STUDENT

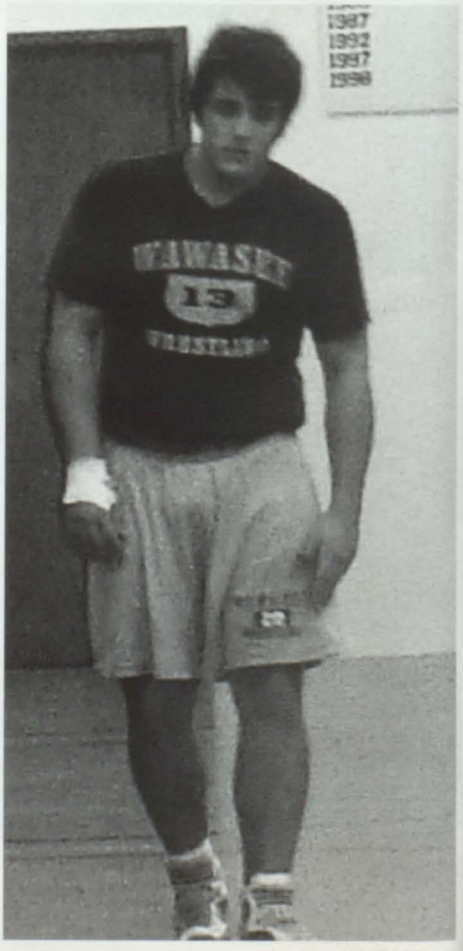

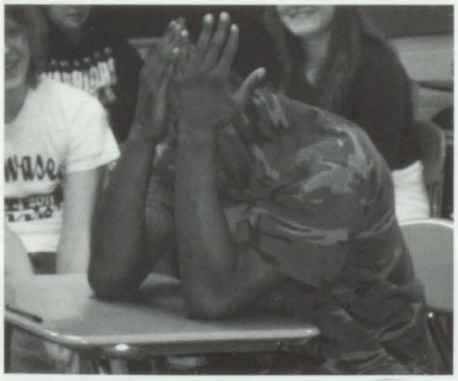

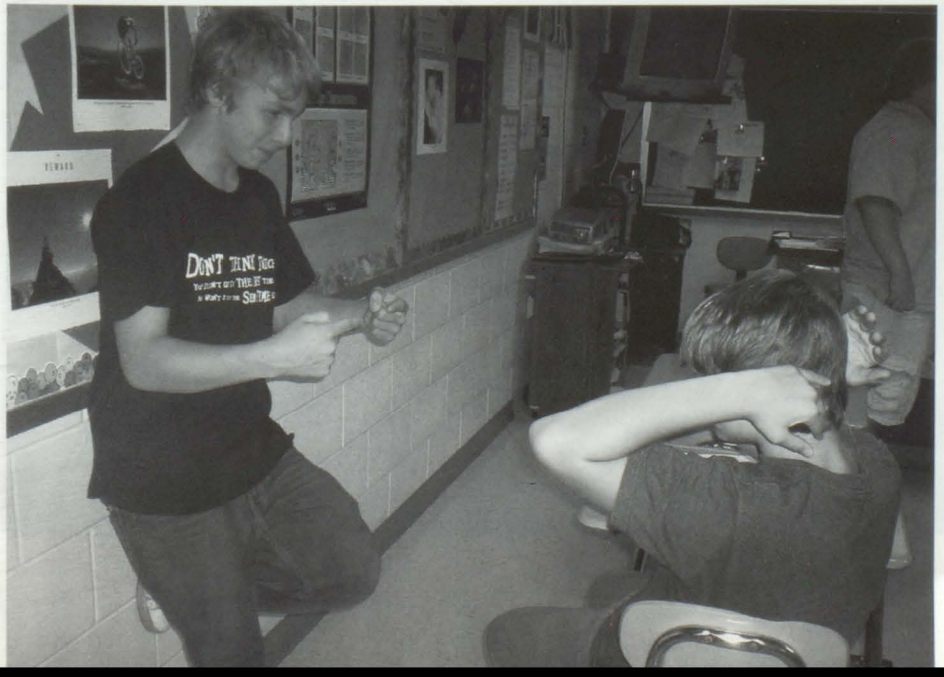

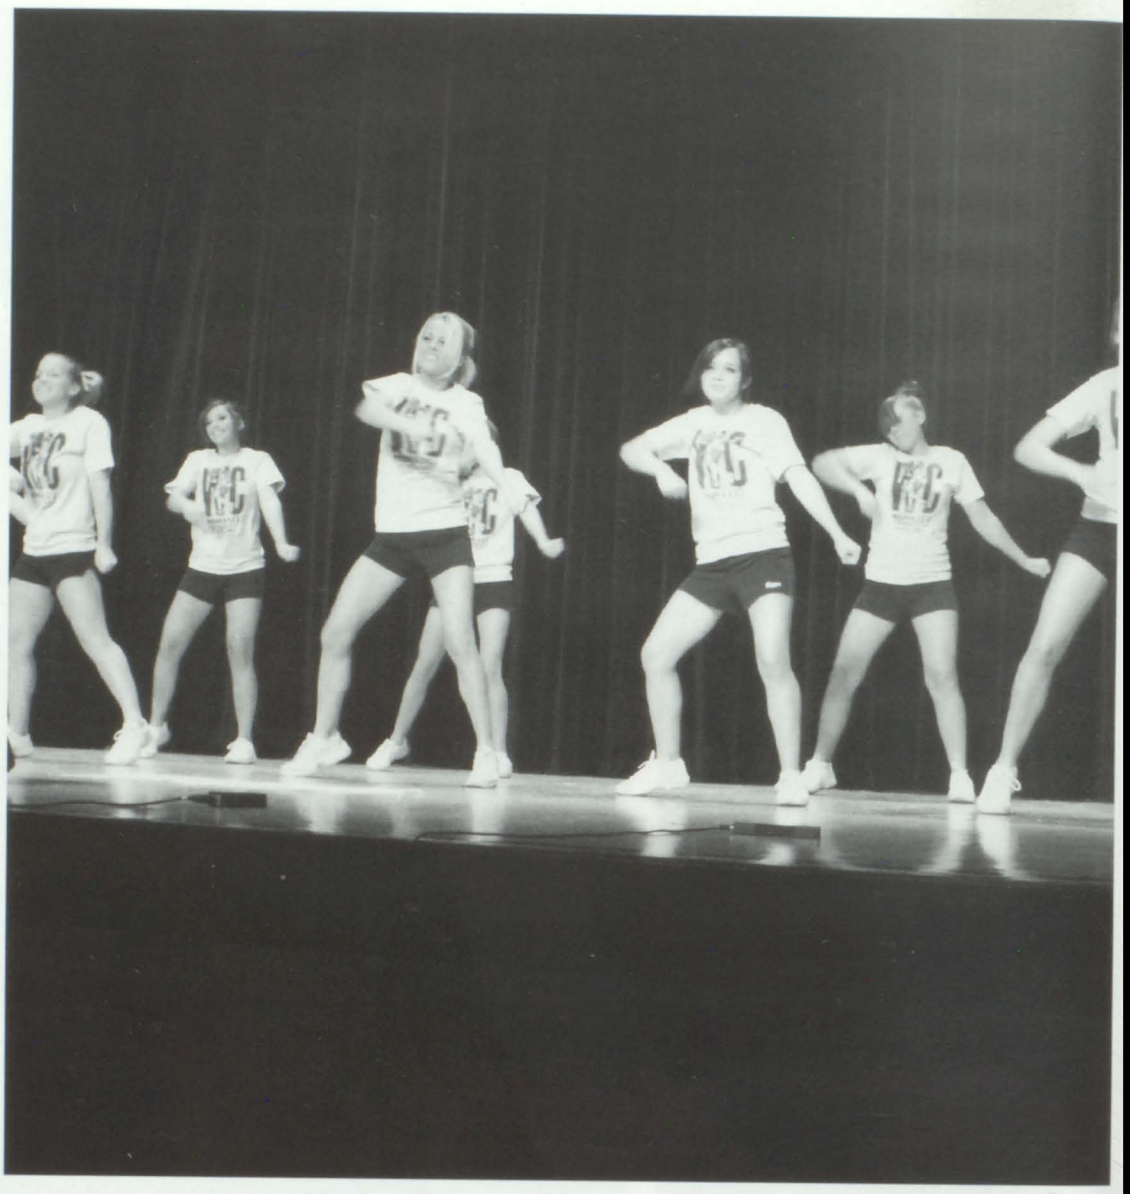

LIFE

Playing solo at the all school talent show is Adrienne Frailey. She's strumming her strings to "Never Love Again" which she wrote herself.

Tanya Valdizon sang her heart out to "Don't Speak" by Gwen Stefani. She was very confident and did an awesome job.

Top-Middle: The Wawasee High cheer team consisting of all grades is doing their dance to "Thanks For The Memories" By Fall Out Boy.

These seniors wait for their turn to do the RIVERDANCE! Victoria Chamberlin, Wynn Warren, Emily Swartz, Karly Klaybor, Chelsea Maule.

Shoveling cake in her face is Miss. Samantha Shrock. In trying to beat everyone else, she takes the cake by the handfulls.

