FADS 'N' FASHION

Fads and crazes come and go. They are put in the sportlight and then gradually fade away. Clothing, hairstyles, and music are the basis for many trends. Popular clothing styles included Eastlund shoes, I.O.U. attire, and everyone's favorite, jeans. Shorter hairstyles were the "in" thing, while some students preferred to stay with the longer hairstyles. Billy Joel, Milli Vanilli, The B-52's, Aerosmith, and Motley Crue ruled the music scene with top ten hit songs. Wawasee may have been a fair distance from Paris, but we had our share of fashions and trends.

1. Trends and styles vary from watches to shoes. 2. Leather shoes are a big fashion statement. 3. Nike and Reebok are popular brands of tennis shoes. 4. Surfing t-shirts come in many different styles and designs and are worn by many students. 5. Sweaters are essential to many students during the winter. 6. Music is an important part of a student's life.

Most high school students did not spend all of their spare time hitting the books. Some students had jobs, but still found time to have fun. Having a good time with friends and classmates was an important part of being a teenager. Sometimes we had to take a break from studying to relax and collect our thoughts. While some students felt relaxing was not thinking at all, students had many opportunities to unwind through Hard Court Festival, Homecoming, and other extracurricular activities.

1. Intramural basketball is a tension reliever for many students. 2. Faculty and students take a break from school for class competitions in Fall Fling and Hard Court Festival. 3. The fall musical "Grease" has many dedicated students and faculty putting numerous hours into the production along with their normal class loads. 4. Powder Puff football gives the girls a chance to be on the football field instead of in the bleachers. 5. Larry Horwitz enjoys juggling in his spare time. 6. Homecoming provides Annette Wilson and Amy Parr the chance to loosen up by dressing strangely. 7. Powder Puff is different from a regular football game in that the boys get to cheer for the girls.

Warriors Through the Ages

Homecoming was filled with Warrior Spirit. The classes each were given an era for the week. The seniors were hippies; the juniors were from ancient Rome; the sophomores' time period was the prehistoric era; and the freshmen were from the future.

The seniors and the juniors tied for first place overall in the class competition with the sophomores and freshmen placing second and third respectively. The seniors won the class field decorations, the Powder Puff contest, and the Fall Fling. The most juniors wore their class color which was white. The sophomores won the hall decorations, transforming the science hallway into a cave.

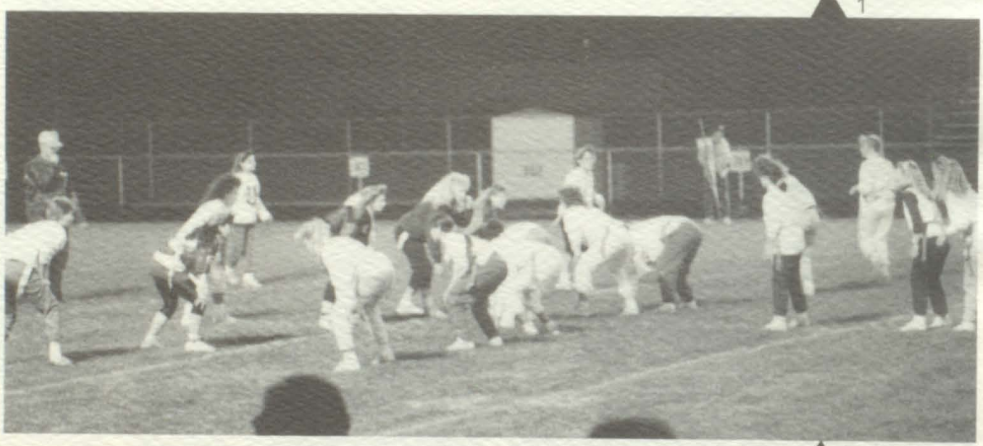

The Wednesday night talent show was one of the largest put on by Wawasee with 28 acts. On Thursday night a bonfire was held to pep up the students and the football team for Friday's game against Harding. The Warrior football team went on to defeat Harding 28-21. The Homecoming victory dance was hosted by ZIP 104 after the game.

The student body elected Mike Bailey and Janelle Jennings as Homecoming King and Queen. For the first time there was an underclassman court consisting of one girl from every class, selected by her class. The Court representatives were junior Sara Moerchen, sophomore Amy Rinehold, and freshman Gina Minton.

1. Homecoming King and Queen candidates are Row 1: Kristin Robbins, Mike Bailey, Chad Corron, Tim Lilly; Row 2: Janelle Jennings, Darcey Smith, Kimberlee Carmichael, and Jason Douglas. 2. The seniors defeat the juniors at the Powder Puff competition. 3. Joel Brito enjoys himself at the pizza dinner given before the talent show on Wednesday evening. 4. Chad Hoffert sings "Kiss Him Goodbye" to Jill Bouse at the talent show. 5. Varsity Singers and Dream Company perform the opening act of the talent show. 6. The juniors receive first place for their skit performance. 7. John Hickey and Keith Bice exhibit their favorite era: ancient Rome. 8. Suzanne Schwartz performs her modern dance routine to "Miss You Much" by Janet Jackson.

Greased Lightnin'

The fall musical was presented on November 10-11 to sold out audiences both performances. "Grease", the story of rock 'n' roll '50's teenagers, was the chosen production. "Grease" was directed by Karen Parr with Cyndi Thornburg, Tom Beckett, and Charolette Tyree as the assistant directors. The dance sequences were choreographed by Dawn Bale and Suzanne Schwartz. Geoff Coburn was in charge of lighting; Heather Huffman was the make-up artist; Clay Rassi controlled the sound; costumes were designed by Cyndi Thornburg, Diane Leslie, and Lynn Griffith. Stage managers were Heather Huffman and Amy Burke.

1. Jason Mickley performs "Born to Hand-Jive". 2. Jeremy VanLue and Jamie Conkling prepare for the dance. 3. Larry Horowitz DJ's the dance. 4. Chris Conkling asks Annette Wilson to go steady at the drive-in movie. 5. Suzanne Schwartz expresses her opinion on boys at the slumber party. 6. Chris Conkling reasons with Annette Wilson. 7. The cast sings "We Go Together", the finale. 8. Matt Liepold, Jamie Conkling, Jason Mickley, Jeremy Vanlue, and Chris Thornton wait for some action at the Burger Palace.

Be True To Your School

School Spirit was a show of great loyalty and pride towards school. Wawasee had many opportunities to express school spirit. Fall Fling, Hard Court Festival, Homecoming, convocations, and sports events were a few of the times when students and faculty showed pride in Wawasee High School.

