Did you get involved?

"Warriors Sponsor the Millenium" set the tone for Homecoming activities. The seniors had clothing; juniors, soft drinks; sophomores, fast food; and the freshmen, candy. In class competition the sophomores took control by winning the penny race along with the skit while coming in second to the juniors at the powder puff game. This gave them first place. The frosh came in second winning the mural competition and floats. The juniors and seniors, on the other hand, weren't so lucky. All week long students all over the school got involved in different activities such as: wacky hair day, big hat day, and green and gold spirit day. The football game Friday was against Mishawka Marian with the Warriors falling to defeat. After the football game student council sponsored a bonfire, and the weather was cold and wet. Most people said that it was all part of the fun.

AcademicTeams

How far west have you gone?

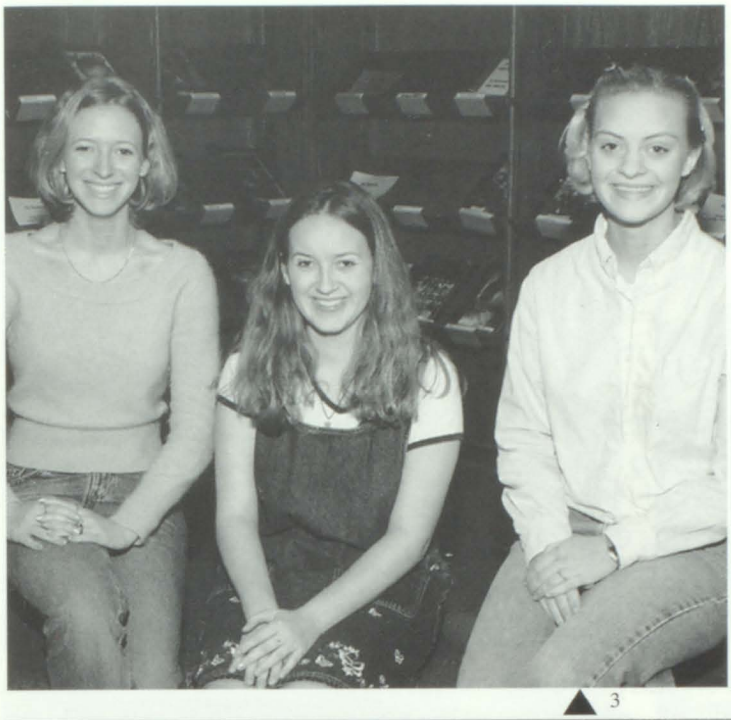

The theme for academic superbowl was "Westward Expansion: 1785-1900." The academic teams included a math team, a science team, an English team, a fine arts team, and a social studies team. The math team, coached by Mrs. Harris, studied algebra, vectors, set theory, and mathematicians. The science team, coached by Mrs. Sautter, studied electricity, technology, geology, ecology, and disease. The English team, coached by Mrs. Dyck, focused on fiction, non-fiction, and poetry: Walt Whitman's Leaves of Grass. The fine arts team, coached by Mrs. Hursh and Mrs. Dubach, studied visual arts and music. The social studies team, coached by Mrs. Meyers, focused on geography, Native Americans, Indiana in the Old Northwest, Manifest Destiny, communication and transportation, and economic attraction. The teams were in competition three times during their season. On March 9 they traveled to the Warsaw Invitational. An NLC meet was held at Wawasee on March 20. Then Regionals were at Northridge April 18.

ForeignExchange

Where do you call home?

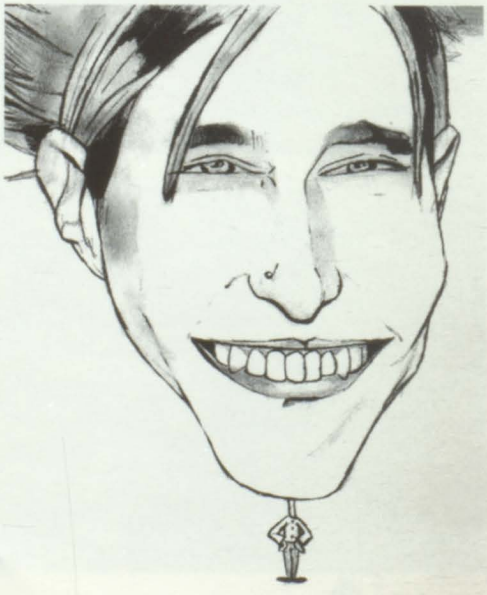

Wawasee High School has been very fortunate in the past to have many foreign exchange students from all around the globe. This unique tradition continued with an addition of three new foreign exchange students. Tawfik Elias was closest to home. He was from Mexico. We also had two students from Europe. Kay Schmitz was Germany's representative and Cindy Walther came from Switzerland.

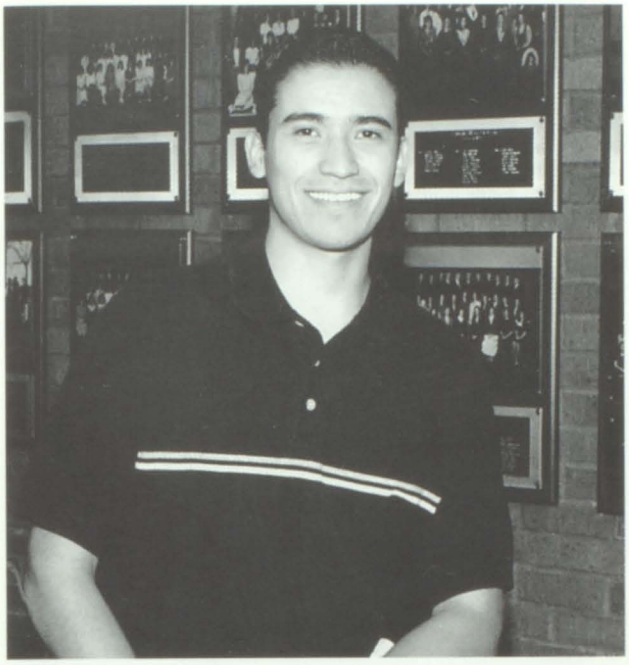

These three students came to America without knowing what to expect. All three of these students were able to enrich themselves as well as the students around them. With our culture becoming more and more diversified every day, the difference between all of us was not what language we spoke best or what type of government we had. It was solely where we called home.

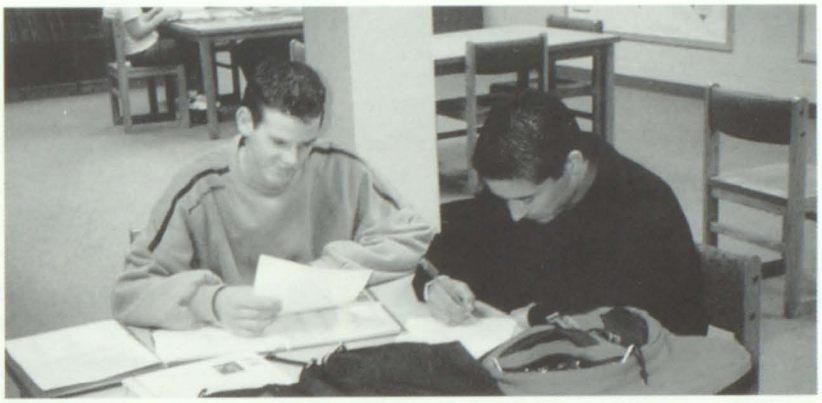

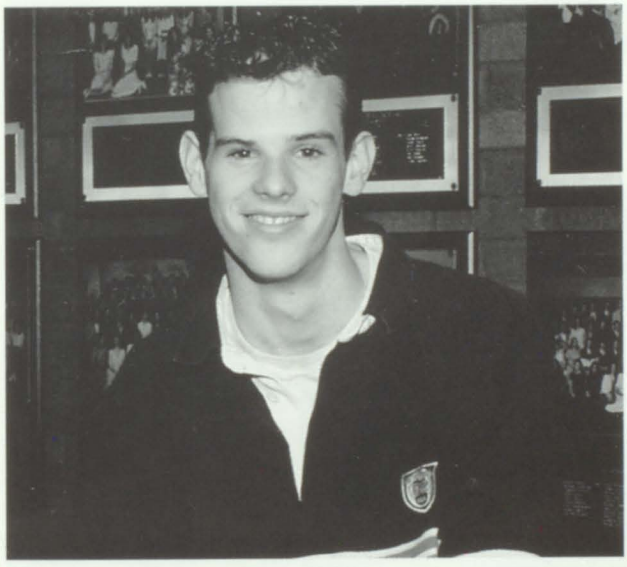

Tawfik Elias is Wawasee's exchange student from Mexico. He is living with Jeanne and Bill Weaver of Syracuse. Tawfik's favorite things about the United States are the girls, sports, and the cities. He also enjoys spending time with his host family and friends. Tawfik enjoys all sports, but his favorites are soccer, basketball, and baseball. Tawfik is also a very good cyclist. He says that everything here is different from home, but he enjoys it very much.

