It's Showtime

"Showtime" was the theme of this year's homecoming activities. Each grade was given a certain area of entertainment: the seniors were television; juniors were radio; sophomores were movies; and the freshmen were theater. The seniors came out on top in the overall competition winning the window decorations, the talent show, the Fall Fling, and the powder puff game. Spirit Days were designated during the week. There was class color day; showtime day, where each class had their specific theme to represent by dressing up as characters from their entertainment; green and gold day; hat and college sweatshirt day; and inside out day. On Wednesday at the talent show, an ice cream social was held to raise money for the Caveda family whose five children were injured in an automobile accident. On Friday night the Varsity Football team played Goshen, and at half time of the game, John Hickey and Jenna de-Somer were named Homecoming King and Queen. Following the game the band "Long Shot" played at the dance sponsored by the cheerleaders.

"Consider Yourself, at Home"

The musical OLIVER was performed on November 16 and 17. Books, music, and lyrics were by Lionel Bart. OLIVER, a musical based on the Charles Dickens' classic OLIVER TWIST, was a departure from the usual light-hearted play chosen for Wawasee. This was the story of an orphan boy thrown onto the cold, cruel streets of 1850 London without friends or protection. He met thieves, murderers, juvenile delinquents, and a family he thought did not exist.

The director for OLIVER was Karen Parr and Assistant Director was Cyndi Thornburg. The orchestra was made up of Tom Beckett as the music director, Heather Waldrop on piano, Dave Blackwell on the clarinet, and Rob Anderson on percussion.

The Renaissance

The academic team reorganized this year into five separate teams: spelling, math, English, history, and fine arts. Each team was made up of five members who spent the first semester preparing for competition. The spell bowl team was the first to compete. After weekly practices, they traveled to Columbia City on October 16. The theme for the other teams' competitions was "The Renaissance: Luminary of the Modern World." It focused on the concentration of genius and change that centered in Italy from the Fourteenth to the early Seventeenth Centuries. People on the history team studied Machiavelli, education, the role of women, and geography. The math team studied algebra, calculus, and influential Italians. The English team studied Dante's INFERNO, and Petrarch's DECAMERON. The fine arts team studied painting and drawing, sculpture, architecture, and music. The teams worked hard to do their best at competition which included an NLC Academic Invitational at Northridge on March 14 and another at Homestead on April 4. The regional competition was held on April 16 with the top winners advancing to state.

Welcome to WHS

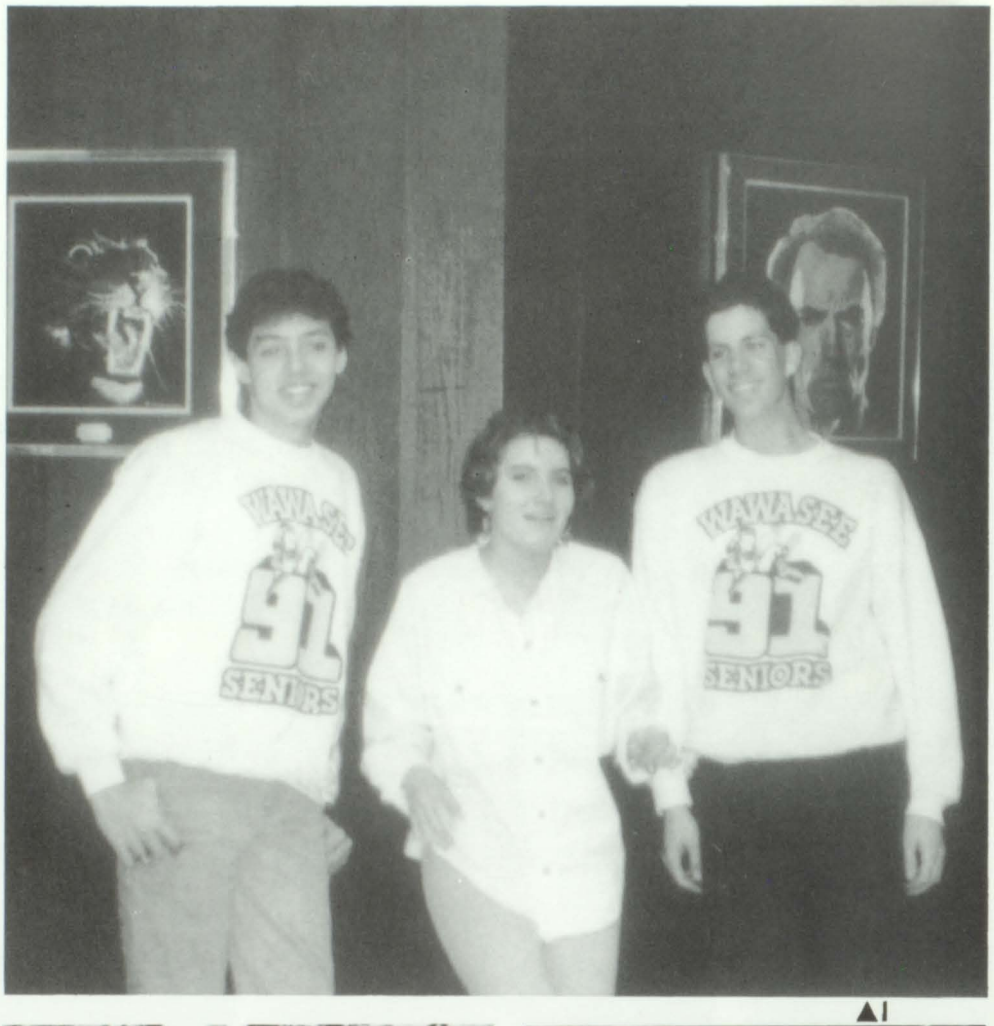

Wawasee welcomed three foreign exchange students this year.

Eduardo Campoy was from Sao Paulo, Brazil, close to the ocean. Eduardo was staying with the Doug and Erlene Aden family. One thing Eduardo enjoyed about Indiana was snow skiing, because they don't have snow in Brazil; he also liked WHS school sports, American girls and the friends that he made while here. Eduardo was a member of the tennis team, swim team, and soccer team.