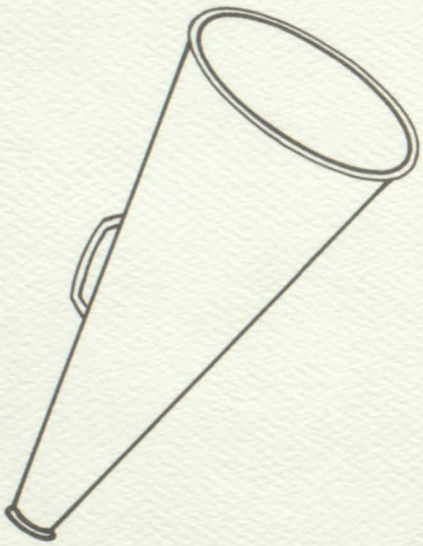

1. The cheerleaders form a pyramid at a basketball game to boost the crowd's enthusiasm. 2. Mr. VanLue, is your bandana too tight or are you afraid of your student's experiment? 3. The Fall Fling tug-of-war between classes always brings out a great deal of spirit. 4. Jenna DeSomer fires up the student body. 5. The Seniors show their expertise with toilet paper. 6. The Seniors present their class skit dealing with the '60's.

The Wawasee basketball and volleyball intramurals were held Wednesday evenings once again in the P.E. Annex. The basketball tournament was held in the winter with PKF IV being the eventual champions. The team members of PKF IV were Jim Brickey, Dan Gallmeier, Jeff Cowan, Clay Brooks, Mark Porter, Hector Roa, and Ab Edmonds. The volleyball tournament was in the spring with 28 teams competing. The five teams in the final round were Happy Campers with a record of 14-6; Willy's Warriors with a record or 15-4; Hungry Savages with a record of 17-4; Watt Team with a record of 10-7; and Spike, Inc. Spike, Inc. was the champion of the volleyball tournament with a record of 21-0. The team members of Spike, Inc. were Scott Carlin, Chris Conkling, Tim Lilly, Jason Mickley, Jason Douglas, Chad Hoffert, Cuong Reed, and Chad Cotton.

Special Breaks From Class

Various convocations were presented at WHS. Special recognition for sports teams with pep sessions was one area covered. The student council once again sponsored the Fall Fling and Hardcourt Festival for the students and faculty. The annual multi-screen show from Campus Life was presented in the spring. A special convocation on STD's (sexually transmitted diseases) was given by Sam Rhine; Scott McAin, a motivational speaker, worked on students' self-esteem;and Barry Mayson, a former member of the Hell's Angels, shared his experiences.

1. Scott McAin conducts a workshop for students. 2. The Campus Life presentation has the theme Eye to Eye. 3. The jazz band performs for the students at pep sessions. 4. THE PERFECT IDIOT

The annual spring play was presented on March 23 and 24. THE PERFECT IDIOT, the chosen production, was a comedy-farce based on a high school student who was "too darn smart." The play was directed by Mrs. Karen Parr with Mrs. Cyndi Thornburg as the assistant director. Set construction and art work were completed by Jack Parr, Dave Cotton, Nicole Bickel and Stacie Bricker. The stage manager was Michelle Lauer. The lights were controlled by Clay Rassi. Lynn Griffith, Diane Leslie, and Michelle Lauer were in charge of costumes and props.

A Night to Treasure

The Senior Prom was held at Greencroft Center in Goshen on May 12. The band First Impression was once again chosen to provide music. Faculty sponsors for the prom were Phil Metcalf and Janie Leach. The theme "A Night to Treasure" was chosen by the senior class.

The entrance hallway was decorated to resemble a pier with starry skies. The entrance into the ballroom had a large boat, broken in two, for the couples to walk through. Treasure chests were placed throughout the room and in the photo area.

The Prom King and Queen were voted on by those attending the dance with each senior receiving a ballot when he/she arrived. The Prom Queen was Kimberlee Carmichael and the Prom King was Mike Bailey. Mike and Kimberlee shared a traditional dance as king and queen.

The After Prom was held back at WHS. Several activities were offered to those attending such as basketball, volleyball, and door prizes, and tables were set up to play euchre. Jon Rose from WBYR the Bear, was chosen to DJ the dance. The After Prom ended with Swami the Great, a hypnotist, performing in the gym with student volunteers.

The Class of 1990

The twenty-second annual graduation exercises were held on June 3 in the Wawasee gymnasium. The audience was welcomed by David Schmahl, class president. The class flower was the yellow rose while the class colors were green and white. "Special times and places/Special friends together/The moments pass so quickly/ But the memories last forever" was their motto. Diplomas were given to 204 graduating seniors. The invocation was given by Scott Berkey. Valedictorian Chris Conkling and Salutatorian Annette Wilson both addressed their classmates and the audience. The commencement choir sang "Forever Friends." The candlelighting ceremony was held after the presentation of the diplomas. Julie Gunn gave the benediction. Wawasee was accidently misspelled on the diploma covers, but plans to have them re-printed were made following graduation.

1. Heather Allen and Harvey Cantu make their entrance.2. The graduates await the presentation of diplomas. 3. Chris Conkling speaks to the crowd in his valedictory address. 4. Shawn Kiser and James Rodgers are eager for the ceremony to begin.5. Angela Kistler and Mike Bailey prepare to take their seats.6. Kristine Gibson returns to her chair after receiving her diploma. 7. Craig Streby and Marvin Perry leave as new graduates. 8. The newly graduated class proudly faces their parents, family and friends.

Seniors Pull Through

Homecoming was the first big event for the senior class as a whole. They pulled through and won powder puff and placed first in class field decorations. During spirit days many seniors dressed as hippies and tied for first with the juniors in the fall fling.

After the success of Homecoming, the seniors let down and placed fourth in the Penny Pitch collection in December, contributing $170.75 to the total.

For the first time in four years, the seniors had a chance to visit Washington, D.C., as a class. During fall break they visited and toured: the White House, the Washington Monument, the Bureau of Printing and Engraving, the FBI Building, Vietnam Veterans Memorial, Arlington National Cemetery and participated in the Changing of the Guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Preparing for June, the seniors decided their prom would be held at the Green Croft Center in Goshen instead of school with the theme "A Night to be Treasured."

1. Senior Student Council representatives are Row 1: Sara Wilkinson, Jason Douglas, Christa Sincroft; Row 2: Janelle Jennings, Kimberlee Carmichael, Suzanne Parr and Annette Wilson. 2. JUNIORS

The Junior Class began their year by tying for first place with the seniors in Homecoming. Because of the tie, there was a run off—selling links to a spirit chain. The Juniors won first place and thus received the spirit stick. In December the Juniors came in first in the Penny Pitch earning 68% of the total: $1,934.88. This year the Juniors added $4,100.00 to their class treasury for prom and graduation expenses by selling candy and memo holders. To conclude a great year, the class of 1991 selected their graduation motto, flower, prom site and shirt design as they looked forward to their senior year.