Kay Schmitz is visiting Wawasee High School from Hamburg, Germany. He is staying with Sheila Richards and her two twin 9 year olds, Amy and Audrey. Kay is fond of many sports like swimming and tennis. However, he feels that we practice too much. Kay also enjoys sailing, playing the piano, and dancing. Some of his favorite things about the United States include all the football on TV and our big theme parks.

Cindy Walther is here from Orpund, Bern in Switzerland. Her host parent is Tracey Tom, who has been very helpful in all of Cindy's endeavors. Cindy likes many things about the U.S., but especially enjoys all the fast food restaurants. In the future she plans on becoming an assistant in a hotel. Cindy is very ambitious and eager to learn. Cindy believes in preparing herself for a bright future. This is part of the reason she came to America and Wawasee High School.

Want some arsenic?

The fall play was a production of the comedy "Arsenic and Old Lace". The cast had a really enjoyable time learning lines and memorizing blocking. Ms. Wooldridge's third period stagecraft class made the set and the lights really worked! The set itself was just great. The story was about two elderly ladies doing rather bad activities. They killed old men. Fond memories were made on stage and back stage. Many people were involved including the two directors, Mrs. Moss and Ms. Wooldridge, and fourteen cast members, as well as the backstage crew and the make-up artists. The cast rehearsed for two months and at times it got a little hairy, but as with all Wawasee productions, the show was a great success!

IntramuralBasketball

Are you ready for intramurals

Intramural Basketball kicked off their new season in January. The program was put together by Mr. Eby, the new director of intramurals. They had fourteen teams come out including the one faculty team. Teams played on Sunday afternoons, and there were two courts in use for four different sessions. Fellow students volunteered to be the referees. At the end of the regular season, playoffs were scheduled to determine the champions. Team names definitely showed creativity with one exception. These names included All Ameriken; Playaz' Club II; Icky, Icky, Icky; Forever Hustlin; Just Another Team; PlayHataHataz'; The Terrorists; N.P.A; Dirt Destroyers; Mugins; The Yellow Submarines; Bravos Company Commanders; Runs With Scissors; and Faculty.

SpringMusical

Was Joseph full of color?

The annual spring musical was a production of the world's most colorful musical: Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. Students made fond memories while they practiced, painted, or played in the pit orchestra. Mrs. Becky Moss, Mr. Ray Moss, Mrs. Cyndi Thornburg, and Miss Kristin Wooldridge directed Joseph and it was performed on three evenings. The story of Joseph is found in the book of Genesis in the Bible, and Andrew Lloyd Webber and Tim Rice adapted it into a musical. The students finished with colorful memories that would stay with them all through their lives. It was a rainbow of color, music, dancing, and of course dreams. The students would never forget memories of late night rehearsals, the set, and the show itself. It was a technicolor dream come true!

Can you administrate?

The Wawasee High School administrators could. The administrators had yet another busy year keeping Wawasee up to its high standards. The administrative staff consisted of Mr. Alan Frank, principal; Mr. Dave Matz, assistant principal; Mr. Gene Mitz, dean of students; and Ms. Mary Hurley, athletic director. Mr. Frank was involved in a new tradition being started at Wawasee called the principal's SRC advisory meeting. This was a monthly meeting where Mr. Frank met with SRC officers to discuss issues. This meeting was informative for Mr. Frank and Wawasee students. Mr. Matz continued to look for new ways to improve students, staff, and curriculum. This was definitely a good year for this because Wawasee was up for its evaluation by NCA-PBA. These were organizations which visit schools every six years to evaluate their effectiveness. Mr. Mitz had another excellent year of helping students out and always making sure they were safe. He had a little help with the addition of a new administrator. Mr. Chris Rager was Wawasee High School's first resource officer. His main job was to keep Wawasee safe, and he did a great job. Last, but not least, was Ms. Mary Hurley who had an exciting year leading the Wawasee athletic teams. The teams were very successful which made her job enjoyable.

ArtDepartment

Where's the paint?

The art department offered students a variety of classes including 3-D design, basic art, ceramics, painting, and more. Students were also able to take photography. In this class the students learned the art of taking pictures and how to develop their own film. Another unique class that was offered was ceramics. In this class students made a variety of projects out of clay. Students worked on various projects throughout the year to be displayed and judged at the spring art show. A new addition to the art department was Mr. Eby, who took over for the retired Mr. Johnson. With the new teacher came the opportunity to bring new ideas and possibly offer new classes and teach new techiniques.

WawaseeBand

Is that tuned?

Wawasee band members were very active. The director of the band was Mr. Clark and Mr. Ziegler assisted him. They participated in the halftime show at the football games in the fall as usual. Their theme for their competition was music by Leonard Bernstein. Their program had three parts to it. The first part was Chi-chester; the second part was Simple Songs, and the last part was excerpts from the Mass. They participated in eight different competitions during September and October including district and regionals. They placed in every single competition they participated in. In the fall, they worked hard every morning from 6:30 through first period to perfect their show and their shift movements. Overall, the Wawasee High School band had a tremendous and busy year.

BusinessDepartment

So what's the bottom line?

It was another busy year in the business department. Mrs. Miller handled the computer application and accounting courses. Mr. Schutz worked with the students in his keyboarding classes. He was also in charge of the FBLA club. Mr. Murphy taught the business classes such as introduction to marketing and advanced business. Mr. Murphy was also the leader of the Wawasee DECA chapter and coordinated the cooperative education program, also known as I.C.E. Mr. Metcalf had the responsibility of heading up the department as the business and vocational departments merged into a new department named career/technical /business department. The business teachers made it a successful year to prepare students for their future.

SchoolChoirs

Can you sing?

Once again choir proved to be an important part of Wawasee High School. Choir allowed students to have fun while entertaining the community, giving many students a chance to perform in numerous concerts and shows. The choirs, along with the orchestra and show choirs, did a great job at the Christmas festival, performed for the community. They also did a show at Oakwood. In March the choirs participated in the corporation music festival. The high school choirs along with the middle school choirs performed songs from theatre. The choirs also competed in competitions and contests including the ISSMA contest where they placed first in level three.

ForeignLanguage

What did you say?

The foreign language department had another successful year using the story-telling method to learn new vocabulary and the proper grammar needed to speak correctly. They also used many games, pictures and other exciting and innovative ways to learn other languages. The department consisted of three Spanish teachers: Mrs. Smoker, Mrs. Yargosz and Mrs. Bruce; one German teacher, Mrs. Baird; and one French teacher, Mrs. Hursh. Sixteen German students raised money and prepared to go to Germany from June 26 to July 27, 2000. During the months of March and April, exchange students from both Germany and France visited WHS to learn about life in the U.S. and northern Indiana.

GuidanceDepartment

What's your schedule?

▲ 1

It was another successful year for the guidance counselors and special needs teachers. Ms. Angle had students whose last names started with A-G; Mrs. Preheim had H-O; and Mr. Hunsberger had P-Z. The guidance department gained a new secretary this year, Mrs. Judy. She was in charge of newsletters and scholarship information. In their schedule this year guidance was in charge of Istep testing in both September and March; sign up for summer school in April; and honors day June 2nd. Guidance was looking forward to the new Winschool system for scheduling, and was considering what a trimester schedule would involve. Ms. Angle also stated the educational-careers committee was making a lot of progress. The special needs department also gained a new faculty member, Mrs. Sautter.

HomeEconomics

What's for dinner?

The home ec department offered more than just foods to help students meet their needs as consumers and adults. In child development class they worked with children from conception through five years. These were the students who were seen in the halls and classes before Christmas break with small children in tow. This class also made games for small children as well as learning first aid for crisis situations. In interior design, students visited several unique homes in the area as well as designing a dream home as a semester project. Foods I & II students were those responsible for creating the wonderful smells in the hallways. They learned the importance of nutrition as well as decorating cakes, creating foreign foods, and making the meals for the athletic sectional lunches. Family, friends, dating and marriage were the topics of the family relations class. Crisis situations found in families were addressed as well as any other current family issues. The traditional sewing classes were also offered where students learned to sew a garment, and cross-stitch as well as make a teddy bear from fabric scraps. Students enrolled in home ec had a variety of classes from which to choose.

IndustrialTechnology

What is your design?