A LIVING TRADITION

This year's homecoming went out with a bang! With an excellent talent show, the crazy powderpuff games and cake in the face of just a few people. Adrienne Frailey, who played the guitar and sang in the talent show, says that the students really enjoy the opportunity to have fun, compete, and goof around at school. Chelsea Coy, who was a part of the cheerleading act in the talent show, says the talent show is cool because it is fun to see how creative the other classes get with their class skits. The Powderpuff game was intense for the Sophmores this year.

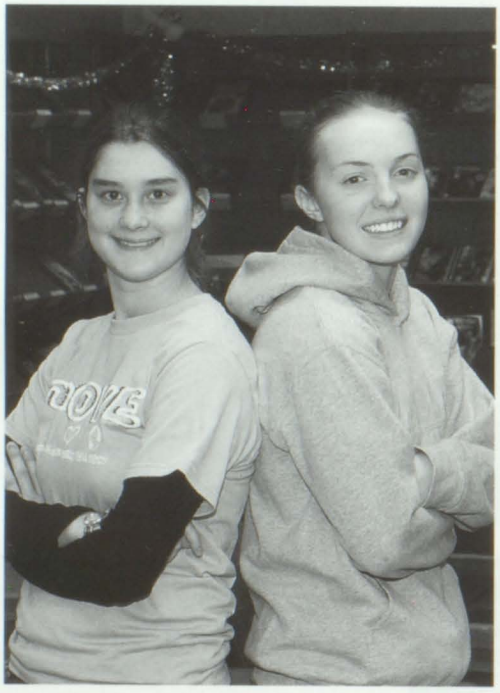

Lining up to get ready to for the next big play are the freshman and juniors. After a great game the victory goes to the Freshman.