SOPHOMORES

The sophomores had a very successful year. During Homecoming they won first place in hall decorations, third in the class skit and third in the Fall Fling. They also held the annual chicken BBQ in April to raise money for their senior year. All sophomores were required to take Health/Careers classes as well as English. The sophomores showed a lot of class spirit through the entire year and made their second year a successful one.

Band Receives a 1st at District Contest

The bands had an excellent year. The marching band received a 1st at the District Contest and a 2nd at the Regional Contest. Many individual students received 1st at the Solo and Ensemble Contests, including two state winners: Chris Conkling and Jamie Conkling. The band gave three successful concerts including the Corporation Music Festival during which the band was given a standing ovation.

Show Choir Earns First Division Ratings

The choirs received a new director this year: Mr. Beckett. Mr. Beckett's two show choirs were Dream Company and Varsity Singers. They performed by dancing, singing pop music, and wearing different costumes to present programs. Along with the other choirs they sold candy as a fund raiser.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors were selected by auditions to participate in Dream Company. In addition to the normal high school concerts, they also competed in the District Four Solo and Ensemble Contest and received a second place.

Sophomores, juniors, and seniors were selected by auditions to participate in Varsity Singers also. They performed numerous community concerts for churches and organizations. They participated in the Solo and Ensemble Contest in Elkhart and performed March third in the State Jazz and Show Choir Competition placing first over all.

Singers Shine Again

Starting off this school year a new choir teacher joined the staff: Mr. Beckett, who taught Freshman Choir, Treble Choir, and Concert Choir. Freshman Choir performed this year at all major concerts and was the first vocal group in which freshmen were involved. Treble Choir was an important group in the choral program and was made up of upperclassmen. Concert Choir also performed at all major choral programs. The hard work put into the sales of candy, pizza, and car washes paid off this year when Concert Choir, Mixed Choir, and Treble Choir received their new uniforms.

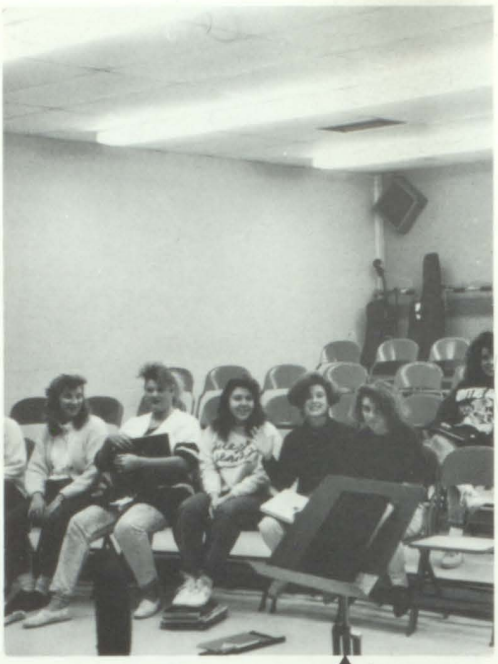

1. Mixed Choir is happy to begin. 2. Mr. Beckett is the new choir teacher. 3. Choir members sit awaiting their teacher. 4. Treble Choir dances at the Christmas Concert. 5. The Mixed Choir relaxes before they begin to practice. 6.The Mixed Choir waits to begin their song. 7. The Concert Choir had another great year. 8. Mixed Choir enjoys their new outfits. 9. Treble Choir, composed of all girls, enjoys singing.

A Key to the Future

The Business Department was made up of four faculty members: Mr. Minton, Mrs. Huber, Mr. Storey, and Mr. Murphy. The Business Department offered twelve different classes. These classes included accounting, keyboarding, computer application, marketing, and advanced business. Many of the students who were enrolled in a business class received instruction in accounting, word processing, and Lotus 1,2,3 on IBM Model 30 computers.

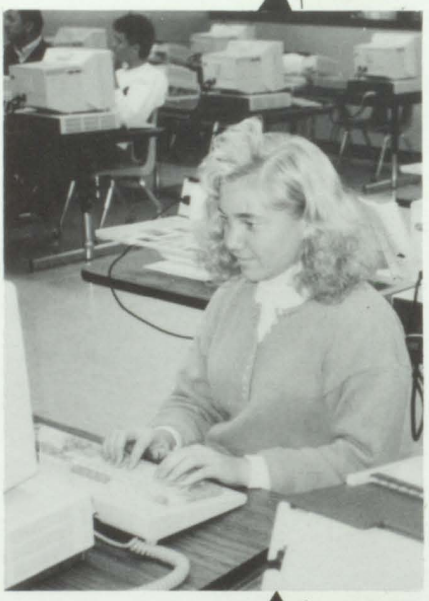

1. Business teachers are Mr. Minton, Mrs. Huber, Mr. Murphy, and Mr. Storey. 2. Mr. Storey works with Erik Stevens. 3. Julie Bender works on the computer with ease. 4. Kermit Kropf is distracted from his accounting. 5. Elaine Korenstra seems to be more interested in her hair than class. 6. This typing class concentrates on their work. 7. Becky Hay looks confused. 8. Mr. Storey helps Shawna Garrage while Anita Hernandez waits patiently. 9. Rob Clingaman looks interested in his computer. 10. Chad Glassburn and Matt Ringler have fun with their typing class. 11. Sara Moerchen is deep into her work. 12. This marketing class seems to be having the time of their lives. 13. Kelly Bowen gets the most out of typing.

Math "Adds" A New Teacher

The Mathematics Department added one new teacher this year- Mr. Hofer. There were seven full time math teachers: Mr. Hawkins, Mr. Frantz, Mr. Zolman, Mr. Hofer, Mr. Metcalf, Mr. Hassan, and Mr. Neff. The only part-time math teacher was Miss Kline, who also worked with the Science Department. On February 28, 68 students participated in the 41st Annual American High School Mathematics Examination. The 1990 winners were first place Lydia Bonner; second place Michael Mattix; and third place Mathew Bucher. The Math Department also met monthly to discuss common problems, department and school policies, and trends in education.

Book Adoptions for Years to Come . . .

The Language Arts staff's major job this year was adopting new books for the next six years. There was one new teacher in the English department: Mrs. Foster. She took over for Mr. Iden who decided to take the year off. All students must take 4 years of English, so English had the largest enrollment of all departments. A considerable amount of time was spent in writing: sentences, paragraphs, essays, and research papers. The students were exposed to many different and well-known pieces of literature: THE ODYSSEY, ON THE BEACH, ROMEO AND JULIET, MACBETH, THE GREAT GATSBY, LORD OF THE FLIES, OEDIPUS THE KING, and TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD. Overall the primary goal was to learn to use the English language skillfully with ease and confidence.