Industrial technology students were very active and were involved in many projects. They had a variety of classes to choose from taught by Mr. Coblentz and Mr. J. Schmidt. Classes offered included energy systems, introduction to industrial technology, Material and Process I & II, and building construction. Also available for students were design CAD and design drafting in which they used the computer systems to design and draw different projects. They kept busy all year, involved in many projects. They built a shed that was raffled at one of the football games in the fall. They also built a super mileage vehicle to compete with other super mileage cars in Indianapolis. They designed yo-yo's to sell to other students. The industrial technology teachers did an excellent job preparing students in this field of education.

LanguageArts

Can you read and write?

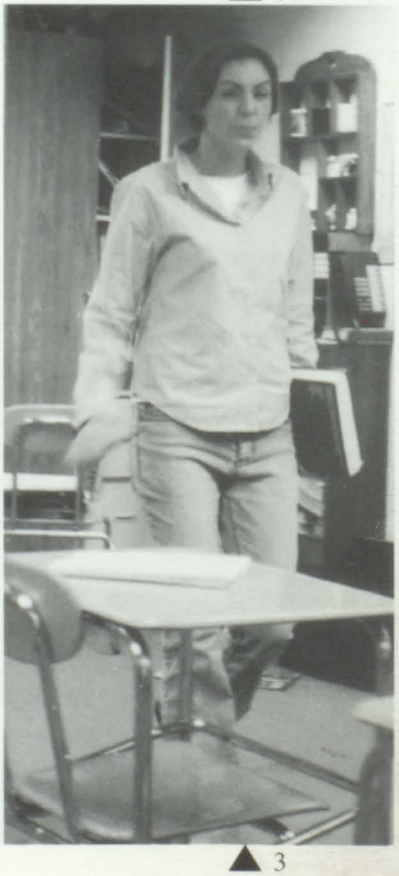

The English Department accomplished many things throughout the year. They added two new teachers this year. The new additions were Miss Schenker and Mr. Schmidt. They were both excellent teachers and were liked by the students. The English department also introduced many new concepts. They assigned videos that were made by the students. Some of the students also designed their own websites. Several teachers also introduced the concept of The Six Pillars of Character. Silent free reading day encouraged reading for pleasure. Several of the language teachers had it at least once a week. The goal of the Language Arts department was to increase each student's ability to communicate both in speech and writing.

LRCAudiovisual

Does the LRC help you?

The LRC continued their main job of helping students in all different ways. Mrs. Keifer and Mr. Guinther were the librarians. One new improvement they received was a new, OCE 3163 copier machine, right before Christmas break. It helped everyone, from teachers to students. Teachers could send information from their computers in class to have it copied by the new copier at any time. The LRC also remained open after school hours on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays until 5:00PM. The production studio improved throughout the year. The students produced daily announcements during 3rd hour; that was a time to catch up on all the events that had taken place the previous evening as well as the events to come.

MathDepartment

What's your angle?

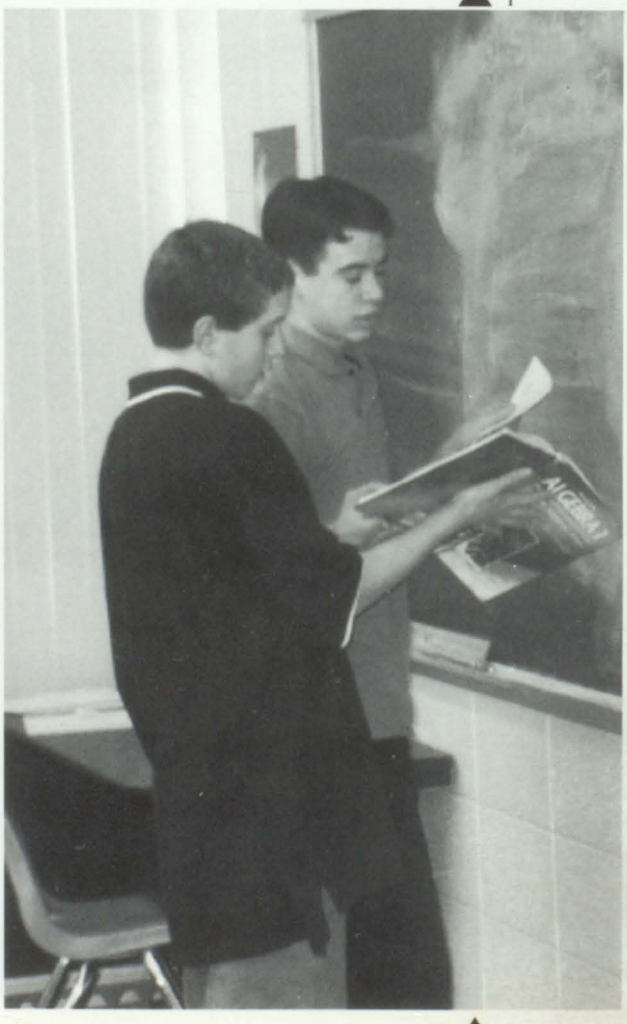

The math department continued to refine its curriculum and work on meeting the objectives set by the state. In order to inform the public of this, the math department posted reports of students' progress on the school's web site. The math department underwent some changes in staff as well. Miss Kline moved from the science department to become a full-time math teacher. Mr. Hassan divided his time between the math department and the science department. A new teacher to the high school, but not to the corporation, was Mrs. Harris. She transferred to WHS after 15 years at other schools. During Miss Kline's leave of absence, Mr. Lea filled in for six weeks. The math curriculum offered courses from pre-algebra through AP calculus, something for everyone.

Smoke Signals

Can you come up with a story?

▲ 1

Smoke Signals, the school newspaper, was a great success. It was full of great stories, and the group worked well together. They all enjoyed their new adviser Ms. Schenker. Returning staff member Sandy Drake was the editor-in-chief. Her assistant editor was Adam Drent, while the staff writers included Gennie Brissette, Karrie Zolman, Sidney White, Pam Carlin, Katie Sabones, Adam Settingsgaard, Rochelle Valentine, Ryan Cox, Matt Pedersen, Kalina Salazar, and Amber Lyon. The head photographer was Katie Sabones. The staff pasted up the paper using Pagemaker and digital photographs and then sent it to the New Paris Farmer's Exchange for publication. They successfully put out one newspaper a month.

OfficePersonnel

May I help you?

The office personnel had a variety of responsibilities. A new computer program, WinSchool, allowed the secretaries to provide quick and accurate information on each student's schedule, grades, and attendance. In the guidance office a new secretary was hired. Mrs. Judy worked part-time and helped out with scholarships, ISTEP+, college applications, and honors day. The nurses continued to help with everyday emergencies as well as once again sponsoring the bloodmobile visit. Mrs. Olszewski kept things running smoothly in the attendance office while Mrs. Bultemeier and Mrs. Bruch in the main office handled everything from the switchboard to work permits to Valentine's Day flowers. Being a member of the office staff at WHS was no small task.

WawaseeOrchestra

Do you like the sounds?

Orchestra's year consisted of concerts, contests, and new music selections. The orchestra was a combination of the full orchestra and the strings group. The orchestra performed in the annual Christmas concert and the ISSMA organizational contest at West Noble. The strings also performed new pieces this year that consisted of many different styles and time periods. These selections included Korsakoff's "Snow Maiden," Williams' "Rhosymedre," and Corelli's "Christmas Concerto." The orchestra played many different songs and they competed in several contests. Those students in orchestra improved tremendously throughout the year. They worked hard and dedicated their time towards playing their instrument.

PhysicalEducation

Are you physically fit?

Physical Education was a course that most freshmen looked forward to participating in during their first semester. There was also another requirement of a second semester anytime before graduation. PE had a large variety of options to take part in. There were lifetime activities, team sports, and regular PE. Other electives were weight lifting, lifeguarding, and PE plus classes. This educational program also offered an athletic training course. It gave students the opportunity to work in real live situations in the field of sports when there was an injury. Also, another part of taking a PE class was learning community CPR and the different life saving techniques. It had become a tradition in physical education to have an annual triathlon. Every student worked hard to prepare for this big event and the participation and enthusiasm were excellent.

ScienceDepartment

What is your experiment?

In the science department there were many changes. They started the year off with new textbooks that pleased most of the teachers. Along with the new books came new programs and a whole new way of teaching. There was also a new head of the department, Mrs. Schumm. Also new teachers were added to the science faculty: Mr. Berger, was new to WHS, and Mr. Hassan taught in both the math and science departments. He took over Mr. R. Kitson's physics classes, because Mr. Kitson took an administrative position at Fairfield High School. With all the changes in the science department, they decided to drop the pigeon dissection, but not to worry. The pig dissection in Mr. Kieper's human phys class was still a big hit.