Maria del Mar Titos was from the South of Spain. She was staying with Jackie and Butch Plickerd. She spent her spare time going to the mall, school sporting events, and being with her American family. Maria liked to write to her family and friends in Spain and listen to music. Maria said, "I am really glad I came here, because I am learning a lot of American customs." She also stated, "I think American people are nice and very friendly and I wish that everyone could have this opportunity."

Robert Alexander Heiland was from Germany. Robert stayed with Sue and Charles Koser and family. He said he enjoyed everything here except homework. Robert stated, "I didn't know that I would come to this area, but I really like it here though I first had to get used to it." Robert especially liked the lakes and malls. Robert participated on the swimming and soccer teams.

1. Eduardo Campoy, Maria del Mar Titos, and Robert Heiland are our three foreign exchange students. 2. Eduardo and Robert are surrounded by their friends at the Fall Fling. 3. Maria is ready for the bell to ring. 4. Robert is showing us a new way to sit. 5. Robert and Eduardo try the sack race at the Fall Fling. 6. Eduardo must have told a funny joke. 7. Eduardo hopes he doesn't miss this ball. 8. Eduardo and Jenna deSomer try to pop the balloon. 9. Robert peeks around the corner.

After Hours

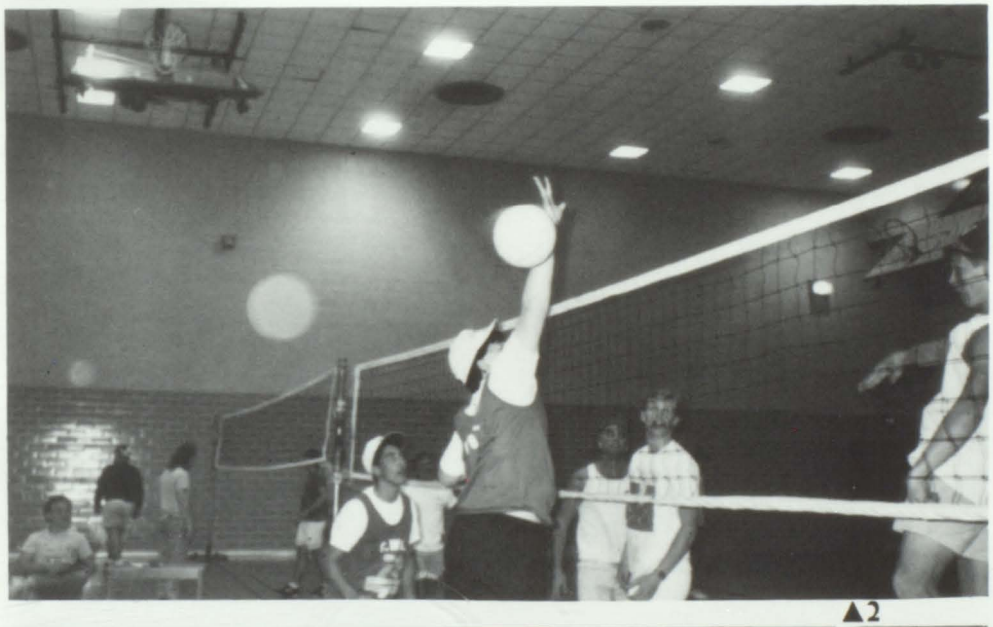

Basketball and volleyball intramurals were held Wednesday evenings in the P.E. Annex. The basketball was held in the winter and volleyball in the spring. There were 12 teams participating in basketball and out of that 12, the top 4 teams went on to the tournament. The tournament was won by PKF V.

In volleyball, there were 24 teams participating. The tournament was determined by who was in the top six. By mid-season, April 17, the top six teams were Suzanne's Men, Ultimate Warriors, Kerry's Kids, Bad, Deep Sea, and Die Henker.

1. Rob Clingaman, Lori Stiver, and Paige Price wait for the ball to come over. 2. Jason Mickley gets by that block. 3. Brian Schwab gives a little kick when he spikes the ball. 4. Nikki Jones watches Mr. Murphy serve the ball. 5. Dan Smith is not going to miss this ball.

HARVEY Highlights

This year's spring play was HARVEY. It was written by Mary Chase in 1943, and the comedy earned a Pulitzer Prize. The play was directed by Mrs. Cyndi Thornburg with Mrs. Karen Parr as assistant director.

The Harvey referred to in the title is a white rabbit, a pooka. Harvey was seen only by the main character, Elwood P. Dowd, who was played by Chris Thornton. The cast members were Joli Timm playing Myrtle Mae Simmons; Moni Lange as Veta Louise Simmons; Michelle Lauer as Miss Johnson; Tameche' Shock as Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet; Heather Tindal as Ruth Kelly, RN; Bill Maloney as Duane Wilson; Brian Kern as Lyman Sanderson, MD; Andy Tatman as William R. Chumley, MD; Barbara Leininger as Betty Chumley; Heather Huffman as Judge Margaret Gaffney; and Willian Bryant playing E.J. Lofgren.

1. Moni Lange, Joli Timm and Tameche' Shock seem uninterested in what Chris Thornton is doing. 2. Brian Kern watches Moni Lange in action. 3. Moni Lange gives instructions to Brian Kern. 4. Chris Thornton and Heather Tindal discuss what the card says. 5. Bill Maloney looks on as Heather Tindal instructs Moni Lange. 6. Brian Kern and Bill Maloney seem uninterested in what Heather Tindal has to say. 7. Brian Kern and Heather Tindal discuss the problem. 8. Chris Thornton speaks on the telephone. 9. Chris Thornton gets ready to answer the telephone. 10. Joli Timm, Moni Lange, and Tameche' Shock seem confused on what is taking place.

A Variety of Convos

Various convocations were presented throughout the school year. The Student Council sponsored Fall Fling in connection with Homecoming activities and an end of the year "So Long Seniors" fling. The Fort Wayne Philharmonic performed six selections for a convocation made up of high school, Wawasee and Milford Middle School students. The cheerleaders sponsored two pep sessions: one for Homecoming and one for boys' basketball sectionals. Bill Sanders, a former student of Mr. Fox, made a humorous yet informative presentation on sex and drugs. In March, the Student Council and the A.P. History class worked together to present a convo titled "I'm Proud to be an American." Finally in April, Kenny Marks, a Christian vocalist, suggested to students that they reach for their dreams.