1. Chuck Freeby from Channel 16 is speaking to the speech classes. 2. Lori Jenkins doesn't seem interested in studying. 3. Jamie Mosser is sharing a little humor with his classmates. 4. Tina Liberti and Krista Zimmerman aren't working too hard in senior English. 5. The English teachers are Row 1: Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Yargosz, Miss Swartzentruber; Row 2: Mr. Fawley, Mrs. Tyree, Mrs. Harkleroad, Mrs. Thornburg, and Mr. Robbins. 6. Jillene Schmidt enjoys English class. 7. Jimmy Brickey and his classmates are having a wonderful time reading MACBETH. 8. Melissa Conroy is very happy to be in English. 9. This sophomore English class is enthused.

The Staff We Count On

All the hard work put in by the cooks and custodians paid off again this year. The kitchen boss Susie Kern kept things in working order when Alice Miller had hip surgery. Two substitutes that helped fill in were Phylis Metzger and Vivian Kern until Alice returned to her duties on the a la carte line. Vern White was once again in charge of maintenance and directed all custodians at WHS.

1. Vern White and Arnold Grindle keep watch. 2. The cooks' helper first in line is William Conner, followed by Marleen Leamon, Mildred Smith, Jacolyn Wortinger, Susie Kern, Vivian Kern, Phylis Metzer, Marilyn Grindle, Vickie Brown, Janette Thomas, and Lois Murray. 3. The cooks enjoy a break before the lunch rush. 4. Alice Miller and Mildred Smith start cleaning up after a long day. 5. Marleen Leamon washes dishes. 6. The custodians are Darwin Klenke, Vern White, Arnold Grindle, Henry Listenberger, Edith Avery, and Dan Gallmeier. 7. Dan Gallmeier works on the school van. 8. Mildred Smith eats before rush hour. 9. Marleen Leamon works hard. 10. Vern White enjoys a hug from Mr. Dickerson.

Almost Half of Warriors Speak Foreign Languages

Approximately 42% of the student body took a foreign language course. There were French, German, and Spanish offered. Latin was dropped last year. The Foreign Language Department had two student teachers: Mr. Brennaman who helped Mrs. Bruce, and Mr. Gingrich who helped Mr. Gebhard. The foreign language classes went on several field trips. Mrs. Hursh's French III class went to South Bend to see a bi-lingual production of Moliere's LE BOURGEIOS GENTILHOMME on March 21. For the first time, Spanish III and IV classes went to IPFW in Fort Wayne for competition against other schools. Students were scheduled to compete in essay writing, the Spanish Knowledge Bowl, Declaration, Non-Stop Competition where they were shown a picture and discussed it for several minutes, the Vocabulary Bee, and a video tape competition in which Spanish IV students wrote and acted out a science-fiction play.

1. Foreign Language teachers are Mrs. Hursh, Mr. Gebhard, Mrs. Yargosz, and Mrs. Bruce. 2. Joli Timm is taking a test in her foreign language class. 3. Julie Hodgson is looking up something for Spanish. 4. Mrs. Yargosz is showing the "right" way to do things. 5. Joe Magiera is studying his Spanish. 6. Let's Get Social

The Social Science Department studied subject areas from history to psychology to economics. Seniors held a political convention in November. Students had to create parties, join them, nominate candidates, write platforms, and hold press conferences. The Mock Convention in government nominated Jeremy Beer and Scott Berkey on the Republican ticket, and Chris Conkling and Janelle Jennings on the Democratic ticket. Jeremy Beer and Scott Berkey won for the Republicans. In economics, seniors had a consumer economic unit which went through the process of getting married, planning budgets, and choosing careers. In psychology, students made out experiments like blind folding others and letting them go through a home-made maze with their fingers. The Social Science Department also had one new teacher this year, Mr. Karns, who taught history.

Preparing for the Future

The Careers/Quest class was taught by Mr. Aalbregtse, a new teacher this year. He graduated from Taylor University and achieved his masters at St. Francis. He's been teaching for sixteen years. Mr. Aalbregtse felt the most helpful part of the Quest course was the opportunity for the students to be comfortable and talk about problems which deal with peer pressure, friends, family, dating, and how to deal with the above. During the careers course, students picked areas of interest and went through the process of getting a job. They made their own resumes, letters of inquiry, applications, and learned about interviews.

1. Students relax during a discussion. 2. The Quest course is a very helpful and interesting class. 3. Students work on their classwork. 4. Mr. Aalbregste keeps his class busy. 5. Dawn Orbin and Fantasy Wagoner always enjoy Quest class.

Students Need to Know

Mr. Lambert taught the Health and Sex Education classes. The Health/Science course was a study of topical units to help students develop an understanding of, and the proper attitude toward, health concepts, such as mental health, appearance, behavior, drug education, stress, and nutrition. Mr. Lambert stated the students' reactions are mostly positive and that the Sex Education class was the most informative and beneficial for them.

The Joys of Cooking

The Home Economics classes had a great deal of fun. The foods classes served special meals for the administrators' committee meetings and the sectional sports teams. Foods III was a foreign food lab. They cooked foods from different nations such as Germany, Mexico, Italy, and even Russia. The child development class had their annual egg babies. They also visited Goshen Hospital. At the end of the semester, they each brought in a child for a half day. The interior design class visited homes and designed a dream home. It was a great year for all Home Economics students.

1. Brandy Bartman tries to remember how much popcorn to put in. 2. Jennifer McKinstry, John Ashby, Sylvia Cole, and Traci Roder really enjoy Home Economics. 3. Many New Faces

There were many new secretaries at WHS. In the attendence office was Mrs. Kathie Garrett who worked with Mr. Dickerson; in the guidance office was Mrs. Betty Bultemeier, who worked for the three guidance counselors. The principal's and vice principal's secretary was Mrs. Sandy White. In the help room Mrs. Sandy Cobbum replaced Mrs. Breyer in February. The new nurse was Mrs. Mira Alexander who was also the corporation nurse. Mrs. Aliene Dewart, LPN, was at the high school daily to take care of students in need.

Looking Towards the Future

The vocational opportunities were wonderful at Wawasee. There were Building Trades I and II in which students built a contemporary 3400 square foot home with 4 bedrooms, 3 bathrooms, and a two and a half car garage. In the ag-placement program students worked on a farm or an ag-related business. There were also classes in Auto Mechanics I and II in which students worked on automobiles with Mr. Craig, a new teacher. In the business field, there were two different areas. Marketing education provided on-the-job training for students placed in jobs. The secretarial office lab program was like an actual office. Other vocational courses were taught at different schools. Cosmetology I and II was taught at Fairfield. There students learned the necessary skills for the State Board of Beauty Culture exam. At West Noble, printing and graphics was offered.