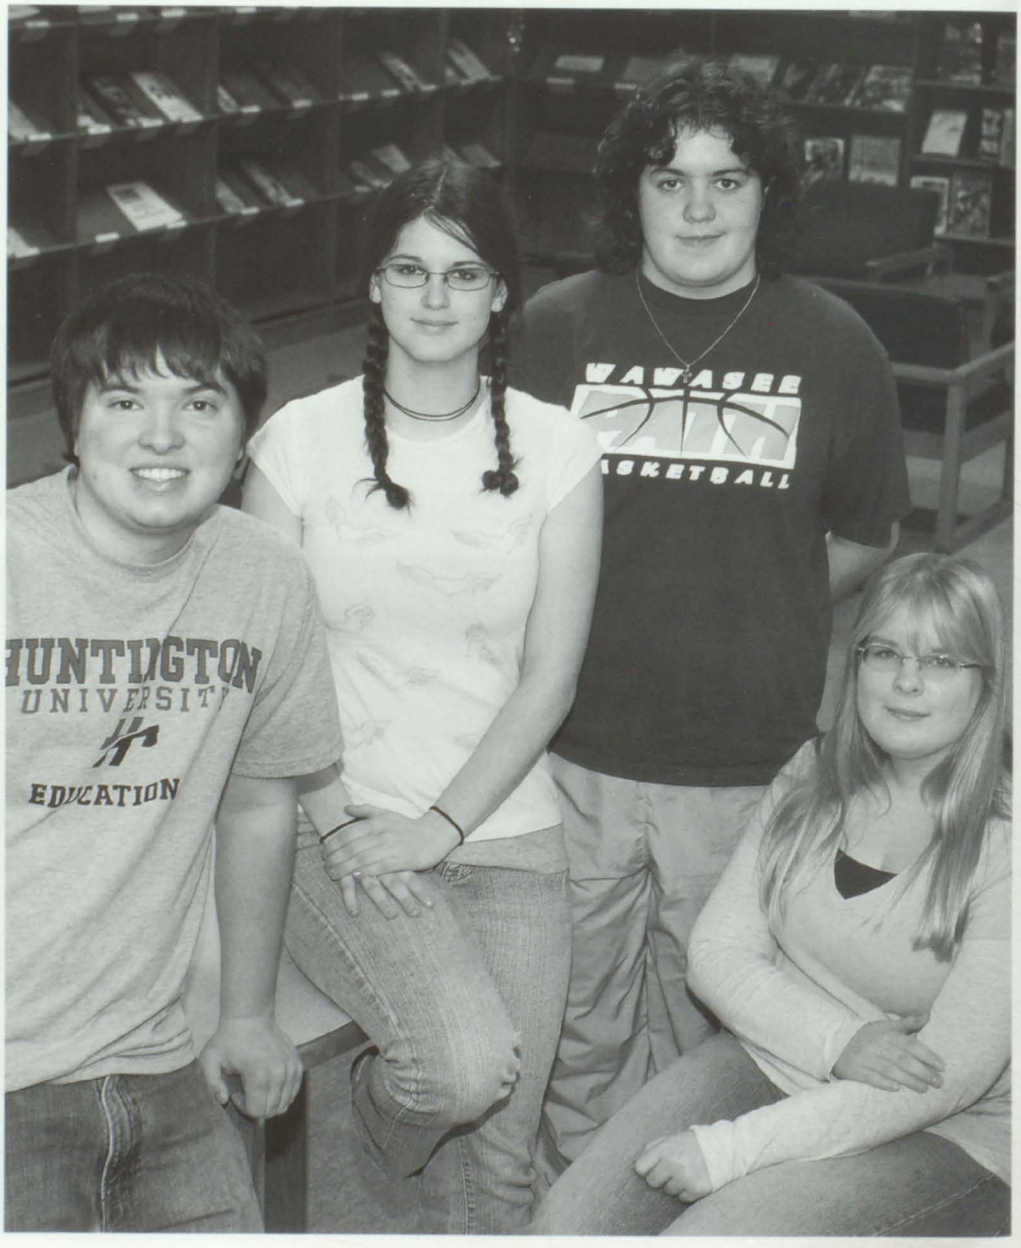

MCs for the show were Maddie Miller, Paul Xanders, and Josh Vallejo.

Above we have our Foreign Exchange student from Germany, Rashpal Singh. Rashpal's favorite experience in the United States was getting to see a lot of nice places and getting to know a lot of great people. He would like to let all his new friends at Wawasee High School know that "It was nice to meet you guys here. I met a lot of great and awesome people. I wish you guys everything good for your future and stay clean :)"

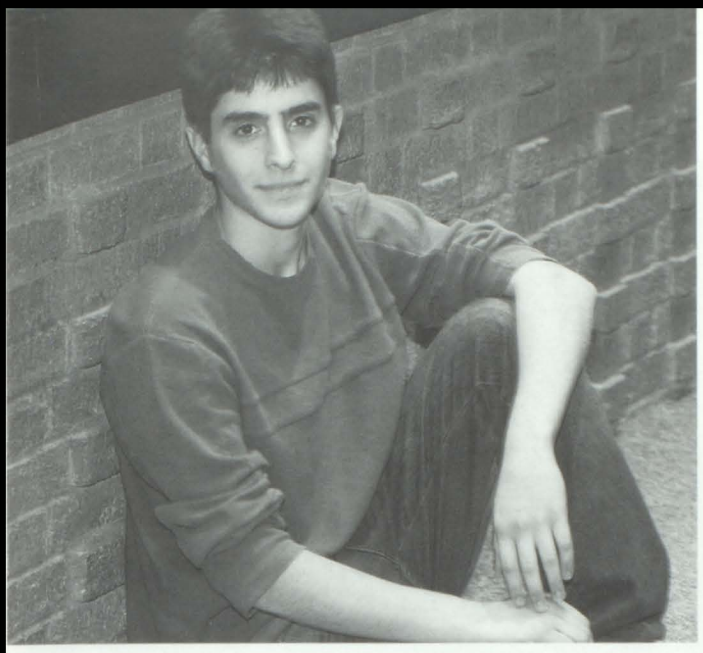

Above we have Solri Yu. Solri Yu is from South Korea. Solri's favorite experience in the United States was going to Chicago. "Chicago was one of the cities that I wanted to go when I was in Korea, so I was really happy that I made it!" The thing that she would like to say to all of her new friends here at Wawasee is, "I want to say that you guys were one of things that made me happy during my exchange student life and I am going to miss you all and it is so sad that I cannot see you all again."