ShowChoirs

Can you sing and dance?

The music department had a very interesting year with the new addition of a show choir. What used to be called Varsity Singers was now the Wawasee Show Choir. The Show Choir performed many performances and concerts around the area. They were heard at Oakwood Inn at Christmas and various other small community concerts during the holiday season. They prepared a Christmas concert and Spring Pops show while also performing in the ISSMA state choir contest and receiving a 1st in 3rd division. Another Wawasee choir that performed at ISSMA state choir contest was the Dream Company. Members of Dream Company also participated in solo and small ensemble competition. They too performed at the Christmas and spring concerts and made various musical performances around the area.

SocialScience

Do you remember?

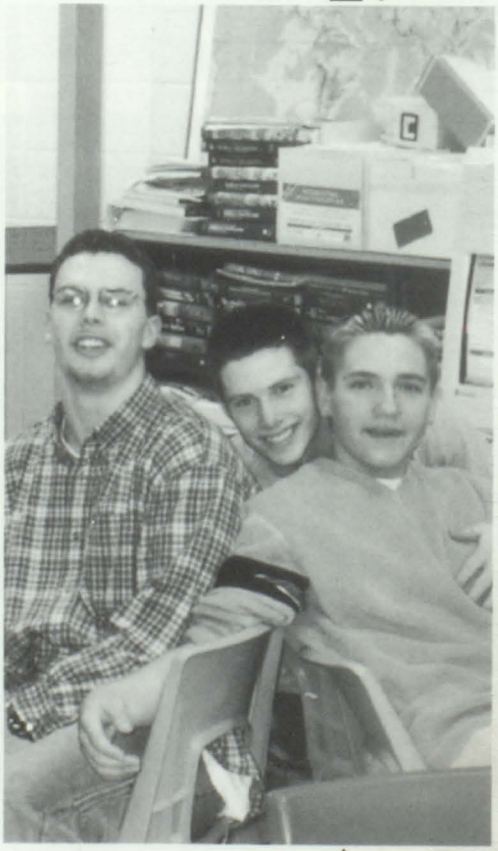

The social sciences gave students the opportunity to learn not only about history, but explore the future. Seniors in economics worked in the new computer lab with the Internet and other programs to help prepare for the future. Seniors also learned about the government and laws in government class. Juniors in Mr. Karns's and Mr. Taylor's classes studied U.S. history and did many projects. Sophomores in Mr. Aalbregtse's world civilization class studied many different cultures and events from the past. In world geography, students studied many parts of the world and maps. There were two new additions to the social science staff. Mrs. Myers taught government and Mr. Taylor taught U.S. history.

SupportStaff

Can you cook and clean?

The cooks and custodians of Wawasee High School had an awesome year. The cooks accomplished many things. The cooks were able to meet the dietary needs of most students at the school. They also made the cafeteria a pleasant environment to be in. They always tried to get every student what he or she needed as fast as they could. They were always prepared and were always there, even to talk.

The custodians also did many things. They were always there for the teachers as well as the students. They helped to construct and tear down convocations. They also helped to fix the lights in rooms, or tried to keep the temperature of the rooms comfortable. They were always there to clean the halls and rooms at night. The cooks and custodians were very helpful, and it was appreciated.

VocationalDepartment

Ready to work?

The vocational department had a new look after the retirement of Mrs. Huber at the end of last year. Mr. Phil Metcalf took over the director's role and did a great job. Mr. Warren continued to teach agriculture classes, and they had another successful year. Mr. Craig was back again to teach autos. As past years, Autos I was offered for the first three periods of the day and Autos II the last three periods. The class also attended Track Day at Indianapolis Motor Speedway, where they entered a car they built. Mr. Waltz's building trades class had a very exciting year. They built yet another beautiful house. This house was located in Deer Creek Estates just south of Syracuse. Building Trades I worked on the house in the morning, and the Building Trades II in the afternoon. Wawasee students once again took part in the cosmetology program at Fairfield High School.

WHSYearbook

Can you create a Legend?

The yearbook staff had a fun yet challenging time. They started the first semester with phoning and visiting local businesses for the ads section of the yearbook. The yearbook staff selected a theme tying in with the millenium and the final decision was "Are you ready?" Second semester was when things really started to come together. The cover was designed by everyone on the yearbook staff. They chose the globe to represent the future. The staff members were responsible for all layouts and deadlines, which was very stressful. But working together as a group and helping each other with deadlines made this challenge a little easier. Putting the Legend together was a tedious but rewarding task. The crew put together a creative and memory-filled yearbook for the new millenium.

ArtClub

Can you draw?

Mrs. Bryan along with Mr. Eby brought the art club back and they participated in a variety of events. The art club experienced a new refreshing year. They carved pumpkins in October to take home with them for the Halloween season. A few of the members of the art club went to Chicago in December to view pieces of art in the museums. They all enjoyed the chance to get away. The art club also took a field trip to The Old Bag Factory for artistic purposes. The whole point of the art club was to expand students' artistic and creative abilities, and they succeeded with flying colors. The art club provided an opportunity for those students interested in art to travel to different places to see a variety of artistic works.

Do you enjoy helping?

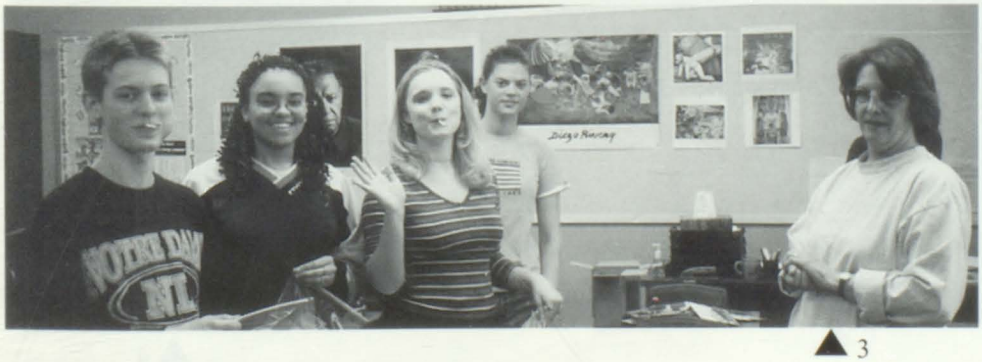

▲ 1

Amy Vanlaningham Society had a slow but good second year. One of the highlights of their year was getting a new sponsor. Mrs. Yargosz took the place of Mr. VanDrie in helping with all the activities that the club chose to participate in. AVS did a lot of small things like making packs of coloring books with crayons for needy children. They collected the books and crayons and put them into plastic bags for the children.

One of the other activities they sponsored was a shoe drive at Christmas time. The club also tried to focus on releasing the tension between all groups in the high school, not just those connected to racism. The club's goal was and always has been to improve the lifestyle of Wawasee students and the community. AVS continued its legacy of trying to maintain a tension free environment for all to live in.

ChessClub

Is that a check mate?

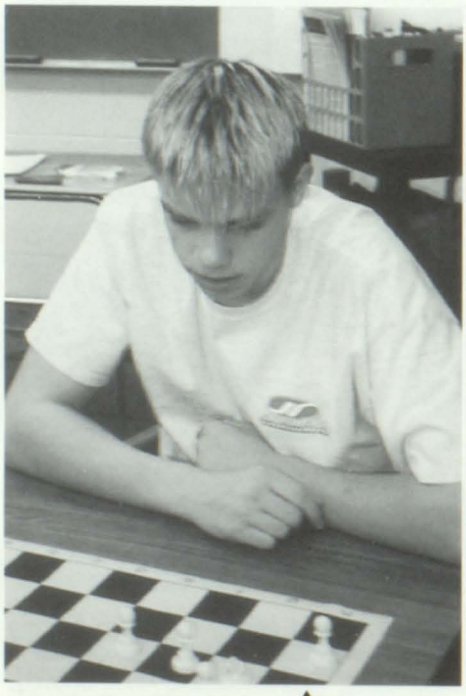

The newest club at Wawasee High School was the chess club. They were sponsored by Mrs. Baird. They met very frequently, playing at least once a day. Members played after school on Tuesday and Thursday, and also before school on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. Mrs. Baird not only was a sponsor, but played. This was a club not just for the student, but also the faculty. Mr. Mitz was one of the staff members who took part in the spring tournament, even though he fell to Patty Stroebel in the second round. The spring tournament was one of three that were put on. Each tourney was determined on time and a point system in which each piece being taken was worth several points, and the time limit was thirty minutes. Players also had to stick with a piece once they touched it. Chess club had three officers: Brandon Boyts, Andy Popenfoose, and Patty Stroebel.