1. The Vocational Education Department members are Row 1: Mrs. Huber, Mr. Minton, Mrs. Leach; Row 2: Mr. Craig, Mr. Warren, Mr. Timpe and Mr. Cook. 2. Casey Yoder is hard at work in office lab. 3. Warriors in the Know

What does a person need to know if he wants to work in the science field? Science courses offered a lot of helpful information. The physical science, chemistry, and physics classes did many experiments that taught students about chemical reactions and the laws of nature. Biology and Biology II, as usual, dissected and explored different types of animals. The human physiology and genetics courses were taken by students that might be interested in entering some field of medicine.

Conditioning On Every Level

The P.E. Department this year had a majority of new teachers with Mrs. Peterson the only returning teacher. She has been involved in P.E. at Wawasee for 20 years. Mr. Blunk and Mr. DeHart were both new gym teachers. Mr. Blunk taught aquatics, four classes of freshman P.E., and the new advanced physical conditioning class. This new A.P.C. class had 68 students at the beginning of the year. The purpose of this course was to condition students that have the most athletic ability and improve techniques in power, strength, flexibility, agility, and endurance. Mr. DeHart taught one freshman class, two advanced fitness classes, and also the A.P.C. class. Mrs. Peterson helped teach all P.E. classes. This year, the Frosh had many of the traditional units such as bowling, tennis, volleyball, basketball, soccer, the ever-popular swimming, folk dancing, and judo.

1. The P.E. Department consists of Mr. Blunk, Mrs. Peterson, and Mr. DeHart. 2. These freshmen seem to be their usual motivated selves. 3. Hi-Tech Industrialists

This year the Industrial Technology Department offered six areas of technological experience. The manufacturing class had fun working in metals, welding, and designing a product that could be produced and sold. The small engine class learned how to fix engines for items from lawn mowers to boats. In communications, students produced commercial ads, filmed their own advertisements, learned about the world of photography and did skits in class that students wrote and acted out themselves. The design class worked along the lines of drawing, sketching, architectural and machine design. They also got to use the CAD system (computer aided design). The construction class built storage sheds, dog houses, and made models for bridges and tunnels to show how they were built. Furniture class and cabinetry class concentrated on the construction of fine furniture and cabinets.

The Rhino robots were also a big part of Industrial Technology. Things such as spray painting, pick and place, and welding were done with robots; parts production was programmed on a computer and then machined on a CNC lathe and milling machine.

1. Mr. Alford explains to Ryan Shoemaker how to run the robot. 2. Is the communication class actually paying attention? 3. The Rhino robot is in action. 4. The Industrial Technology teachers are Mr. Alford and Mr. Viraniemi. 5. Kevin Manning is showing off his design. 6. Jason Brooks says "Peace."

New Computer For Accuracy

The staff in the library again included Mr. Guinther, Mrs. Robinson, and Mrs. Thomas. The biggest addition in the LRC was their new computer. It was programmed to check books in and/or out, print overdues, tag items for reserve, and inventory the collection using bar code scanning. During the seven hour school day, the LRC had eight student helpers: Ron Sims, Theresa Chesnut, Tonya Harris, Missy Shepherd, Larry Horwitz, Cora Schonefeld, Matt Hoffert, and Jenny Bixler. The library staff had a busy year setting up the computer and learning its programs.

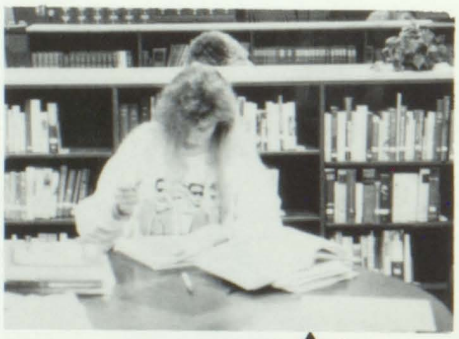

1. Mrs. Robinson, Mr. Guinther, and Mrs. Thomas are behind one of their new computers. 2. Ray Hollingsworth seems to be in need of awakening. 3. April Mock takes up the whole table. 4. Julie Vanderburg uses one of those library dictionaries. 5. Mike Moore, Dan Serafini and Adam Wilson aren't too busy. 6. School volunteers are Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Kern, and Mrs. Scott. 7. Craig Streby is working hard. 8. Caught in the act, they seem to be up to something. 9. Jennifer Johnson can not seem to find what she's looking for. 10. Julie Hollar and John Flores look a little guilty. 11. Jason Douglas and Cuong Reed take a break and do some homework. 12. Rhonda Bailey has enough books to educate an army.

Administration Helps Out

This year was a great one, thanks to the help of the administration. The administration consisted of Mr. Fox, Mr. Dickerson, Mr. Kesler, and Mr. Traviolia. This was Mr. Fox's first year as principal of Wawasee High School. His job was to help make rules and regulations along with the school schedule. Mr. Kesler, Assistant Principal, purchased all the school's materials. Mr. Dickerson dealt with the attendance and student discipline. The Athletic Director, Mr. Traviolia, was responsible for all coaches, athletic supplies, and sports schedules.

Guidance Is Always Busy

The Guidance Office once again helped with the ISTEP, DATB and the ASVAB tests. Mr. Hunsberger worked with the freshmen; Ms. Angle worked with the sophomores and juniors; and Mrs. Curtis worked with the seniors. Mrs. Curtis was also the Director for the Guidance Office. Betty Bultemeier was the new guidance secretary. Some of the work involved for Mrs. Bultemeier was to process files for new students and for students who were withdrawing, copy transcripts, and supply scholarship forms for students who planned to attend college.

Showing True Colors

The Art Department was made up of two faculty members: Mrs. Bryan and Mr. Johnson. There were many art classes offered, but three were the most popular. In painting class students enjoyed oil paints. Commercial design was a class that provided students with hands on experience in designing packages, logos, lay outs, and lettering styles. Advanced drawing was an in-depth study in the discipline of drawing by learning how to apply the design elements and principles to their work along with learning classic compositions to apply to their work. In this class, colored pencils seemed to be favored. The final results were shown on April 21 and 22, when the Art Department hosted an art show, exhibiting students' work.

Tune into the Orchestra

The Orchestra had a very interesting and exciting year. They received a new double bass from East Germany. They also had a new orchestra teacher: Mr. Dennis Carper. He helped with all the orchestras, including Chamber Orchestra which did very well at the state level of competition in Indianapolis. A new addition, Chamber Orchestra was for underclassmen. The Cambiata Strings, which specialized in Baroque music, was a new orchestra composed of underclassmen. Cambiata is the Italian word for changing tune.

An Undefeated Season for the Boys' Cross Country

For the first time, the Boys' Cross Country Team went undefeated. They placed first, nine times during the season, were runners-up at Regionals, and received 7th at Semi-State, accomplishing a 12-0 record. Jason Douglas led the team all season breaking the school record with a 15:56. He participated in the state meet in Indianapolis and placed 61st. Those receiving the All Conference honors were Jason Douglas, Eric Mock and Eric Streby. Other awards went to Jason Douglas: MVP, Outstanding Achievement, Captain and Low Point Award; Chad Jones: Captain; and Eric Streby: Runner-up Low Point Award.