1. Jenny Lotter and Suzanne Schwartz present a plaque to the school listing the names of the service men who graduated from Wawasee serving in Desert Shield. 2. The coaches and some junior and senior guys try to beat the cheerleaders in tug-of-war at the boys' basketball pep session. 3. Barb Leininger, Krista Williams and Charity Cripe sing with the Varsity Singers at the convocation "I'm Proud to be an American." 4. Bill Sanders from Kalamazoo, Michigan, speaks about drugs and sex. 5. Ab Edmonds portrays Abraham Lincoln at the "I'm Proud to be an American" convo. 6. Paige Price and Lori Stiver are dribbling to Warsaw for the boys' sectional. 7. April Bouse and Jenny Lotter are the chairmen for the patriotic convocation. 8. The Varsity Cheerleaders shout out at the pep session.

WHS Supports Desert Storm

This school year was very different from others in that all students were affected in one way or another by the Gulf War. The war was a result of Iraq's invasion of Kuwait in August 1990. The U.S. and its allies then began a build up of forces in Saudi Arabia to stop Saddam Hussein from becoming another Adolph Hitler. The United Nations gave Saddam until January 15th to pull out of Kuwait or else face a declaration of war. Hussein did not pull out, so on January 16th the air war began. Approximately a month later, the ground war started. The U.S. and Allied forces literally destroyed Iraq's forces. Near the end of February, Iraq pulled out of Kuwait.

Throughout the Gulf War, members of WHS showed their support in numerous ways. Fans at a home basketball game, aided by Mrs. Leach and Chris Thornton, created a cardboard flag. Yeager Photography took pictures and sent each graduate serving in the Gulf a copy. The student body dressed up in red, white and blue on designated days, and they also wore yellow ribbons especially made for Wawasee. A showcase was set up with addresses and pictures of all the former students serving in the war. Many used this opportunity to write to service men or women to raise their spirits. On March 28, the A.P. history class and student council combined to present a convocation in recognition of our troops. The convocation included members of the student body portraying outstanding Americans in history with slides of America shown. The band, Varsity Singers and Dream Company performed patriotic songs. At the end of the convocation, a plaque was presented to Mr. Fox with the names of those WHS former students who served in the Gulf War. Through out the war, students and faculty showed their love for and dedication to their country.

Captured in a Dream

The Senior Prom was held at Greencroft Center in Goshen with the theme Captured in a Dream. The decorations were a blue and white castle, with balloons floating around. With sponsors Mrs. Leach and Mr. Metcalf, the prom committee consisted of Jenna deSomer, Nicole Neff, Nikki Marsh, Paige Price, Charity Cripe, Lori Stiver, Chris Thornton, Diane Leslie, Karen Butt, and Heather Huffman. Chris Thornton was the toastmaster and gave the toast during the garter ceremony. The band was First Impression. For refreshments, cake, mints, nuts, and punch were served. Dan Smith and Nicole Neff were named Prom King and Queen.

After Prom was held at the high school. There were volleyball, dancing, food, and prizes. The DJ was from Bee 106.3. The party ended with Swami the Great hypnotizing Jenna deSomer. Matt Stump, Aaron Dial, and Lisa Stookey. To finish the festivities, 47 students took a chartered bus to Cedar Point on Sunday.

1. Lori Stivers whispers to Ab Edmonds and Nikki Jones while dancing. 2. Jenna deSomer checks out the back of Heather Huffman's hair, while Matt Ringler and Brian Schwab talk to Jenna's date. 3. Paige Price and her date take a break from dancing. 4. Andy Dunithan looks confused and Lori Boles thinks it's funny. 5. Nicole Neff and Dan Smith are chosen Prom King and Queen. 6. Nicole Eisaman, Dawn Firestone, and Eric Schaekel sit and watch the other couples dance. 7. What are you looking at, Matt Liepold? 8. Fugi Ramirez is laughing about something. 9. The Class of 1991

The twenty-third annual graduation exercises were held on June 2 in the Wawasee gymnasium. The audience was welcomed by Chris Thornton, class president. The class chose the yellow rose as their flower and green and white as their class colors. The class motto was "I will not follow/Where the path may lead,/But I will go/Where there is no path, /And I will leave a trail." Diplomas were given to 178 seniors. The invocation was given by Karen Butt. Valedictorian Michael Mattix and Salutatorian Jason Hollar both addressed their classmates and the audience. The Varsity Singers sang "From a Distance," and the Commencement Choir sang "Friends." The candlelighting ceremony was held after the presentation of the diplomas and the exercises ended with Spencer Martin giving the benediction.

1. Brent Zartman and Traci Roder make their entrance. 2. The Varsity Singers perform "From a Distance." 3. Diane Leslie and Dave McClelland are ready to start the ceremony. 4. The front row turns their tassels. 5. Valedictorian Michael Mattix receives his diploma. 6. Salutatorian Jason Hollar addresses the audience. 7. English teacher Phil Fawley, retiring after 42 years in education, plays the organ. 8. Tom Flees and Dawn Firestone are happy they received their diplomas. 9. Matt Ringler is all smiles when Mr. Fox hands him his diploma.

Seniors Come Out on Top

The class of '91 definitely had their share of fun, but along with that fun, they left a great impression in their final year at WHS. Homecoming was the first big event for the seniors. They pulled together and took first in the skit, Fall Fling, window decorations, and powder puff. In the overall competition, the seniors took first by a landslide. After the success of homecoming, the seniors placed second in the Penny Pitch. Also this year a group of seniors had a chance to visit Washington, D.C., during Fall Break. Back home, the government and economics classes held the National Convention; Keith Bice was elected President and Chris Thornton, Vice President on the Republican ticket. Preparing for May, the seniors decided to hold their prom at the Greencroft Center in Goshen.

While all of this action was memorable during '90-'91, another event was even more so. On January 16, 1991, the U.S. declared war on Iraq. This war was something that touched every senior in some way. It was a year that no senior would forget for many reasons.

Juniors Keep Up Tradition

The Class of '92 began their year by getting 2nd place in the homecoming competition. They also increased their class treasury. From the sales of items from chocolate to home accessories they made the exceptional amount of $5,403. Also the junior class kept up the school tradition concerning the Penny Pitch by contributing approximately 48% of the total money collected. Of the $2587, they donated $1287.61. During the spring they made the usual decisions on their class motto, flower, sweatshirt and prom site for their senior year.