DECAClub

What's your business here?

The DECA club had a successful year with 42 members. They started off doing their yearly fundraisers including the pretzel and pizza sales. They also sold 50/50 tickets during basketball season. The regional competition was held in the Scottsdale Mall in South Bend. Out of the 42 members, 31 members qualified for state competition in Indianapolis March 12-14. Of the 30 DECA club members that competed at state, three qualified for nationals. R.J. Wilson placed fourth in Marketing Management Services. Paul Gilliam and Sam Korenstra placed second in Financial Services. Paul and Sam then placed 4th in the nation at the national DECA competition held in Louisville, Kentucky. Officers for DECA were president Paul Gilliam; vice-president, Sam Korenstra; and Paige Gerber and Toby Witmer were treasurers. The Wawasee DECA leader was Mr. Murphy.

How dramatic are you?

▲ 1

The drama club had a fun-filled year. They started off the year with the fall play, Arsenic and Old Lace. This play had a cast of 15, and many members were involved with helping on stage-craft, participating in orchestra, and doing make-up for the cast members. The drama club held many fundraisers, one of which included the traditional Data Match. In December the club went on a field trip to Chicago to watch AIDA. They also went to Warsaw High School to the Viva La Theater competition. Brandon Magid performed and received a high distinction award. The drama club also helped with the musical Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat. This musical had a cast of 55. While some members of the drama club participated in this outstanding performance, others helped organize, worked the concessions, and ushered. The Future Business Leaders of America club had another busy year with many activities. They sold floppy hats and pamphlets that had a scratch off game. The club also had a dunk tank at the Milford Festival. In the fall FBLA members attended a conference at Yorktown High School. The conference was designed to allow the members to share ideas between chapters and learn about their career fields as well. In the spring-time all the club members attended a South Bend Silver Hawks baseball game. Mr. Schutz was in charge of club. Fellowship of Christian Athletes was an organization directed toward student-athletes. FCA dealt with many issues facing student-athletes. They discussed topics such as Bible study, how to handle coaches or teammates, or just every day life in general. The club met every Thursday morning before school. The club participated in group activities such as taking trips to Ft. Wayne to see the Fury play. Mr. Company was in charge of Fellowship of Christian Athletes; however, he chose to let the students mainly lead themselves. There were any where from 8-30 students at each of the meetings. FutureEducators

Can you teach?

Looking to the future and a career in education, FEA members were involved in activities that would aid them in becoming the teachers of tomorrow. In the fall FEA members participated in an observation day in elementary and middle school classrooms where they assisted teachers and assumed the roles of a teacher. This was a great experience and FEAers enjoyed the first-hand experience of working with the children. In February the FEA members were peer teachers in the American Lung Association's Smoking Education Program, teaching fifth graders across the corporation about the effects of smoking on the respiratory system. This was the 27th year that FEA had participated in the program, more than any South Bend area school. The officers were as follows: president, Julie Blakeslee; vice president, Hayley Van Lue; secretary, Amy Likens; treasurer, Sandy Drake. The sponsor for FEA was Terry Iden.

FFA was involved in many activities. They had a record 16 members qualify for state soils competition in the fall. From the group, eight traveled to Oklahoma in May to compete in the national contest. Food for America was conducted in May where local 2nd graders were taught where food comes from. They also did the nature trail, test plots, and the senior scholarship project. Livestock, dairy, and horse judging teams did very well. For fund raising they had their annual member auction. Overall, FFA had a great year. Officers were president, Shad Krull; vice president, Katy Schlipf; treasurer, Cheryl Grady; secretary, Matt Roberts; sentinel, Shana Krull; reporter, Kariann Plikerd; and they were sponsored by Mr. Warren.

JazzBand

Do you enjoy playing music?

The Wawasee jazz band continued the tradition of playing music at a few of the girls' and boys' basketball games this season. In order to join the club, each member had to perform a series of auditions. The selected members then contributed several hours of their free time every week towards making the group as good as possible. At the games the jazz band acted as an inspirational motivator for not only the players, but the spectators as well. They livened up the basketball games with the power of good music. The jazz band was directed by Mr. Clark. The band was in charge of making sure that the crowd was pumped up. It was their job to react at crucial moments during the games and insure crowd participation. They also performed during the time outs and accompanied the cheerleaders with music during the pre-game and half-time. Jazz band allowed students to study music and display their individual as well as team playing skills. This was an excellent opportunity for students to learn about music first hand.

KeyClub

Do you help the community?

Mrs. Pletcher was the sponsor of Key Club again. The students who were in the club helped the community in a variety of ways. Key Club members participated in the Big Brothers and Sisters activities and also helped with the Red Cross Bloodmobile. Members often volunteered for community service. The Key Club also helped out at the Wawasee Kiwanis hot shot basketball contest, penny pitch, concessions for boys' basketball and the fall carnival at North Webster Elementary School. Key Club members went to Riley Hospital and helped out with "Kamps for Kids," for which they raised $200 dollars. Members also traveled to International Conventions in Chicago, Illinois, and Orlando, Florida. The president was Anita Doherty; the vice-president was Sarah Creps; the secretary was Marie Boyer; and the treasurer was Katy Doherty.

Who's honorable?

This was a quiet year for the National Honor Society. In March they held their induction ceremony and welcomed 36 juniors into the club. To become part of National Honor Society and remain a member, students must have a GPA of 9.5 with recommendations from their teachers. After they were accepted into the National Honor Society, they were required to complete five hours of community service. Members helped Key Club count and process the money collected from the students for penny pitch at Christmas. Their sponsor was Mrs. Martin. The president was Katie Jones, and the vice-president was Jennifer DePlanty. The secretary was Staci Weisser.

StudentCouncil

Who's your representative?

▲ 1

This was a great year for the student council. Student council members were very organized and attended meetings two times a month. The main class officers met with Mr. Frank monthly. This group was called the Principal's Advisory Committee. SRC sponsored many activities. They sponsored the Sweetheart Dance, So Long Seniors Week, and Homecoming. At Christmas time these students gave their hearts to many people. They sponsored a can drive for the community food bank. Also at Christmas they invited children from LifeLine for a party with Santa and presents. They enjoyed games and face painting. NHS also had a shoe drive for those people who could not afford shoes. Paul Gilliam was student body president and Sam Korenstra was vice-president.

Boys'Soccer

Are you ready to score?

The boys' soccer team had a wonderful year. The varsity record was 7-6-3 while the JV also had a good year with a 7-4-3 record. Coach Terry Skaggs was the JV coach again, and Paul Boyd was the head coach for varsity. Captains were Kyle Swihart and Ryan Skaggs. In the sectional match up the Warriors played hard. They won the first game and ended up losing the last game to Carroll. Carroll had beaten the '98 state champs earlier in their season, so the Warriors had a good experience playing against them. In the conference standings they were placed 3rd. Varsity award winners were MVP, Sam Shipley; coach's award, Ross Heil; outstanding defensive player, Kyle Swihart; most improved, Alex Hernandez; outstanding offensive player, Matt Klaassen; outstanding midfield, Ryan Skaggs; coach's award-JV, Kris Shipley.

Girls' Golf

Where's the green?

This year's Lady Warrior golf team had a rebuilding season with a new coach Mr. Scott DeHart. Despite the loss of two key players, the Lady Warriors posted an 8-17 record. Their goal for this year was to shoot under 200 as a team. They accomplished that goal at Eaton Creek golf course with a 195-team score. The team consisted of 7 players. There were five varsity and two junior varsity players. The top five players were Ashley Ward, Ashley Bell, Rebecca Stoelting, Carrie Alles, and Aimee Niles. The junior varsity consisted of Shauna Magid and Ashley McGowen. Ashley Ward stated that "for having such a young team and a new coach, we had a great year." The award winners were MVP, Ashley Ward; outstanding JV player, Shauna Magid; rookie of the year, Rebecca Stoelting; mental attitude, Ashley Bell; most improved, Carrie Alles.

Boys' CrossCountry

Are you ready to run, boys?