To the left is Waranthorn "Nickey" Paturiyavet. Nickey is from Thailand, and she wanted to make it clear that it was 'Thailand' and not, 'Taiwan'. Nickey's favorite experiences in the United States were traveling in the U.S., being in art class, and celebrating Halloween, Christmas, and Black Friday. One of the things that she did not like was the food, "I have gained 30 lbs! I hate that, grrr..!" One of the things she would like to let all of her new friends at Wawasee is, "Im so glad to know a lot of new friends here, especially a lot of people in art class. I had a lot of fun there and I will never regret choosing to be a foreign exchange student."

Foreign Exchange Students

To the right is Jade Silva. Jade is from Brazil. Her favorite experience in the United States was getting to know her host family. She loved meeting new friends and the different culture. She loved running cross country. The one thing she did not like was the crazy weather in Indiana. The one thing she wants her new friends at Wawasee to know is, "Im really glad that I had the chance to meet you all, you will always be in my memeories. You guys made my year so much better , and I hope that we keep in touch. <3"

Below is Florence Diserens. Florence is from Switzerland. Her favorite experiences in the United States was getting to knowso many people and seeing the different culture. She loved experiencing everything that she doesn't have in her country. The thing she would like all her new friends at Wawasee to know is, "I hope we will always keep in touch, thanks for being so nice to me. I am very glad i got to know all of you. You guys are a part of my successful year in the United States!"

Bottom right is Katherine Follert. Katherine is from Germany. Her favorite experiences in the United States were being a part of the cross country and track team. She loved the High School spirit. Going to prom was another great experience for her. She is looking forwasrd to graduate. She thought the teachers were really easy and not hard enough on students. What she wanted all her new friends at Wawasee to know is, "Im so glad that I met you all. You made my year special. I hope some people come to see me in Germany!"

Andrea Hickman assures Nick Fricker, her "son", that he would never do anything to disappoint him.

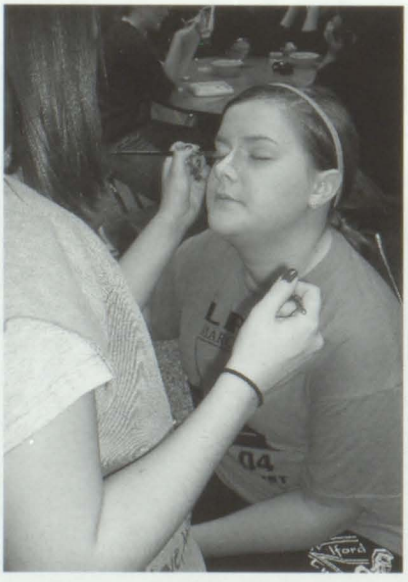

The boys, Joel Hogle, Logan Brown, and Ethan Coverstone.

Nicole Shenefield has her makeup put on before rehearsal.

Nicole Shenefield and Jennifer Thystrup clean up the restaurant.

Ethan Coverstone and Emily Leismer embrace each other.

SCAPINO!

Scapino! took the stage by storm on November 2-3. Despite the somewhat small crowd, Ms. Whorley's debut as the new queen of Wawasee drama proved to be a successful one. The play used slapstick humor and circus techniques to delight its audience with a night of gut wrenching laughter. The play tells the story of two young men left by their mothers in the care of two servants. The two men fall in love with a young woman. However, this does not work with the plans their mothers have for them and both men are caught up in a hilarious plot and it is Scapino's job to put everything back in order again.