Sophomores Dig in for A New Year

The sophomore class had a year of new challenges, such as the required classes like health, Quest, careers, English, and biology. They earned a third place overall in homecoming competition and pitched in at Christmas in the Penny Pitch. Their second big fund raiser for their class treasury, the annual chicken BBQ, was held in April.

Freshmen Are off to a Great Start

The freshmen had a great start at Wawasee. They learned to work together for the first time as a class on Penny Pitch, Homecoming, and the magazine sales. In the annual Homecoming activities, the freshmen placed fourth in hall decorations with the theme of theater, and in the Powder Puff game they lost to the juniors. At Christmas they raised $556.55 for the needy families of Penny Pitch. The magazine sales were moved to spring for the first time in the hopes that sales would increase their treasury even more.

Band Travels to Florida

Marching Band started out its season well with a fifth place at the Concord Invitational. They then went on to receive first at the District Contest and a second at the Regional Contest. Several members went to state for the solo and ensemble contest. The saxophone quartet composed of Amber Brown, Krista Brumbaugh, Eric Conkling, and Jamie Conkling received a second. The band sponsored a carwash to raise money to go to Florida where they both enjoyed the sights, played at Disney World and marched at the Hall of Fame Bowl in Tampa at half time.

Show Choirs Dazzle

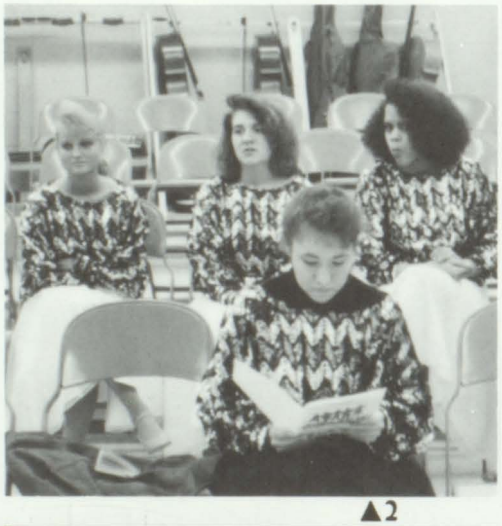

The Varsity Singers, directed by Thomas Beckett, had a very active year of performances. They performed for the Milford Kiwanis Club and the Warsaw Optimist Club. They competed in a district contest at Elkhart Memorial where they received a first and second in show choir competition. They gave an outstanding performance at state competition in Indianapolis, where they scored a Division I rating, bringing home two firsts. The Varsity Singers also participated in a Christmas concert during the winter, followed by an America the Beautiful concert in the spring.

The Dream Company also had a great year as they traveled with the Varsity Singers for performances. This all girls group received a Division II rating at district contest in the category of Show Choir. Both groups performed very well and gave perhaps their best performances.

Singing a Salute

The choirs performed at numerous concerts including the Fall Concert, Christmas convocation, Christmas Concert, and the Corporation Music Festival. The Corporation Music Festival was titled "A Salute to America" in honor of our men and women who served in the Persian Gulf. The choirs sang "The Lullaby of Broadway" and then everyone who was performing joined in for the final number "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." The choirs presented superb performances throughout the year.

Getting down to Business

The Business Department was made up of four faculty members: Mr. Murphy, Mr. Storey, Mrs. Huber and Mr. Minton. Business classes enrolled 415 students in 12 different course offerings. These classes included accounting, keyboarding, marketing, computer application and advanced business. Students received instructions in computerized accounting as well as Word Perfect, word processing and Lotus 1, 2, 3.

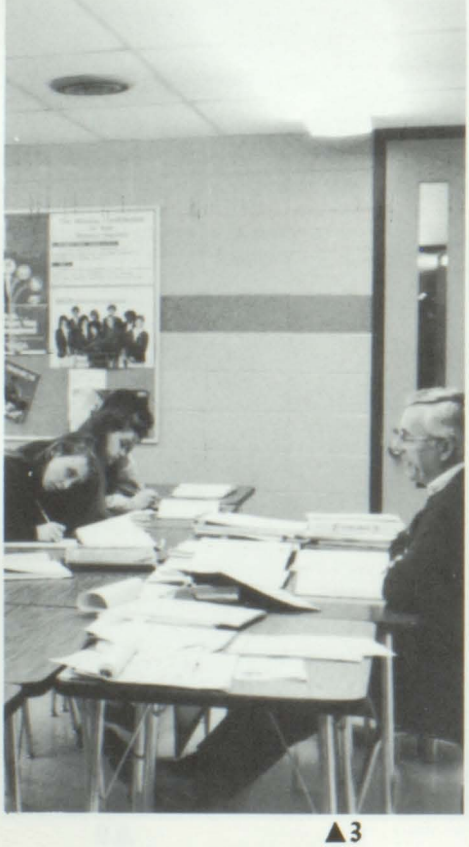

1. Business teachers are Mr. Murphy, Mr. Storey, Mrs. Huber, and Mr. Minton. 2. Paul Wallace, Trena Evans, Chris Calhoon and John Medlock are having fun in typing. 3. Mr. Minton entertains his marketing class. 4. Kyla Wolferman and Chris Chapa have a great time in accounting. 5. This group carries on a lively conversation in marketing. 6. These two students concentrate very hard on the computers. 7. Abbie Johnson adds up those figures. 8. Amy Heath looks a little bit frustrated. 9. Everyone "Counts"

The Math Department spent quite a bit of time planning for their new rooms in the rennovation planned for the high school. They then presented these plans and their projected technology needs for the future to the school board. The department had a great turnout of 76 students that participated in the annual American High School Mathematics Examination. Winners were Jason Hollar, 1st; Mike Wanggaard, 2nd; and Matt Johnson, 3rd. In May students also participated in the Purdue Math exams in Algebra II, trigonometry, and calculus.