The Wawasee Girls' Cross Country team had an excellent team effort this year. The girls finished their best season since 1983. They placed 3rd in NLC, 4th in Sectional, and 12th at Regionals. Melanie Hobbs received the Low Point Award ; Lori Gargett was runner up for Low Point total; Angie Garner received MVP, and the Outstanding Achievement Award.

Warriors on the Rebound

The Varsity Basketball Team had their ups and downs, ending the year with a 7-15 record. They finished fifth in the conference. A new assistant coach, Mr. Aalbregtse, helped Coach Goshert out with the team. The managers, Craig Streby and Jillene Schmidt, helped out a great deal too. Chris Conkling and Dennis Garland were named Honorable Mention for All-Conference. A-ward winners were for MVP, Chris Conkling; Most Improved, Jason Mickley, and Randy Cesco; Coaches' Award, Tim Lilly and Chad Hoffert.

JV and Frosh Shoot to Win

The Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a record of 3-15, though they lost some games by only a small margin of points. With Miss Swartzentruber coaching, they won their first game right before Christmas against Westview and had an exciting win over Plymouth in a double-overtime match. The Freshman Girls' Basketball Team had a winning record of 6-5. This was the best record a freshman girls' team has had in many years. With large point margins against Plymouth and Concord, they played very hard and deserved their outstanding record.

Home Run Hits

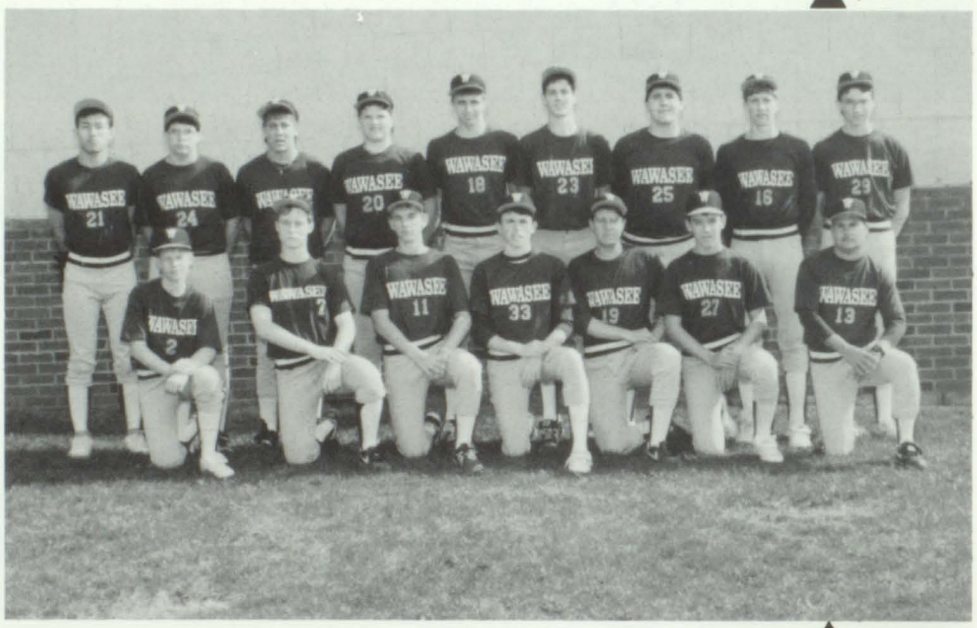

The Wawasee Warrior Baseball Team had a new coaching staff this year with Mr. Frantz head Varsity Coach, and Mr. Aalbregtse as Assistant Varsity Coach. The team defeated Plymouth 5-2, and they won a big conference game over Goshen, 5-4. Erik Strevens, Chris Conkling, and Tim Lilly had key hits, while Jason Mickley pitched super in relief. They also defeated Fairfield 9-5 and split a doubleheader with Manchester losing the first game 11-5 and winning game two 6-5. The team also had a tough loss to Northridge 8-9. Chris Conkling, Brian Schwab and Kevin Manning all hit home runs, but it wasn't enough as the baseball team fell to Warsaw 14-7. They were also defeated by East Noble 4-1. Columbia City and Elkhart Central beat them 7-3 and 12-11 respectively.

The JV squad with Coach Blunk as the head coach was also working hard. They lost to Plymouth 9-2, and Fairfield 20-11 in extra innings. Brent Zartman was the winning pitcher. They defeated Whitko 12-2, Warsaw 9-8 in 10 innings and tied Warsaw 5-5 in the 2nd game. At mid-season their record was 3-6-1.

The freshman team lost to Warsaw 8-6 and to Goshen 9-2 at the first of the season. Shane Bucher had 2 hits and Chris Peterson had a home run. They also lost to Westview 15-5.

Fairways and Greens

The Wawasee Boys' Golf Team had another strong year and by mid-season they had only recorded two losses. They lost to South Bend Riley, who was ranked 5th in the state, by just three strokes and then came up with a big victory against Homestead who was ranked third. The golfers also placed 7th in the Wawasee Invitational. The three seniors, Randy Cesco, Mike Tuttle, and David Schmahl provided great leadership for the team. The JV squad also had a great start with a 3rd place finish at the Laville Invitational. Leaders for the JV team were Brent Baker and Tim Whiteman.

Running with Pride

The Boys' Track Team had another good year as Jason Douglas, Mike Bailey and Andy Eberly led the team to numerous victories throughout the first of the season. Andy Eberly broke the school record in the 400 with a 50.6. Others who contributed to the team's wins were Ryan Shoemaker and Cuong Reed in the 800 meter; Craig Streby in the shot put; Spencer Long in the pole vault; Kyle Newcomer in the discus and Jim McIntosh in the high jump. By mid-season they had defeated Elmhurst, Concord, Warsaw, and Columbia City and lost to Homestead, Northwood, Goshen, Northridge and Plymouth.

Lady Warriors Finish Well

The Lady Warrior Track Team was quite respectable at mid-season. They did an outstanding job despite the fact they only had 2 meets on their home track. Their record was an impressive 10-2-1 with an NLC record of 5-1. The girls also finished as runner-up in the 12 team Turtle Town Classic losing only to Angola. Sectional qualifiers were: seniors Kriss Eisenhour, Julie Gunn, and Tonya Perzanowski; juniors Moni Lange, Lisa Mikel, Amanda Shoemaker, and Anne Simms; sophomore Melanie Hobbs; and freshmen Angie Garner, Tricia Hostetler, and Amy Logan. The team ended the season tied for second in the conference.

