as well as being a graduate of Manchester College, is a native of that city. Like Mr. Deeter, he obtained his master's degree at Indiana University. He is our varsity basketball and cross-country coach, but no matter what sport is in the spotlight you'll find him one of the foremost enthusiasts.

The Guidance department plays an important role in the future of all students at S.H.S.

our school is staffed

THE DESK OF A BUSY SECRETARY seems to be ultimately cluttered with the day's work.

MRS. KOHER, Mr. Slaven's efficient secretary, has been a faithful member of the S.H.S. staff for twenty-two years.

THE S.H.S. OFFICE STAFF was headed by Mrs. Koher, the high school secretary, again this year. An intercom was added in the latter part of the first semester and relieved the aching feet of the barage of monitors who worked in the office this year and helped in taking attendance, dispatching messages, and summoning students to the office. The office also became a clearing house for everything from lost gloves to sectional tickets and was a source of information of encyclopedic quality.

with capable personnel

THE S.H.S. GOURMETS, Mrs. Koher, Mrs. Kern, Mrs. Bushong, Mrs. Montel, Mrs. Niles, and Mrs. Mock, prepare a wholesome meal for cafeteria connoisseurs every day. Our hats are off to these fine ladies who make hash taste as good as chicken.

DID YOU EVER wonder who erases the penciled desk top, scrapes the gum from underneath a chair, sweeps a paper-strewn floor, washes the finger-printed windows, so that our alma mater is beautiful at all times. The capable persons responsible for the well-being of S.H.S. are our faithful custodians, Mr. Hadley, Mrs. Kern, Mr. Caskey, and Mr. Firestone.

BUS DRIVERS, Mr. White, Mr. Mock, Mr. Workman, Mr. Weaver, Mr. Hadley, Mr. Mock, Mr. Darr, Mr. Workman, Mr. Bushong, and Mr. Kolberg who is not pictured, transport loads of fidgety screaming youngsters day-in and day-out. We congratulate them for their nerves of steel.

HOME EC. is a favorite subject of these seventh grade girls.

THE END of another school year has come. The halls that were once alive with laughter and excitement are empty and silent now. Only when we listen intently, can we hear the echoes of majestic memories that remain.

of majestic memory

ADVERTISERS

ADVERTISERS were among the most treasured people with whom the Echo staff worked. They were people who unselfishly supported the yearbook and our school. We are greatly indebted to these fine people of our community and thank them very much.