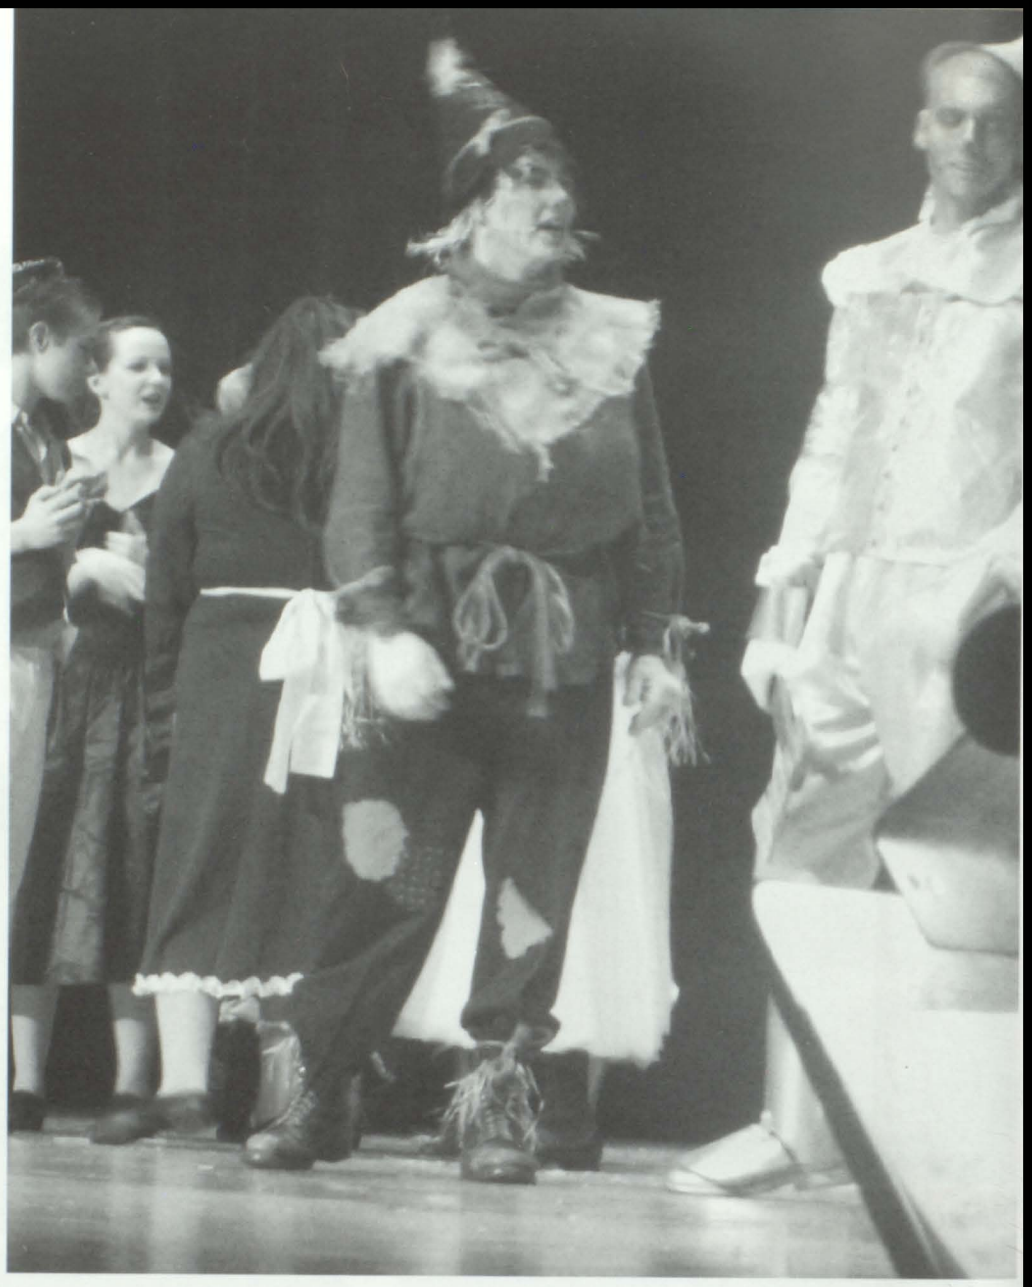

Chelsea Maule and Joel Hogle have a chat over lunch.

Katelyn Fall and Logan Brown have a laugh.

Katelyn Fall shoves down stolen spaghetti.

Lance Lannen played the part of the clumsy Scarecrow wonderfully.

Glinda, played by Alisha Henry, advises Dorothy to follow the Yellow Brick Road to the Emerald City where the Wizard of Oz can send her back to Kansas.

Logan Brown gets his makeup put on before rehearsal.

Over the Rainbow

The 2008 musical production of The Wizard of Oz took the audience to a world beyond imagination. The musical was performed on March 27-29 and featured a mix of Wawasee theatre veterans as well as the young talent up and coming. The chemistry on stage was perfect as Heidi Warstler played a wonderful Dorothy teaming up with the always lovable team of misfits that include the Tin Man, played by Joel Hogle, Logan Brown as the Cowardly Lion, Lance Lannen as the Scarecrow, and Chelsea Maule as the terrifying Wicked Witch of the West. The musical also featured a wonderful performance by Tinkerbell, who played Toto. The show, based on the movie starring Judy Garland, follows Dorothy through her adventures in the land of OZ where she kills two wicked witches, meets plenty of friends, and desperately searches for a way back to Kansas.

Joel Hogle, Heidi Warstler, and Logan Brown sing loud and proud after defeating the Wicked Witch of the West.

Ethan Coverstone tells Dorothy, played by Heidi Warstler, her fortune and prevents her from running away from home.

The munchkins celebrate after Dorothy kills the Wicked Witch of the East.

Always willing to lend a hand, Mrs. Hurley discusses golf with Kayla Brown.

Guiding the Warrior Path

The Wawasee Administration sets the tone for the rest of the school. In a year that saw a changing of the guard as Dr. Edington took over for Dr. Stock, Mrs. Stevens, Mr. Frank, Mr. Perek, and Mrs. Hurley were a model of consistency that led to a flawless transition. The Administration also encourages teacher development challenging the Warrior teachers to never settle for less than their best. While Mr. Frank and Mrs. Stevens are holding the teachers accountable, Mr. Perek holds students accountable for their behavior. However, Mr. Perek is not looking to punish students, but to make the students realize why what they did was wrong. Mrs. Hurley had another great season as the Athletic Director. She welcomed Mr. DeHart as an assistant Athletic Director, and also saw her program welcome new coaches.

Mrs. Stevens brings a positive approach and desire for progress to Wawasee High School.

Mr. Eby and Mrs. Bryan provide structure and inspiration to encourage students to pursue the development of their artistic capabilities.

Mr. Eby shows Krista Spearman another drawing technique.