English for Everyday

The English Department's major job this year was preparing for the new addition. The English Department planned for ten new rooms. Also all the department textbooks were new this year. The department chose new books last year for student use this year. Members of the department also took professional days to visit various computer labs at Garrett, IU Fort Wayne, Mishawaka Penn and Rochester. At these labs the staff looked at both hardware and software for the new addition. This year there was one new teacher, Mrs. Tomes, who taught for a semester while Mrs. Tyree was on a maternity leave. Students in English were exposed to many different and well-known pieces of literature such as ROMEO AND JULIET, MACBETH, GRAPES OF WRATH, TO KILL A MOCKINGBIRD, ON THE BEACH, A FAREWELL TO ARMS AND OEDIPUS. A considerable amount of time was spent in writing: sentences, paragraphs, essays and research papers. Overall the primary goal was to learn to use the English language skillfully with ease and confidence. Also in the English Department two of our students, Karen Yoder and Eric Hess, were entered into the NCTE writing contest. The department was allowed to enroll one student for every 500 students. The two students turned in a sample of their writing and then were to write a 75 minute impromptu theme. Through this experience the students gained much knowledge on writing.

Our Friends the Cooks and Custodians

Students need to say thanks to the cooks once again for another great year. Head cook, Susie Kern, explained how the school board changed the system. Susie began to make her own menus for the high school. She felt the program worked much smoother. Student council also had meetings with her about what students like to eat. She also felt the new head lights on the lines kept the food warmer. There were some changes in personnel. Lois Murray retired after 22 years; Marleen Leamon moved to kitchen help; and Rosy White was scheduled to take the cash register. Also after 25 years working with Wawasee schools, Jeanett Thomas passed away in February 1991. She was a cook at WHS for eight years.

Students also needed to say thanks to the custodians. Judy Ponciroli worked at WHS for the first semester then moved to the new middle school. Byron Oswald started at WHS in February. Vern White was still in charge of maintenance and directed all custodians at WHS. Vern expained how the custodians set up for all after school activities and fixed all broken appliances. After all the snow, they plowed out the parking lot for the buses and cars.

1. The cooks are Marleen Leamon, Alice Miller, Mildred Smith, Lisa Miller, Jacolyn Wortinger, Susie Kern, Marilyn Grindle, Vickie Brown, and Lois Murray. 2. The custodians are Vern White, Judy Ponciroli, Arnold Grindle, Darwin Klenke, and Edith Avery. 3. Marilyn Grindle washes dishes. 4. Vickie Brown demonstrates how to make a milkshake. 5. A Good Year for Foreign Language

The Foreign Language Department had a good year. There were many different classes available to take in the Foreign Language Department. French offered classes I through IV, as did German and Spanish. The Spanish III class made children's books for the elementary children. They also went to see "Mananas De Abril y Mayo" at the Elco Theatre. The French III students went to see "The Little Prince" in Fort Wayne and afterwards they went out to eat.

Social Times

The Social Science Department covered the subject areas of psychology, economics, government and history. The senior economic and government classes held their annual political convention in November. In preparing for the convention, students had to create parties, join them, nominate candidates, write platforms and hold a press conference. The purpose was to get the students familiar with politics. The whole student body took part in the press conference and voting. The mock election was won by the Republican Party who nominated Keith Bice and Chris Thornton as President and Vice- President.

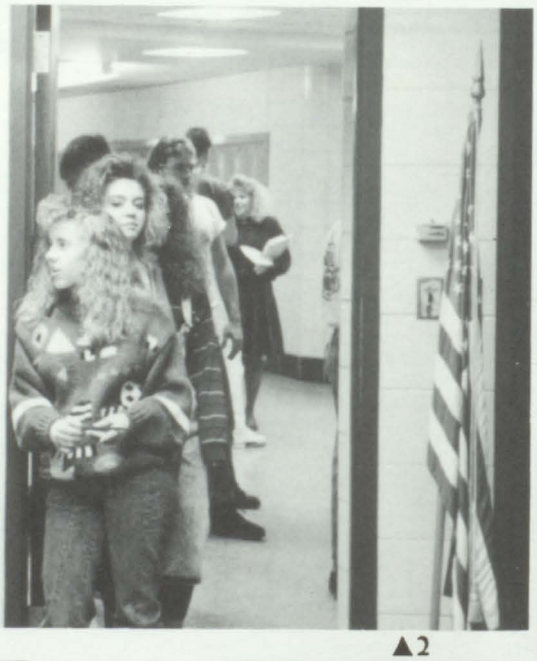

In the last month of school, the seniors were involved in a consumer economic unit which went through the process of getting married, planning budgets and choosing careers. In psychology, students studied personality and carried out experiments such as making homemade mazes and blindfolding others, letting them go through the maze with their hands. Because of the Gulf War, the advanced placement history class organized and presented in March a convocation on America for the student body. All in all, the social science department certainly kept busy.

1. The Social Science teachers are Mr. Zurcher, Mr. Karns, Mr. Iden, Mr. Corson and Mr. Welborn. 2. Melanie Hobbs talks to Rob Anderson while waiting in line to vote in the election. 3. Building Self-Esteem and Healthy Bodies

The Careers/Quest class involved many guest speakers: lawyers, a physical therapist, flight instructor, and state police trooper among many others. Mr. Aalbregtse not only taught Careers-/Quest, but also physical education; therefore, Mrs. Sumpter also taught two Careers/Quest classes.

The Health classes, taught by Mr. Lambert, helped students learn about themselves, their behavior, and their manners. They also learned about sex education, the effects of drugs on the body, and how to handle stress. Both classes, taken by sophomores, prepared students for their futures.

Happy Home Making

The Home Economics classes enjoyed themselves this year. The foods classes made everything from cookies to foreign foods. The child development class had their annual flour babies program. At the end of the semester, they all brought a child to school for half of a day. The interior design class designed and made gingerbread houses. Other classes offered were Clothing I and II and family management.

1. Mrs. Leach is the Home Economics instructor. 2. Kyla Wolferman, Sherry Jones, Michele Levernier, Marlene Price, and Chris Chapa design their gingerbread house in interior design. 3. Lori Stiver mixes her cookies. 4. Hillary Beatty takes part in the child development project. 5. Secretaries and Aides Experience Changes

There was one new addition to the secretary/aide staff: Mrs. Christoffel in the library as the Audio Visual Aide. Mrs. Garrett and Mrs. Jones in the Attendence Office were busy "breaking in" the new Dean of Students, Mr. Lobsiger. Mrs. Jones was also busy in her office with the students who received I.S.S. Mrs. Cobbum came up with the idea to change the name of Academic Probation to Academic Skills Improvement to give the students a more positive attitude toward improving their study habits. The nurses were very busy with the sick students who poured through their doors. Overall, the secretaries and aides had a busy year.