Cheerleaders Pump up the Fans

The Cheerleaders were very busy again as they attended all home and away football and basketball games. They also prepared cookies and other treats for both of these teams. During sectional week the cheerleaders were involved in the dress-up days, pep sessions, Warriorgrams, Sectional Elves for players, and team dinners. Cheerleaders also sponsored dribblers to dribble to Triton for the sectional game. Awards this year were given to Annette Wilson (3 years) Most Valuable Cheerleader, Letter Winner; Janelle Jennings (4 years) Blanket Award; Jenna DeSomer (3 years) necklace; Doreen Rager (3 years) necklace; Cindy Cobbum, Jill Hoffert, Angie Moser, Jennie Tranter (2 years) jackets; Kim Clear, Lisa Hrynewycz, Angie Magiera, Erin Mort, Vickie Polise, and Janie Wright (1 year) numerals. Helping the cheerleaders were the squaw, Heather Huffman, and sponsors Mrs. Leach, Mrs. Thornburg, and Mrs. Hoffert.

FCA and Varsity Team Up

This year FCA and Varsity were combined because there was no sponsor available for Varsity. Out of the two clubs, FCA was most active. FCA had monthly homeroom meetings. They sponsored the Ruscha concert in October. They also had bi-weekly Bible studies from September to December. Along with Varsity Club they went to see a Pacers game in March, and sponsored the homecoming dance. The officers of FCA were Presidents: Scott Berkey and Barb Signorelli; Vice-Presidents: Cuong Reed and Julie Gunn; Secretary/Treasurer: Scott Wheat.

SADD remained a very active club. They attended a Hoosiers Against Drugs and Drunk Drivers Leadership Conference in October. The students spent a day in various workshops. SADD also helped with Red Ribbon Week by purchasing red ribbons and making posters. In spring they campaigned for a safe/non-alcoholic prom and graduation by making posters and running ads in the SMOKE SIGNALS, GOSHEN NEWS, and MAIL JOURNAL. They also passed out key chains that said "Celebrate Sober, It's A License to Drive, Not a License to Kill."

SMOKE SIGNALS Has a New Look

SMOKE SIGNALS underwent a major change as they switched to desktop publishing, a program that allows all of the newspaper layout to be done on the computer. To print out the pages, they used a new laser printer. In the summer of 1989, Shawn Krull, the photographer, attended a workshop at Ball State. That also allowed for a better newspaper. The group worked really hard, especially first semester when there were only nine staff members for eight pages of newspaper. The members second semester included: Jeremy Beer, Editor-In-Chief; Jennifer Smith, Assistant Editor; Max Barker; Mindy Beatty; DeAnna DeRolf; Misti Farr; Hope Jarboe; Brian Kern; Shawn Krull; Johan Kullander; Beverly Martin; Jason Ort; Suzanne Parr; Mike Schwartz; Ryan VanHook; and Joel Robbins, Advisor.

Future Problem Solvers Work Hard

The Future Problem Solvers Team consisted of 4 students: Tina Horwitz, Jodi Finlinson, Matt Liepold, and Emily Meyers, with Jeremy Beer as the alternate. There were two parts to the activity of the club. Problem solvers were to work out a system to reorganize a welfare community, making it productive and self supportive by 2010. First members had to come up with 20 problems relating to their topic. They chose the most important of these; then they thought of 20 solutions for these problems. Next they applied their criteria for what constituted a good answer and chose their best solution. They had to do this within two hours. State winners of the written contest were chosen to go to the State Bowl in Indianapolis.

They Made It Work

The LEGEND staff worked very hard to make the 1990 yearbook the best. The sponsor, Mrs. Harkleroad, made sure that staff members met their deadlines on time. There were fourteen members and the Editor was Angie Harman. In September the staff attended a workshop at St. Francis College in Fort Wayne. In March during ISTEP testing Melissa Garrett got the chance to visit Grissom Air Force Base along with Brian Kern from the SMOKE SIGNALS staff. Jill Bause as typist put all the body copy into the computer, the second year the computer has been used for this. The staff had an exciting time working on the LEGEND.

Teachers of the Future

FEA, Future Educators in Action, had a new sponsor: Mrs. Schumm. The goal of FEA was to encourage students to consider teaching as a career. They presented Smoking Sam to gain experience in teaching and give a message to the kids: Don't Smoke. The members of FEA were the ones who were the teachers' elves. They sent little notes and goodies to teachers without revealing their names and the teachers responded. FEA also made goodie care packages for the faculty during Teacher Recognition Day, Halloween, Christmas, and Semester Break. Members had a Teacher Observation Day where they went to the elementaries and junior highs for half a day and helped with the students and graded papers.

The Wawasee Student Representative Council consisted of ten elected class council members from each grade level. This year, the elected student body president was Chad Hoffert, and the vice-president was Cuong Reed. The council met regularly during the year. The function of the council was to promote leadership within the student body; to provide a link for communication between the students, teachers and administration; and to provide for student body activities, spirit, and the needs for Wawasee. The standing committees of the council were Activities Committee, responsible for creating activities that entertained the students; Dance Committee , responsible for setting up and getting together dances; Finance Committee, responsible for the methods to raise funds; Spirit Committee, responsible for promoting new ideas and activities that enlarged spirit; and Ways and Means, responsible for divising the methods to accomplish the recommendations, actions and projects of the Wawasee Representative Council. The council was in charge of all Homecoming activities and sponsored several dances, including the Sweetheart Ball, and helped the school celebrate Earth Week.

Decathlon Goes to State

Even though it was only Wawasee's fourth year in Decathlon, the team went straight to the top. January 13 they placed first in the regional competition against 18 teams. They had 22 individual medals and two all around winners: Shawn Kiser and Larry Horwitz. The following month the team prepared for state, February 9-10, where they placed 14th out of the 22 teams that competed. The Wawasee Decathlon team did a great job.

Let's Give a Speech

The Speech Team had a great year with Chris Thornton, Barb Leininger, Charity Strump, Christina Gaston, and J.D. Adams participating. Their season was a long one, starting in November and ending in May. The year ended with the State and District Tournaments. Participating for Wawasee at Sectionals were Charity Strump, placing as second alternate in Radio; and Chris Thornton placing second in Prose and seventh in Drama. Chris placed fifth at Regionals, advancing to State. At state, Chris placed tenth out of 150 participants. At the District Tournament, Chris placed seventh. Participating at District Congress was Barb Leininger. Over Memorial Day weekend, Chris Thornton participated at Catholic Nationals in Chicago. The speech team coach was Mrs. Charlotte Tyree assisted by newborn Nancy Elizabeth Tyree.