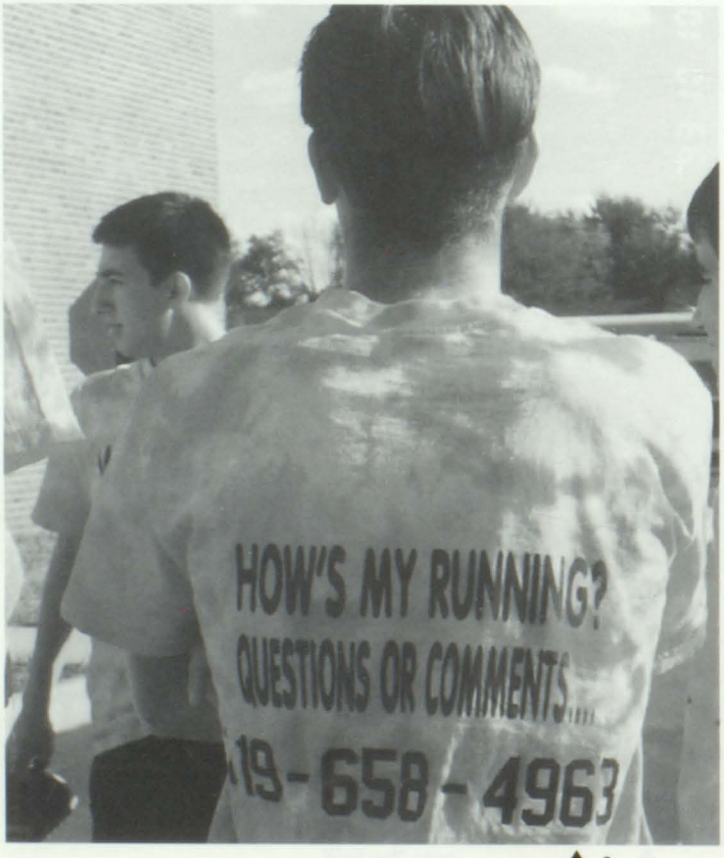

The Wawasee boys' cross country team had an excellent season. There were fifteen members for the boys' team. They went undefeated in the regular season. Because the boys ran their hardest and tried their best, they also tied in NLC's for first place. These Warrior runners ran as one; this allowed them to keep their tradition going by winning sectionals for the second year in a row at Oxbow. Junior Rob Chalfant placed tenth at semi-state. He then continued to run at state in Bloomington and placed 41 out of 177. The captains were Jerid Stoffel and Andrew Waugh. Dave Stookey and Kevin Gilbert coached the team for the Wawasee boys. The MVP and low point award went out to Rob Chalfant. Jerid Stoffel received low point runner-up award, and George Coquillard received the most improved award. Flaco Perales got the coaches' award for the freshmen and Ryan Stichter received the coaches' award.

Girls' CrossCountry

Do you want to run?

The girls' cross country team finished a challenging season with a 1-8 record overall. They finished seventh at the sectionals. There was a lot of new interest this year with six new runners for the team. The girls had the chance the previous summer to participate in a running camp that was held in Brown County. Senior Jenni Gunden said, "It was so much fun!" Some other highlights of the season were placing 3rd at the Hokem-Karem Invitational held at the Hoke Memorial Park in Goshen and beating rival Concord at the sectional meet which had been one of their main goals for the year. Award winners were MVP, Jenni Gunden; low point, Jenni Gunden; low point runner-up, Alicia Henderson; coaches' award, Mandie Sawyer; most improved, Julie Blakeslee.

Boys'Tennis

How's your serve?

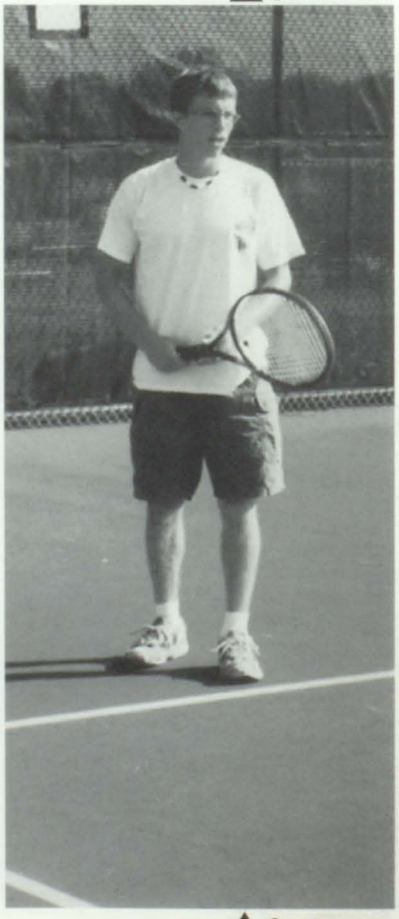

The boys' tennis team had a challenging yet exciting year. Their final varsity record had a total of 4 wins and 13 losses. Interest in tennis grew due to the increasing number of freshmen going out for the team. Two freshmen, Josh Abrams and Evan Gerard, started on the varsity team. They were excellent new help. The two seniors who played on the varsity were Kyle Farrell and Carter Ploszek. They contributed greatly to the team with their experience and leadership. The managers for the team, Ashley Ganz and Kate Murphy, helped out considerably. Coach Phil Mishler returned as head coach with assistant coach Roger Brady coming into his first year. The award winners were MVP, Kyle Farrell; most improved, Carter Ploszek; frosh award, Evan Gerard; JV award, Josh Abrams; most wins (10), Mickey Ashpole and Logan Pilcher.

Girls' Swimming

What's your stroke?

The girls' swim team finished another exciting year coached by Roger Karns, assistant coaches Terry Davis and Heather Paradis, and diving coach Dawn Guimond. Their record was 6-6. The team had a rebuilding year with a large group of new swimmers. Seniors Laura Karns and Gennie Brissette were the captains for the team. Laura Karns also led the team with such honors as all-NLC and sectional champion in the 50 freestyle. She represented Wawasee at the state competition with a fine effort. The highlight for the season was the sectional competition held at Warsaw. The girls placed 3rd and gave 100% effort. Award winners for the season were MVP and high point, Laura Karns; coaches' award, Diane Jackson; 110% award, Rebekah Judy; most improved, Amber Lyon.

Boys' Basketball

Shoot much?

The boys' basketball team had a much improved record of 6-15 (3-4 in the NLC). The team was under new leadership with first year coach Robb Berger taking the head coaching position. A core of four seniors also led the team. One of them, Jeremy High, took all-NLC honors and made the second team all-area squad. The highlight of the boys' season was beating the ninth ranked team in the state, the Plymouth Rockies. The team fought hard to the end all season. This was shown in the triple overtime loss to Angola and the overtime loss to state ranked Bremen. Their season ended with a loss to a very talented NorthWood team at sectionals. End of the season awards went to Jeremy High, MVP; Drew Gradle, leadership award; Andrew Packer, most improved. The junior varsity record was 11-9, and the freshman team was 12-5. The freshmen also finished 3rd in the NLC tournament by ending the season with a win over Concord.

The Wawasee girl's basketball team had a great season under second year coach Mr. Zolman, who won the area coach of the year honors. They finish their season with a 15-8 record and captured a sectional title. They were also regional runner-ups. The team was led by sophomore Shanna Zolman who led the state in scoring. The junior varsity team finished their season with a 14-6 record. They also won the Wawasee J.V. invite. The freshmen finished their regular season with an 11-5 record. Award winners were Shanna Zolman, who captured M.V.P; Jessica Leach received the rebound award; Dusty Krull received the assist award; Viki Hunziker received the mental attitude award; Kayla Auer received the J.V. award; and Jocelyn Higgenbotham received the freshman award.

WrestlingTeam

Want to wrestle?

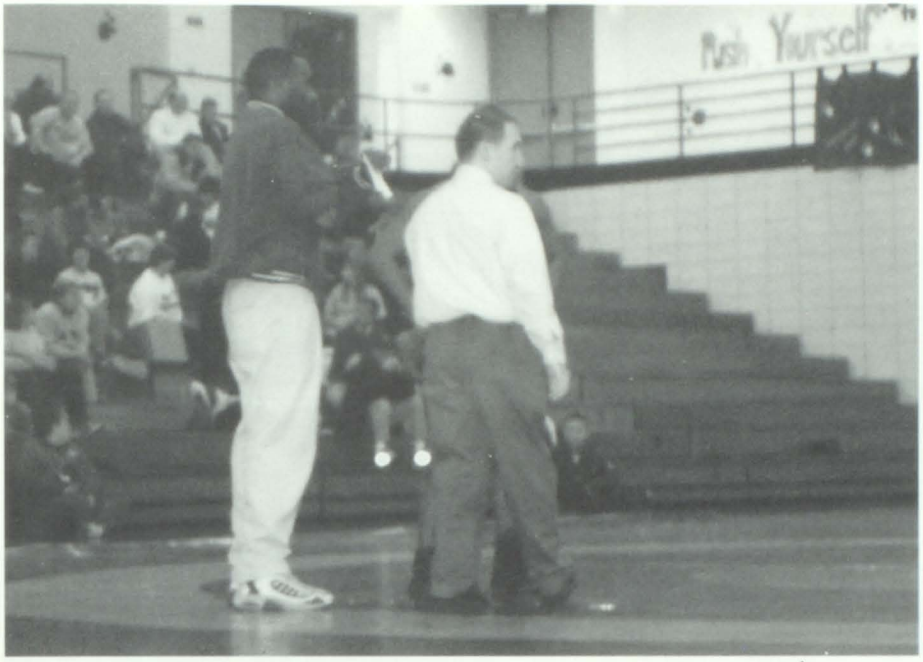

The Warrior wrestling team had a rebuilding season. They had to start out a whole new perspective with a new coach, Mr. Kevin Taylor. They won six matches and lost eleven, and they placed sixth in the NLC standings. They also were East Noble Sectional Champs. They took three wrestlers to the semi-state level that was held in Fort Wayne, Indiana. Award winners were MVP, Tom Bryan; mental attitude award/most take downs, Josh Roa; most improved wrestler, Mike Hanlin; rookie of the year, Eric Vallejo. The managers were Shyla Belin, Dannie Goldenberg, Brittney Tenny, Steve Mikolajczak, Katie Taylor, Kassie Knisley.