1. Secretaries and Aides are Row 1: Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. White, Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Bultemeier, Mrs. Leamon; Row 2: Mrs. Christoffel, Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Garrett, Mrs. Elam, Mrs. Whetten, Mrs. Schwartz, Mrs. Cobbum. 2. Volunteers are Mrs. Adams, music; Mrs. Morel, Alternative School; Mrs. Scott, library. 3. Mrs. Cobbum is having fun with her work. 4. Mrs. Whetten is busy on the phone. 5. Skills That Provide a Career

Vocational Technical Education was preparation for a career. Wawasee students had seven different areas to choose from: Auto Mechanics I and II, Building Trades I and II, Agriculture Placement, Marketing Education Co-op, and Secretarial Office Lab. Students also might have selected Cosmetology I and II at Fairfield High School or Printing and Graphics at West Noble High School.

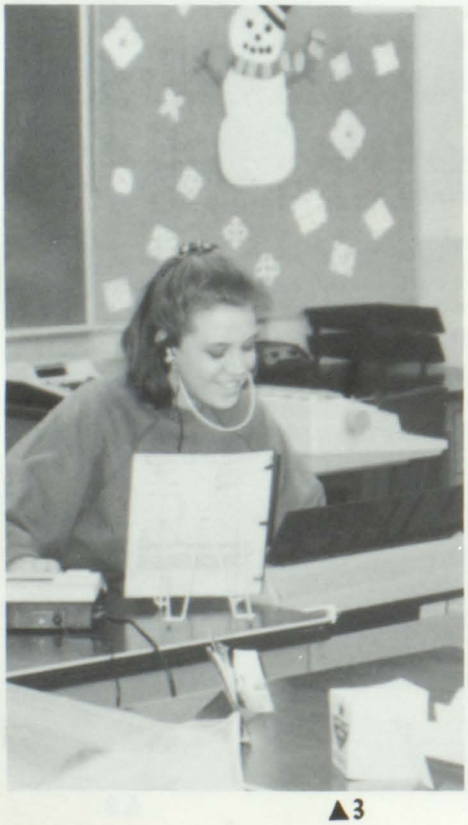

1. Vocational Education instructors are Mrs. Huber, Mr. Craig, Mr. Warren, Mrs. Leach, Mr. Timpe and Mr. Minton. 2. The secretarial office lab students tap on their computers. 3. Science is for Everyone

There were many different courses available to students interested in science. The physical science, chemistry and physics classes taught about chemical reactions and laws of nature. Biology and Biology II dissected and explored different types of animals. The human physiology and genetics courses were taken by students who might be interested in the medicine field. Involving 895 students, the science department certainly met the needs of many different people.

New Students, New Teachers

The Physical Education Department had two new teachers: Mrs. Sumpter and Mr. Aalbregtse. Mrs. Sumpter taught some of the freshman gym classes along with the A.P.C. program which was in its second year. The purpose of the A.P.C. program was to improve techniques in flexibility, athletic ability, endurance, strength, and agility. Mr. Aalbregtse helped teach the freshman gym classes. Mrs. Peterson helped with all the physical education classes while Mr. DeHart taught a freshman class and A.P.C. The freshmen had fun in physical education this year doing units in bowling, gymnastics, swimming, judo, badminton, soccer and folk dancing. It was a very interesting year as new teachers had to adjust.

Students Working for the Future

The Industrial Technology Department offered six areas of technological experience. Among those areas, manufacturing class worked in metals, welding, and designed a product to produce and sell. The small engine class fixed engines from lawn mowers to boats. The design class worked on drawing and sketching architectural and machine designs. CAD class worked on the CAD system (computer aided design), and had to design their own houses. Furniture class and cabinetry class concentrated on the construction of fine furniture and cabinets.

New Additions to LRC

The library staff experienced some changes. Mrs. Thomas, who was the audio visual specialist for several years, became the library assistant. The new audio visual specialist was Mrs. Christoffel. Mr. Guinther was still the media director. Student helpers were Sandy Hunziker, Jason Martindale and Scott Wheat.

The library received two new additions: a CD Rom, which was a Reader's Guide, and laser discs which were used for science. The library staff had an interesting time helping students learn to use the new devices for the computers.

1. Kirk Dewart does his homework in the LRC. 2. The library staff includes Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Christoffel and Mr. Guinther.3. Monica Zuniga and Jenny Helmsley look though the vertical files in the LRC annex. 4. Matt Haab and Ab Edmonds study intensely. 5. Change in Administration

There was one change in the administration consisting of Mr. Fox, Mr. Lobsiger, Mr. Kesler, and Mr. Traviolia. Mr. Lobsiger returned to Wawasee as an administrator. His job, as dean of students, was to deal with the attendance and the discipline of the students. Mr. Fox, as the principal, helped make rules and regulations along with the school schedule. The vice-principal, Mr. Kesler, purchased all the school's materials. Mr. Traviolia was the Athletic Director. His job consisted of buying athletic supplies, making sports schedules and being responsible for all the coaches.

Weekly Sectionals

The orchestra, directed by Mr. Dennis Carper, had a large experienced group of seniors who paced the string program. Weekly, the orchestra divided into sections and practiced in separate rooms. Section leaders Becki Haab, Moni Lange, Spencer Martin and Karen Yoder led the weekly sectionals, which may have been the most significant part of the orchestra's improvement. Spencer Martin, Karen Yoder, and Anne Sims received First Division medals at state contest. The chamber orchestra performed works which ranged from Handel's "Concerto Gross in E Minor" to Bette Midler's hit "From a Distance" at their various concerts.

First year for Coach Akers

This was the first year for Mr. Akers as head coach, and he and his team had a season of hard work and difficulties. They struggled in every game, but never gave up. The Varsity ended their season with a 1-8 record, winning against Plymouth. The award winners were Buster Clevenger, Offensive Back Player of the Year; Rob Clingaman, Pride Hustle Desire Award; Jeremy Doerr, Mr. Intensity; Tom Flees, Most Improved; John Hickey, Special Team; Brian Schwab, Offensive Line Player of the Year; Tim Schwartz, Secondary Player of the Year and MVP; Dan Smith, Front Seven Player of the Year. In post season, Tom Flees, Ab Edmonds, and John Hickey were named to the Honorable Mention Academic All-State Football Team. Tim Schwartz received Honorable Mention as a defensive back.