Farming Takes Progress

FFA had a very busy year. In the fall the members attended the Farm Progress show near Rochester. Over 30,000 people attended this event to view the latest in agriculture, science, and technology. The Soil Judging Team captured the county contest for the 14th consecutive year. Team members were Russ Anderson, Derik Green, Shawn Krull, and Dave Rosenberry. They also placed first in the area contest and in the Red Ribbon Division at the State Contest. Shawn Krull and Brian Wuthrich won District Proficiency Awards and represented Wawasee in State competition during the summer. The FFA held their annual Slave Auction and members averaged nearly $120.00 a piece. It was held in March and came just short of their all time record. The Annual Awards banquet was held in April and the Food for America program for the corporation second graders was held in early May. The program was held here at Wawasee for the first time.

Creating Works of Art

Art Club had several activities. They carved pumpkins at Halloween and then displayed them in the court yard. The club also traveled to the Indianapolis Museum of Art and the Eiteljorg Museum of Western Art where they enjoyed the exhibits. The club also had a pizza party at Pizza Hut in Warsaw. On April 20th and 21st club members helped supervise and take down the annual art show displays as well as entering their works. Karen Northrup won Best of Show for her close up of a pin ball machine at the show.

Working Hard on Those Keys

The Computer Club had eight members this year. They held many activities to keep them busy. On several Wednesday evenings they learned graphics on the IBM computers. They also held meetings on Sunday afternoons where they played computer games and worked with modems. The club had a party at Christmas at Ponderosa in Goshen and finished the year with a spring party in May.

Measles Outbreak

On February 22, for the first time in WHS history, the Indiana State Board of Health nurses immunized the entire student body for rubeola, a specific type of measles, after one confirmed case in the corporation. Approximately 750 students at WHS were vaccinated in a remarkably short period of time: one hour and fifteen minutes. The immunization took place in the gym with student and faculty volunteers helping the nurses. The immunizations were done using an air gun for quickness and to prevent the transferring of diseases in the process. Students who had already been immunized or those with special health conditions were not vaccinated. Three weeks later the health emergency was over with three cases of measles confirmed.

1. The immunizations are given at the rate of ten students per minute. 2. Hope Jarboe and Neal Bell register for their vaccinations. 3. The State Board of Health nurses are efficient and friendly in the process of immunizing students. 4. A student volunteer helps to make the procedure go smoothly.

New Staff

With this year came 16 new staff members. The one most obvious was Mr. Fox the principal. Mr. Fox was last year a Superintendent of Schools for Randolph Southern and has been a principal at many other schools. Mrs. White was his secretary; she took secretarial classes at IVY Tech. Mrs. Garrett was the new attendance secretary; she came from Marion Community Schools where she was an executive secretary for the Superintendent and the Board of Trustees. Mrs. Dewart was the new LPN; she has worked with nursing since she was fifteen. Mrs. Alexander was the Wawasee School Community nurse; she worked as a health educator for the Kosciusko County Health Department last year. Mrs. Bultemeier was the guidance secretary; she was a para-professional at Milford for six years and had background in secretarial studies. Mrs. Jones worked in the computer room; she was a secretary to the general manager at Flexsteel Industries in New Paris. Mrs. Emily Thomas was a para-professional for Special Needs; she transferred from North Webster Elementary. Mrs. Stoll was substituting for Mrs. Tyree; she taught at Northridge for two years. Mr. Hofer was a math teacher; he graduated from Valparaiso University. Mr. Karns was a new social studies teacher; he taught history for the last six years at Northwood. Mrs. Foster taught English and psych; she came back to teaching after working two years for federal legislation on farm issues. Mr. Beckett was the new choir teacher; he came from a private school in Pennsylvania. Mr. Carper was the orchestra conductor; he came from Newton H.S. in Kansas. Mr. Aalbregtse came from DeKalb Central Middle School; he was the new Careers/Quest teacher. This was Mr. Craig's first year of teaching; he worked on the Wawasee buses for two years before this.

1. This is Mr. Beckett's eighth year of teaching. 2. Mrs. Jones works on the computer for guidance. 3. Mr. Craig is the auto instructor. 4. This is Mrs. White's first year as the principal's secretary. 5. Mr. Carper plays for the South Bend Symphony and Pops. 6. This is Mr. Hofer's first teaching position. 7. Mrs. Bultemeier has worked as an executive secretary and a switchboard operator. 8. Mrs. Foster took a break from teaching and is now back. 9. Mr. Blunk is the new gym teacher. 10. Mr. Fox shows his allegiance to Purdue where he received his Bachelor's degree. 11. Mr. Aalbregtse has taught for 16 years. 12. Mr. Karns is also the swimming coach.

Friends From Afar

Students at WHS were given the honor of having two foreign exchange students. The two who chose to come to WHS were Nagisa Matsuoka and Johan Kullander. Nagi was from Japan, and Johan was from Sweden. Both Nagi and Johan were involved in team sports. Nagi was a member of the girls' swimming team and the girls' track team. Johan was a member of the varsity football team. Johan also had the honor of being inducted into the National Honor Society and the Academic Hall of Fame, which required a 9.5 grade point average. Nagi suffered an unfortunate accident in March. She sprained her ankle and had to use crutches for several weeks. For both Johan and Nagi, their stay was a good learning experience about the American lifestyle.

1. Nagisa Matsuoka enjoys spending time studying in the library. 2. Johan Kullander shows his school spirit by donning a bandana while typing.

Creating a LEGEND

Volume 22 of the LEGEND was published by Herff Jones, Incorporated on 80 gloss paper. The first sixteen pages were printed on white textured paper. The color senior pictures were printed on paper with a special high gloss finish.

Once again each student in Commercial Design submitted a cover design for the yearbook. The designs were voted on by the staff. The design chosen was by Chantel Drake

The type style chosen for the book was Serif Gothic Light. All headlines were in 30 point type. The body copy was printed in 10 point type. The picture idents were put in 8 point type.

Graphic Accents were used throughout the book for visual imagery and impact. Spot coloring was used to highlight certain pages. Process magenta HJ930, process yellow HJ920, and process cyan HJ940 were the spot colors used.

The number of books printed was 500. The cost per copy was $15.00. An additional $1.50 was added for seniors who wished to have their names stamped on the cover of their yearbooks.

1. Joni Simpson, Trina Leamon, Amber Arnett, and Dan Shock finish spreads for their deadline. 2. Jill Bause types pages into the computer. 3. Michele Levernier and Trina Leamon work on winter sports spreads. 4. Lori Striver looks through her Dream Company and Varsity Singers pictures.

Editor's Note

When we seniors walked through the doors of WHS for the last time, the 1990 yearbook staff hoped the important memories of our high school days were covered. When we turned the tassle on our graduation caps, another phase of our lives began. Good luck to the class of '90. We made it!

Yours truly,

Angie Harman

Memories

Of these days come so many memories, memories which each one will grasp a hold of—but so differently.
The binding may crack and the pictures may fade—but as for the memories, they will always be there and may they be the best of your lives.