Engines of Creativity

With an eye for creation, Justin Elliott works diligently on an art project.

Art is a universal language that stretches across generations and cultures. An understanding of art enables a student to communicate with people of all walks of life and acts as a window into civilizations of the past. In the Art Department Mr. Eby and Mrs. Bryan offer students the opportunity to explore various artistic mediums to not only develop their own artistic ability, but also to explore the cultural and historical connection that art has. There have not been any major changes in the art curriculum, but the department still offers a cornucopia of classes. Students may take Introduction to 2-D Art, Advance 2-D Art, Ceramics, Drawing, Painting, Computer Graphics, or Media Arts.

Mrs. Bryan looks over a pieces student art, offering suggestions and compliments to the talented students of Wawasee.

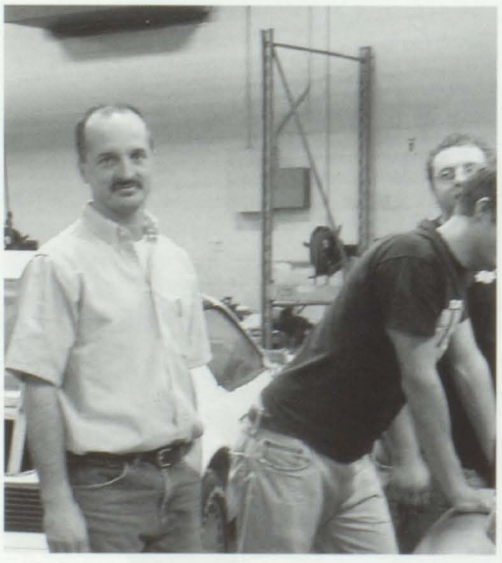

Danielle DeValk works on an a beginning sketch piece of art to add to her portfolio.

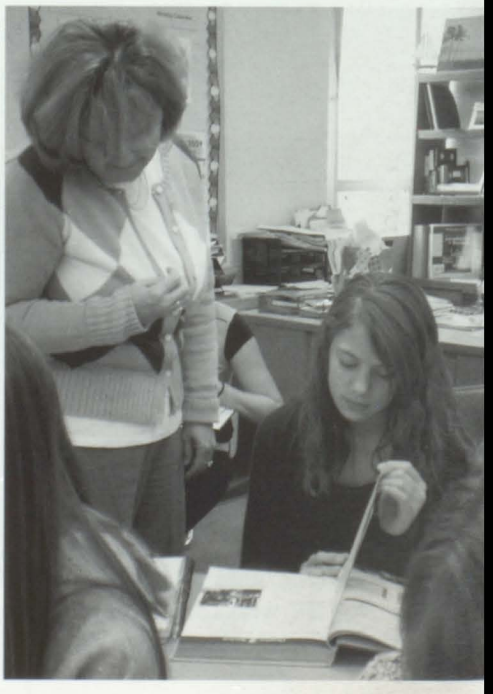

Mike Wehmeyer and George Valle working hard in Auto-Shop.

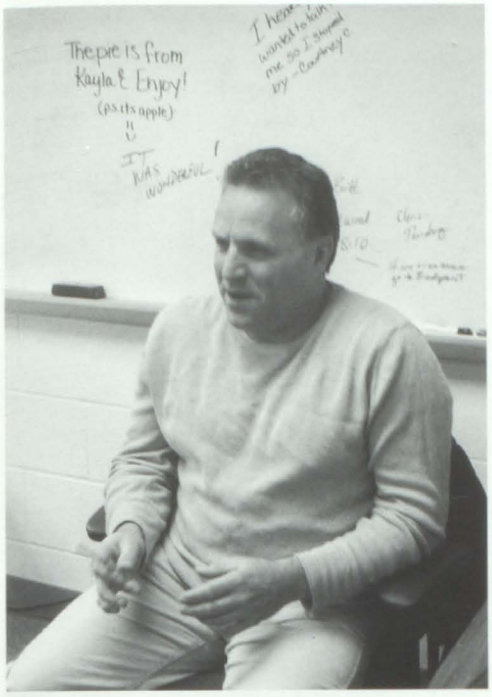

Never camera shy, Mr. Craig lets his students take over as he gets some publicity.

Ms. White works with Lauren Erb in Business Foundations.

A Brilliant Career

The career, technical, and business department offers a wonderful opportunity for students to gain some real-life work experience in an academic setting. The department offers a wide selection of business classes, classes in agriculture, nursing, graphic design, and welding (to name only a few). The goal for students is to gain knowledge about career/business areas and to attain skills and hands on experience in that business area. The student will then determine if he/she likes the career.