Both reserve squads also had difficult seasons. The Junior Varsity ended with a 0-5 record. Mr. VanLue stated, "They had a hard season due to a shortage of players caused by injuries at the varsity level." The freshman football team ended with an 0-6 record.

Warriors Stomp On New Ground

The Warrior Boys' Tennis Team finished with an excellent record of 19 and 2. They had shutouts against West Noble, Central Noble, Jimtown, Northridge, and Whitko. The team also had wins at the LaVille and Wawasee Invitationals and took 2nd at NLC. These determined players fought their way to victory at every single one of their sectional games and went on to win regionals against Angola with a close score of 3-2. At the first round of the semi-state game against LaPorte, they were victorious again with a score of 3-2, but during the second round against South Bend St. Joe they lost. Overall these Warriors had the best record that Wawasee tennis has ever had.

The individual award winners were Jason Hollar, MVP; Derek Sparks, Mental Attitude; Jerry Smith and Jerry Hutchinson, Most Games Won (Varsity); Eduardo Campoy, Coaches' Award; Jerry Smith, Warrior Award; Chris Shidler, Big Play Award; Mason Robbins and Aaron Sincroft, Consistency Award; Scott Pellatier, Most Games Won (JV); Daren Wagoner, Most Improved (JV).

New Coach, New Team

Mr. Hawkins was the new coach for the Girls' Golf Team. With no returning team members, it was a season of rebuilding. There were two seniors on the team who showed a lot of leadership for the young team. They were Nikki Marsh and Paige Price.

They had a tough season but their hard work during the season paid off at the end of the season when they finished ahead of West Noble at Sectionals. Amber Esenwein just missed advancing to regionals. Award winners were Nikki Marsh and Paige Price: Leadership Award; Amber Esenwein: MVP.

Sectional Champs, again.

The Gymnastics Team once again had a very successful season. They were undefeated and won the IHSAA sectional for the sixth year in a row. In sectionals Barb Signorelli placed 4th on vault, 4th on bars, 4th on floor and 5th all around. Sarah Locke placed 2nd on the balance beam. Karen Butt placed 6th on vault, 3rd on bars, 5th on floor and 4th all around.

The highlight of their season was when Karen Butt placed sixth on bars at regionals giving her a chance to advance to state. The awards given out were to Karen Butt, MVP; Nikki Marsh, Drive, Desire and Determination; Barb Signorelli, High Score; Kristi Nottingham, JV Award. It was very sucessful year for the gymnastics team.

Sectional Champs

The Wawasee Baseball Team had a difficult start, coming up against some very tough teams. They fell to Warsaw with a score of 6-5, and East Noble provided some competition for the team and won 6-2. The Warriors won against Fairfield with a score 16-9, but fell to Columbia City and Elkhart Central. The season ended in a spectacular way, however, as the team beat Goshen, Jimtown and Northwood to become sectional champs. The following weekend they lost to Westview in first round regional action.

Softball Sluggers Have New Coaches

The Lady Warrior Softball Team was under new coaches this year: Mr. Bill Helms and Mr. Dave Boyce. The team started by conditioning and working on fundamentals. As time went on, they prepared hard for their games. The hard work paid off for them when the team went up against Churubusco and won by a score of 11-10, and when they smashed Fort Wayne Northrop by a score of 15-4. Leadership was given by Nikki Jones and April Bouse, chosen co-captains of the team. April Bouse, Jodi Brumbaugh and Nikki Jones led the team in defense with their gloves, while Becki Haab, Bobbi Haab and Nikki Jones led the team in offense with their bats. The team grew close throughout the season, had a lot of fun working with the coaches, and thought the knowledge gained was very valuable. The J.V. team also started by working on fundamentals. The team was young, but captured wins against Churubusco, and Elkhart Memorial.

The Tradition Begins

This was the first year for soccer as a varsity sport. The team had many experienced players from last year's club team. They earned their first win against South Bend LaSalle, Chad Glassburn and Hector Roa both scoring two goals each. By mid season, they had also posted a win against South Bend Washington. The players' parents sponsored a bake sale at school during lunch to raise money for the new team which was coached by Mr. Beckett.

New Horizons

The cheerleaders experienced an action packed season. They started off by getting two new sponsors who came with many exciting ideas: Mrs. Goshert for the Varsity and Mrs. Cobbum for the Junior Varsity; Mrs. Hoffert returned to work with the Freshmen. During the summer the cheerleaders went to camp at Ball State University and learned many new and creative ideas. They made signs weekly for the basketball and football teams, decorated locker rooms, held spirit days, and organized the pep session before basketball sectionals. They also conducted a cheerleading clinic for the middle school and elementary, which was attended by 150 girls. The cheerleaders also hosted a bake sale. The proceeds from these events went towards buying new uniforms. The cheerleaders also made a change in the movements to the Wawasee school song which also added to making this an exciting year. Before basketball season, two UNLV cheerleaders visited the high school with more exciting ideas and new cheers and chants. It was a very successful year.

Student Council Works Hard

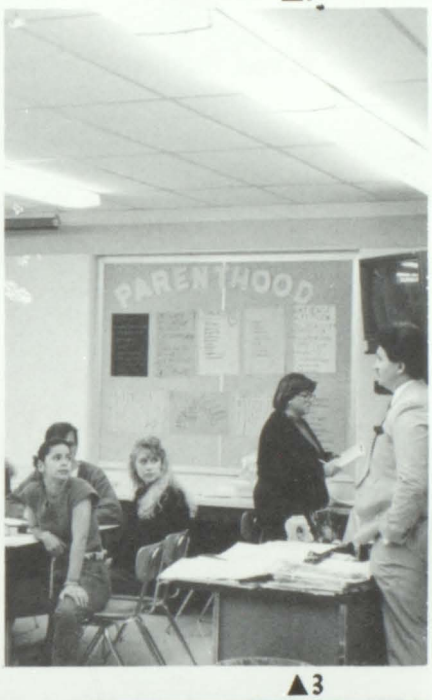

Student Council met regularly during homeroom and before school to work with students and administration to better WHS. Along with the entire organization of Homecoming, they set up the Fall Fling and planned the So Long Seniors Fling in the spring. They sponsored several dances after football and basketball games and the semi-formal Sweetheart Dance in February. Council members worked on a revised dress code with the administration. Finally in March they and Mr. Zurcher's advanced placement history class sponsored the "I'm Proud to Be an American" convocation. This year's president was Suzanne Schwartz and vice president was Moni Lange.