GymnasticsTeam

Can you tumble?

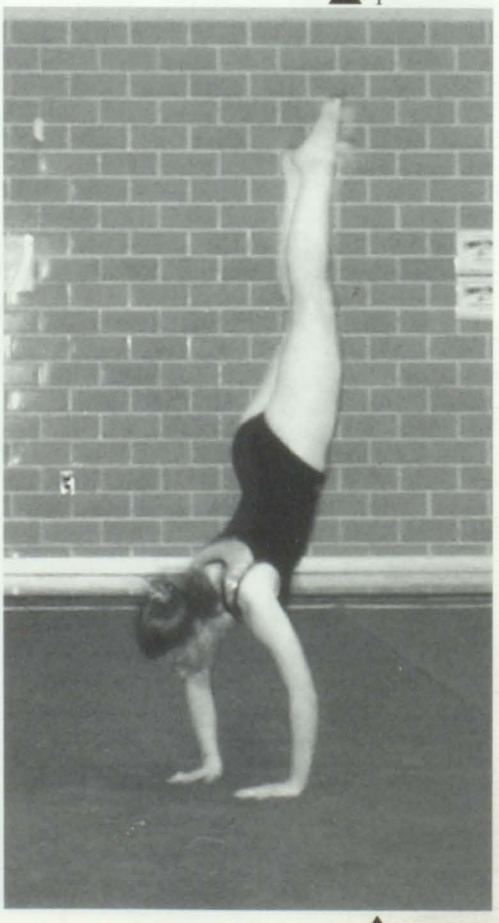

The gymnastics team finished another excellent year with a record of 9-5. The team was coached by Nika Prather. One of the highlights of the season was the last home meet against Plymouth in which the Lady Warrior gymnasts came out as the victors. The three seniors, Angie Beer, Lisa Ummel, and Katie Brown, were also honored that night. Senior Lisa Ummel was the team's captain. At the sectional competition held at Wawasee, the gymnasts fell short and placed second as a team but advanced to regionals. Angie Beer placed second on beam and third all-around, and Katie Brown placed third on floor and received fifth all-around. The award winners were MVP, Angie Beer; coaches' award, Katie Brown; drive, desire, dedication award, Lisa Ummel; most improved, Twilight Wolfinger; outstanding JV award, Mandie Pachynski.

Boys' Baseball

Is that a strike?

The boys' baseball team looked to have another successful year. The team was led by a core of six seniors. The record as of mid-season was 7-7. Senior pitcher Drew Gradle led the way with a 3-1 record and 50 strikeouts. His one and only loss was a tough one in eight innings to Warsaw 1-0. Other standouts were R.J. Wilson, Brian Milligan, and Ronnie Black. The team started out the season with a win over Bethany Christian and a split with Manchester. They went 2- 1 on their spring break trip beating both Charleston and Clarksville. Charleston was ranked in the state and provided a big win for the season. "This team was a close group. We enjoyed playing everyday, and our main goal was to win but have fun while doing it," said Drew Gradle. The squad competed in the Angola sectional.

Girls' Softball

How hard can you swing?

The softball season started with conditioning February 28. The actual season began with the varsity team's first game on March 30 against Elkhart Central and came to an end with sectional week the first week in June. As of early May, the varsity softball team was having a good season with a record of 6 wins and 5 losses. Mr. O'Dell was the head coach and Mr. Schutz was the assistant for the varsity team. The J.V. team started their season off well. The team was coached by Jennifer Morgan who was assisted by Sue White. Senior Tara Hymer stated, "I have a lot of faith in the team. All the girls get along well and play well together. The team is making my senior year enjoyable." Junior Kim Morgan also stated, "I love being part of the team. We all get along. We have really come a long way to be able to play as a team."

Girls' Tennis

Where's your racquet?

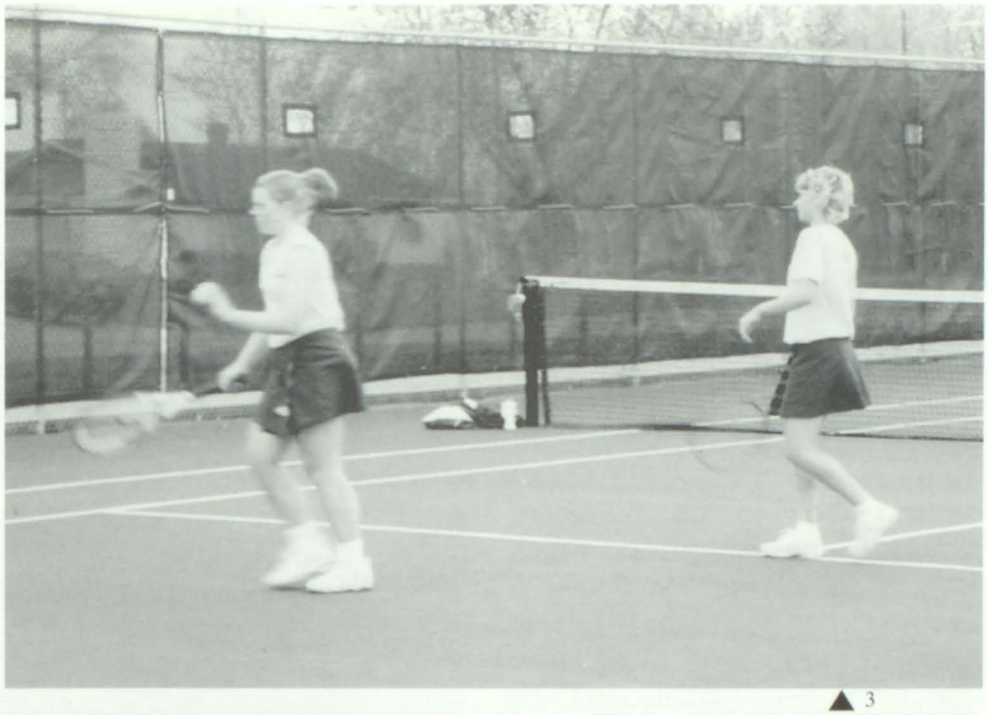

The girls' tennis team returned seven lettermen including two seniors, Mandy Perzanowski and Laura Lundin, who were also the team's captains. The coaches for the team were Coach Mishler and Assistant Coach Peterson. Because of an impressive amount of interest from the freshmen and sophomore classes, there was a full squad for the varsity and junior varsity level. The tennis team started the season out strong with a record of 5-0. They posted an important NLC win against Concord early in the season. The girls won a sectional title for the 2nd time in Wawasee tennis history, but lost in the 2nd round of regionals. Senior Mandy Perzanowski took a perfect season record into individual regional play, but fell in the second round leaving her with a 25-1 record.

Boys' Track

What's your time?

The boys' track team looked at the 1999-2000 season as a rebuilding one. They had four returning lettermen. First year head coach Jim Wallace led them. Their sprinters and throwers also had first year coaches who were Coach Magid (sprinters) and Coach Schmidt (throwers). Returning Coach Stookey coached the distance runners. At the end of April the track team had a record of one win and four losses. Coach Schmidt stated, "They have practiced hard everyday to improve themselves and to beat their personal records." Senior Tom Bryan commented, "This season was to be a record breaking one for me and I was looking to win sectional with a great throw with the discus." Team captains were Matt Binns, Tom Bryan, Jerid Stoffel, and Chris Cline. The track team had a rocky start for the first half, but finished strong. Junior Rob Chalfant competed at the state meet and placed fourth in the 3200 meter run.