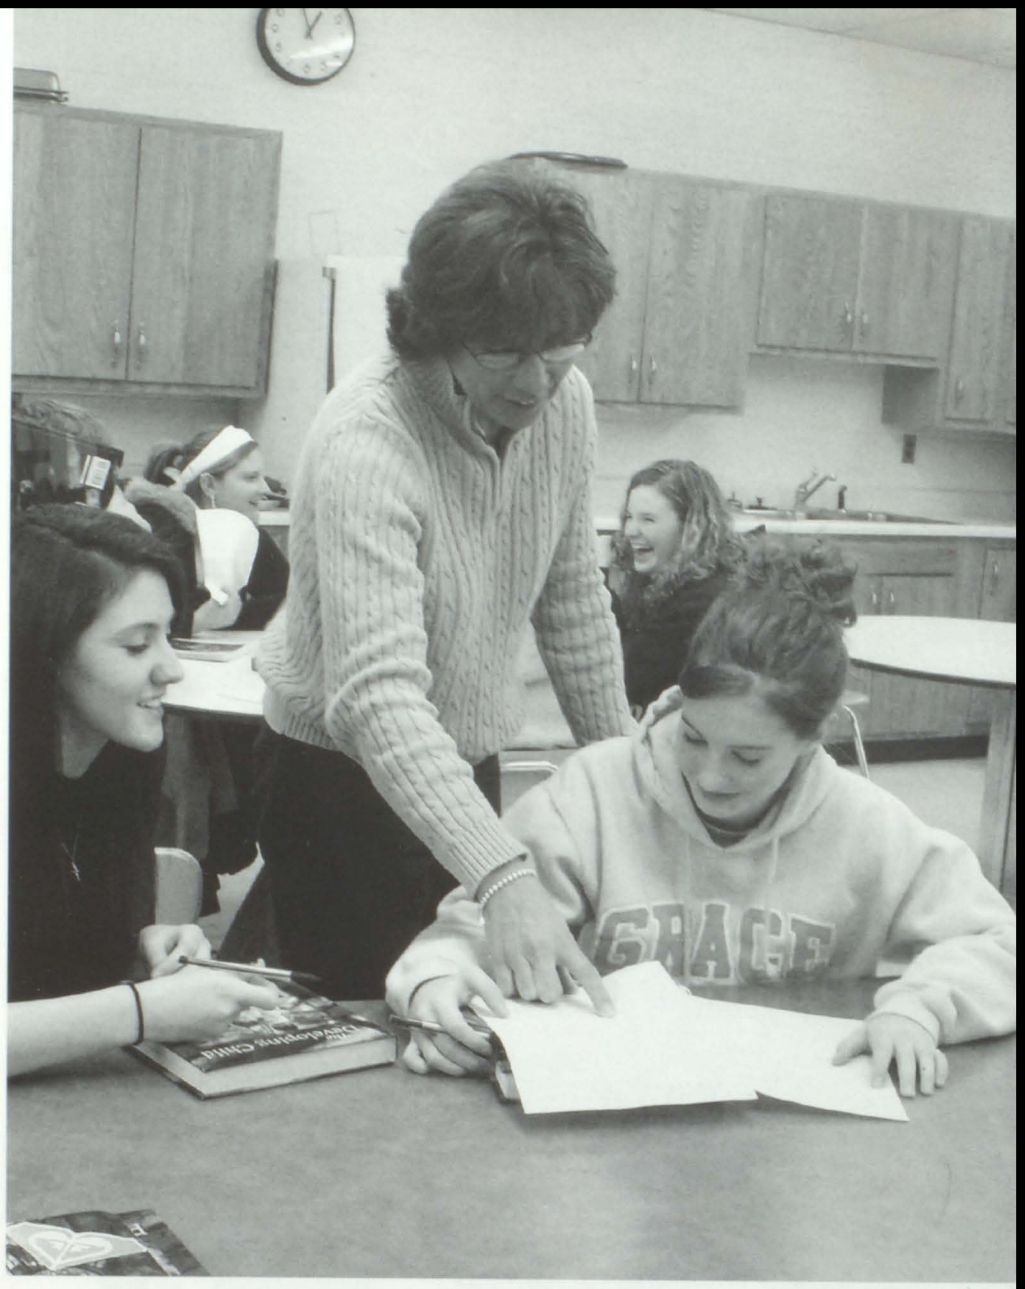

Mr. Murphey runs the FEA program that allows students with an interest in teaching to get some valuable early experience.

These programs prepare students for life after high school regardless of whether they go into the workforce, military, or some sort of post-secondary education. The department recently added an Education and Early Childhood class for prospective teachers, as well as a Nursing Assistant course for students interested in that. The department is also welcoming in Danielle Blair who now teaches Orientation to Life and Careers.

The career, technical, and business staff is: Front Row: Trish Miller and Donna Daniel. Back Row: Cory Schutz, Danielle Blair, Polly White, Ed Waltz, and Phil Metcalf.

Call it a Career

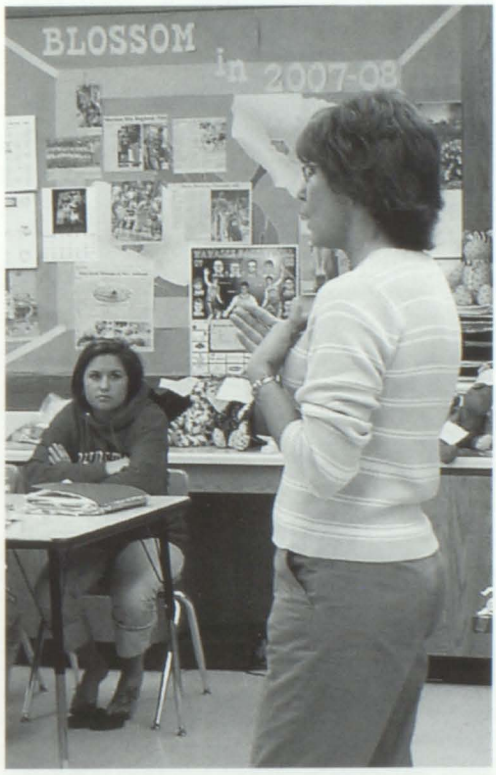

The Family and Consumer Science department focuses on preparing students for the adult world that is swiftly approaching them. Classes include Nutrition and Wellness, Child Development and Parenting, Housing and Interiors, Adult Roles and Responsibilities, Orientation to Life and Careers, Interpersonal Relations, and Education courses. Each class prepares students for life beyond school no matter what field of work a student desires.

Ms. Harrison walks around as her students are hard at work perfecting their French.