Key Club Teams up with Kiwanis

The Key Club was extremely active this year, participating in school, community, and family projects. For school projects, they helped with the bloodmobile, the red ribbon week, the Bill Sander's convocation, teacher appreciation, Freshman Welcome, and they delivered Valentine balloons to new students in the high school. In community services, they raised money for teaching materials for the Lakeland Day Care Center, held a fund raiser for Make a Wish Foundation for the terminally ill, helped sponsor the annual Penny Pitch program, and teamed up with Kiwanis on joint projects like chicken barbeques and pancake and sausage breakfasts. The club members were also always encouraged to go above and beyond in helping their families in any way they could.

Educators In Action

FEA, Future Educators of America, remained active throughout the year. They began by having an observation day at area schools. In February they presented the Smoking Sam program for fourth and fifth graders. Members were also involved in the Elf program. This program allowed the members to be teachers' elves with out revealing who they were. They finished the year with their annual teachers' tea where they revealed their identities to the teachers. FEA was sponsored by Mr. Iden and the club officers were Tameche' Shock, president; Heather Perzanowski, vice-president; Paige Price, treasurer; and Lori Stiver, secretary.

Wawasee's Artists

The Art Club was very busy. They started off the year celebrating Halloween. At the annual pumpkin carve, they decorated pumpkins and feasted on cider and doughnuts. In December, twenty members went by bus to visit Chicago. They spent half the day at the Chicago Art Institute. The remainder of the day was spent sight seeing in downtown Chicago. On December 20th, they enjoyed a Christmas social at Mrs. Bryan's home. They devoured several pizzas, consumed several liters of pop, and exchanged home-made gifts. In the spring the club planned a trip to the Midwest Museum of Art in Elkhart. The Art Club also sponsored the annual Wawasee High School Art Show in April. There were 35 members in the Art Club. Office holders were Ben Huffman, president; Dan Fidler, secretary and treasurer; sponsors Mr. Johnson and Mrs. Bryan.

Fellowship in the Making

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes enjoyed numerous activities. Along with Key Club they helped sponsor an overnight lock-in and a dance. FCA also took a trip to see the Indiana Pacers play. The main objective of FCA was to get the students to be more familiar with Christ and form a relationship with Christ. The group had regular meetings during homeroom where they had guest speakers and films. Together the members grew closer with each other and Christ.

Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) participated in a lock-in dance with pizza, games, and swimming. Also SADD members spent numerous hours making signs and posters for prom. These signs and posters were for students going to prom to discourage them from drinking and driving. Overall, SADD's goals were to make students aware of the dangers and consequences of drinking and driving. One activity that portrayed this goal was when SADD had the Grim Reaper come into the school and put a red ribbon on many students' arms to display how many people died a day in drug and alcohol related accidents. The students who got banded were to remain quiet throughout the day. This activity really made students aware of the drug and alcohol problem that faced the world.

NHS is an Active Part of Penny Pitch

National Honor Society had a great year. The organization held two inductions: one in the fall and one in the spring. There were 49 members: 32 seniors and 17 juniors. In November the NHS members held a Thanksgiving banquet. In December the Penny Pitch was successful once again. Members helped with the Penny Pitch, both in counting money and helping deliver the food to the families. The sponsors of NHS were Mr. Fawley and Miss Kline. The officers were Keith Bice, president; Suzanne Schwartz, vice-president; Moni Lange, secretary; Mike Mattix, treasurer.

FLC Sets up a Foreign Store

Foreign Language Club had a very busy year. FLC members set up a grocery store atmosphere where FLC members could only speak in French, German, and Spanish to practice their languages. The sponsors of FLC were Mrs. Bruce, Mrs. Hursh, and Mrs. Yargosz. The officers were Fugi Ramirez, president; Pat Alvarez, vice-president; Diane Leslie, secretary; and Tammy Tom, treasurer.

Speech is Successful

The Speech Team, coached by Mrs. Tyree, had another successful year. At a Goshen meet, Charity Stump placed fourth in Radio and Chris Thornton placed first in Humor and first in Prose to give the team an overall sixth place finish among 20 teams there. The team participated in the District Tournament, and at Regionals Chris Thornton placed second in Prose, thus qualifying him for State. Chris went on to win a state championship and represented Wawasee in nationals during the summer.

The LEGEND of this Yearbook

Volume 23 of the LEGEND was published by Herff Jones, Incorporated, on 80# gloss paper. The color senior pictures were printed on paper with a special high gloss finish.

Once again each student in commercial design submitted a cover design for the yearbook. The designs were voted on by the staff, and the design chosen was drawn by Neal Bell.

The type style chosen for the book was Lydian Bold. All headlines were in 30 point type; the body copy was printed in 10 point type; the picture idents were put in 8 point type.

Graphic Accents were used throughout the book for visual imagery and impact, and spot color was used to highlight certain pages.

This year a different computer program was used. It was called Copy Express, typed on an Apple IIe computer, and was much like Appleworks. The entire ad section was done on a MacIntosh computer by staff members.

The number of books printed was 450. The cost to the student per copy was $20.00. An additional $2.00 was added for seniors who wished to have their names stamped on the cover of their yearbooks.

1. Lori Stiver and Nikki Jones are trying to find just the right pictures. 2. Amber Arnett must know someone in that picture. 3. Lisa Wight and Cindy Cobbum are working on their club spreads. 4. Dan Shock and Richard Naugler look at last year's book to get some ideas. 5. Amber Arnett looks like she forgot there was a deadline.

Through these doors we walked together
Taking each day as it came.
Together we laughed,
and together we cried,
As each and everyone of us
reached out and tried.
We all grew closer
and shared times together,
And will always have these memories
stay with us forever.
We will go our own separate ways,
But in each other's hearts
we will always stay.
Even though within these doors
we are all done,
In our hearts we will always be the class of ninety-one.

Nikki Jones