Girls' Track

Do you want to win?

The girls' track team began their season just as spring rolled around. It was Kevin Gilbert's second year coaching Wawasee's girls' track team. The team voted to have the seniors be this year's captains. Angie Beer, Staci Weisser, and Krista Bestul were captains. The team had a busy year with many track meets, invitationals, and much practice. Two early invitationals that they attended were indoor meets at Purdue and Notre Dame. Their most competitive meet was at Warsaw. The relay team placed second. Ashley Zumbrun was first leg in a 4 by 4 relay with a time of 63 seconds. Carisa Bennet, Abbigail Webb, and Erica Auker were also on the relay team. Their record by the first of May was 3-3. Senior Staci Weisser and junior Erica Auker competed at the state meet where Staci placed 11th in the high jump. As the back of their shirts stated, they found that "The will to win is not nearly as important as the will to prepare."

Boys'Golf

What's your handicap?

The Wawasee Warrior golf team led by Coach Deck and Steve Dodds held a record of 5-0 in dual matches at midpoint in their season. In the team's tournament play they placed first out of 15 teams in the Whitko Invitational, while placing third in the Bruin and Fuzzy Zoeller invites. Bobby Likens, Kyle Lundy, Ryan Skaggs, and Lucas White contributed strong leadership as their four returning lettermen. Stephen Conrad was a welcome addition to the team's varsity five-some. Senior golfer Ryan Skaggs commented, "We had a lot of potential and set high goals to reach state competition." The Warrior golfers' match play and their performance at their invitationals certainly set them on pace to reach their goals, but they fell in sectional action. Only freshman Stephen Conrad qualified for regionals, placing 2nd overall at sectionals.

CheerLeading

Do you have spirit?

The cheerleaders were equipped with a whole new coaching staff. The head coach was Kim Conrad; varsity/JV coach was Courtney Gordon; and the freshman coach was Barb Trobaugh. The girls cheered at football games and both boys' and girls' basketball games. They also competed in an NCA competition in January and received third place. They held two clinics that produced excellent turnouts. After the clinics the young participants performed on October 24 at a home football game and February 5 at a home basketball game. Fundraisers were held throughout the season also. The girls sold summertime products at the beginning of the school year. They had pie sales once again at Thanksgiving and ran a booth at Amish Acres art festival. Several lifters joined them for the basketball season and the season ended well. The MVP was Katie Jones; coaches' award went to Jennifer DePlanty; most outgoing lifter was Josh Nicholl; most outstanding JV award went to Kari Kuhn; and most outstanding freshman award went to Caroline Mahnensmith.

Do you know the seniors?

The millennium was the beginning of the rest of their lives for the class of 2000. During homecoming in the fall the class concentrated on having fun and making memories. The seniors "sponsored the millenium" by trying hard in all events. Their theme was clothes of the millenium. For the penny pitch in December, the class did its part to help the needy. In the spring there was prom, So Long Senior Week, and the biggest feat of their lives: graduation. The senior class officers were President Katie Jones, Vice President Colleen Hickey, and Secretary/Treasurer Aaron Allen. Members of the class council pictured below were row 1: Katie Jones, Jace Stewart, R.J. Wilson, Scott Bryan; row 2: Aaron Allen, Alicia Henderson, Beth Buhrt, Angie Beer, Colleen Hickey, Jenni Gunden; row 3: Dustin Martin, Paul Gilliam, Marc Smith, Sam Korenstra.

Did you dance the night away?

May 20, Prom night 2000, was an evening to remember. The theme was " One Starry Night" with the colors of silver and blue. The class prom sponsors and the prom committee worked hard all day Saturday arriving at Greencroft in Goshen by seven in the morning. Then it was finally time for all the seniors to appear and have the parents valet park their cars. Juniors Chris Cline and Dana Wallen announced the couple's names. Later in the evening Katie Jones, class president, led the class toast and the garter ceremony. Then came the crowning of the royalty, Beth Buhrt, queen, and Paul Gilliam, king. Prom lasted until 12:00. Then many students headed back to the high school for After Prom. Dedicated parents decorated the P.E. gym. A special guest band Spork, made up of Case Hensler, Paul Dodds, Brian Martin, Franklin Mishler, and Jon Olson, provided music. The seniors also enjoyed the video of childhood pictures prepared by Mrs. Hursh. Then the hypnotist came and performed his works on Aaron Allen, Carter Ploszek, Adam Settingsgaard, and Kyle Fisher. On Sunday morning the majority of the seniors went to the Dunes or took a trip to Chicago. All in all senior prom was a most memorable experience.

What's your next goal?

On a cool Sunday afternoon, June 4, 187 seniors marched into the spectator gym and received their diplomas or certificates. The class of 2000 was the first to be required by the state of Indiana to pass the ISTEP+ test in order to receive a diploma. Those students not passing the test received either a certificate of completion or attendance. The class of 2000 voted to include prayer in their ceremony and also selected Sarah Losee to give the invocation. Salutatorian Staci Weisser then urged her classmates to chose the "road less traveled" as they faced their futures. Valedictorian Dustin Martin spoke about their shared memories of high school and wished his class members a successful journey into their futures. After Principal Alan Frank handed the class their diplomas/certificates, the seniors turned their tassels and became graduates. Janine Champoux gave the benediction, and then the class of 2000 marched to the P.E. gym to throw their hats and celebrate their achievements.

SophomoreClass

Are you ready for sophomores?

The class of 2002 made their sophomore year one to remember. Their homecoming week turned out to be successful because of their participation. The sophomores placed first in the skit, the penny pitch, and the girls also placed first in the powderpuff games. They placed second on the murals and float as well. Overall winners for this year's homecoming activities were the sophomores. Alex Heckaman and Pete Wamsley were voted as their representatives for the homecoming court. During the spring, the sophomores also held their annual chicken barbecue to help them pay for their senior prom. The sophomore class president was Peter Wamsley and the vice-president was Monica Wilson. The secretary and treasurer was Cait Thornburg. Student council members below consisted of row 1: Kelly Bryan, Caitlin Thornburg, Mark Speakman; row 2: Peter Wamsley, Luke Speakman, Regg Beer; row 3: Katrina Schumm, Jessie Korenstra, Josh Dawes, Annette Lamb, Candice Brown.

How was your 9th grade year?

The freshman class of 2003 had a wonderful beginning to their high school career. The class of 2003 started off their year well with their participation in homecoming. During homecoming they placed first in the mural competition. They finished third over all in the homecoming activities. The freshmen voted Ashley Frericks and Kyle Lantz as representatives to the homecoming court. The class council members pictured below were row 1: Kate Rummel, Chelsea Ross, and Kelsey Bender; row 2: Tyler Karns, Kate Murphy, Caylyne DeGood, Rita Berning, and Michael Cone; row 3: Jessica Leach, Allison Scherer, Jessica Ploszek, and Kyle Lantz. The freshman officers were Tyler Karns, president; Kyle Lantz, vice-president; and Jessica Leach, secretary and treasurer.

Did you help build the Legend?

The yearbook staff had a total of 16 students. There were seven deadlines that needed to be completed by the end of the year for 208 pages. The paper was Bordeaux 80# gloss and was cut 8 1/2 x 11 inches. Herff Jones Publishers in Shawnee Mission, Kansas, printed the yearbooks. The cover had an earth tip-on, which was a new element for the yearbook staff to use. Body copy and headlines were printed in VAG rounded light. Each of the yearbooks cost students $28 and an extra $2 was paid by seniors if they wanted their names printed on the covers.

The contract price with Herff Jones was $21,133.06 for 600 copies. The school's representative was Mrs. Frances Brooks from Herff Jones. There were plenty of tasks that had to be completed by the end of the year. There were layouts that needed to be drawn, copy that had to be finished, and pictures that needed to be taken. Graduation and honors day could not be finished until the last two days of school. Thanks to the hard work, effort, and time put in by the yearbook staff, the book was delivered in time for August registration.

Do not lose your memories
Or let shadows bring in cold.
Look for new beginnings
Where mysteries unfold.
Let go of times in sorrow.
Do not let relationships fade.
Life is just starting.
There is no more masquerade.
Clear the way for tomorrow,
But be careful, too.
Take off your mask of adolescence
It is time to be true.
Open up the doors;
Do not be afraid to take a step.
Use your time wisely;
Plan what will come next.
Carpe Diem!
As they many times say.
We all need to start
And Seize the Day!
Keep your head held high;
Try to be steady.
Here comes the world.
Are you ready?