More Than Words

With the increasing popularity of the internet and other means of communications and with the growth of a non-English speaking population in the United States, it is becoming more and more important for students to become multi-lingual. The Foreign Language department provides students with the opportunity to learn French, German, or Spanish. The Foreign Language department uses the TPR-Storytelling method which immerses students in a natural and practical language-rich environment. Students learn the language through interaction with the teacher as well as other students.

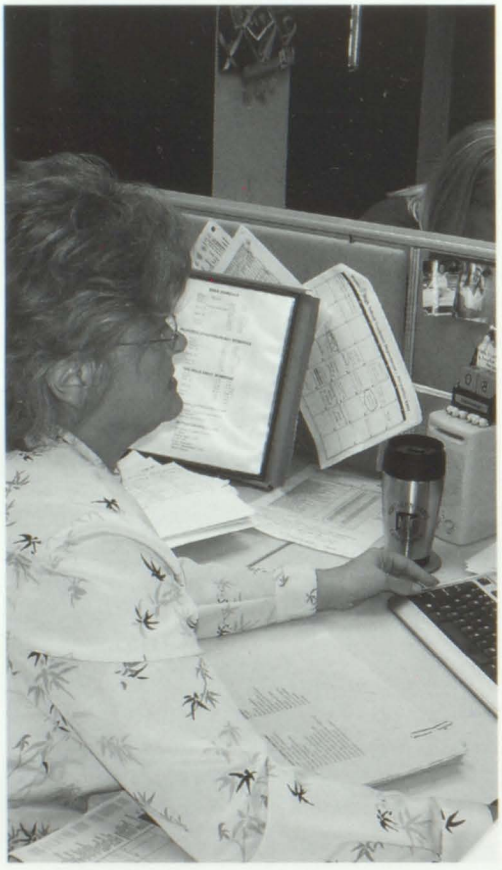

Mr. Jagger tells another story to his Spanish class.

Guideing The Way Your Future Takes

By giving students the help they need, whether it be assistance in helping to plan their highschool goals, the oppertunity to receive personal or academic counseling, or even offering oppertunities that are available after highschool, the Guidence Department does the best to help students prepare for the future. With the desire to provide students with the necessities they will need to become well rounded adults. They set a mission of being interactive in and out of school with students.

Hoping that by senior year students will have become intelligent, independent, individuals that have used and taken advantage of the resources available that this department offers. From senior to freshman interviews, and from transition to transition the Guidence department wishes to be able to help students along their journey to the future and begin to lead the way.

Leading the Way

The industrial technology department gives students a chance to explore the fields of architechture, engineering, and communications. The department is now offering Project Lead the Way, a national pre-engineering curriculum designed to prepare a wide selection of students to be successful in engineering and related fields. Students use state of the art 3-D computer software to create working models, solve engineering problems, and explore various technology systems and manufactureing processes. The department also offers Communication Systems and Communication Processes. In these classes students learn how to use computers to create various artifacts to enhance sending and receiving messages and they learn how to solve problems related to the field of technology communication.

The New Look

The English department has a whole new look this year with four new faces on staff. Ms. Ford, Mrs. Beer, Ms. Whorley, and Mr. Stoffell all were brought in to fill the big shoes left by some of their predecessors. Ms. Whorley also fills the void as the drama advisor vacated by Mrs. Bell. The English department offers several courses which include Biblical Literature, Yearbook, Newspaper, a class on Mystery novels, as well as ACP and honors courses.

Ms. Whorley and George Adamitis point out an interesting passage in a piece of literature.

The English department aims to teach students proper writing and speaking techniques, reading strategies, and to develop a love of reading in students.

Chelsea Maule uses the LRC as a valuable place of research. The LRC staff is always willing to help with students trying to get those all-important sources.

Students wisely use the LRC to get their homework done at school so they can relax when they get home.

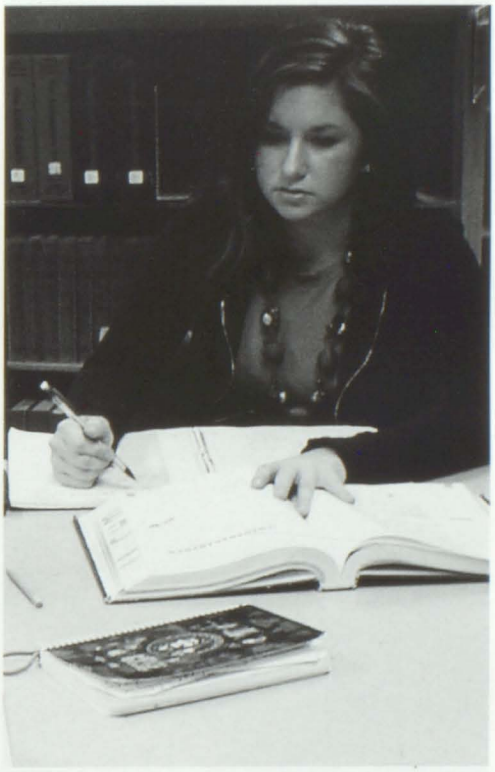

Deep in Thought

"Don't buy, borrow." Mr. Guinther encourages students to save their money and use the library. The LRC staff helps students and teachers find valuable sources for research papers, helps students find their owns sources, and provides a place where students can kick back and read or work on homework. The LRC provides a vast selection of fiction, non-fiction, reference books, and magazines for students to use for both research and entertainment.

Austin Combs is concentrating very hard on reading his book.

Mrs. White's production studio kept busy putting announcements on every morning. The class also helped out with the lighting and sound for the fall play and the musical.

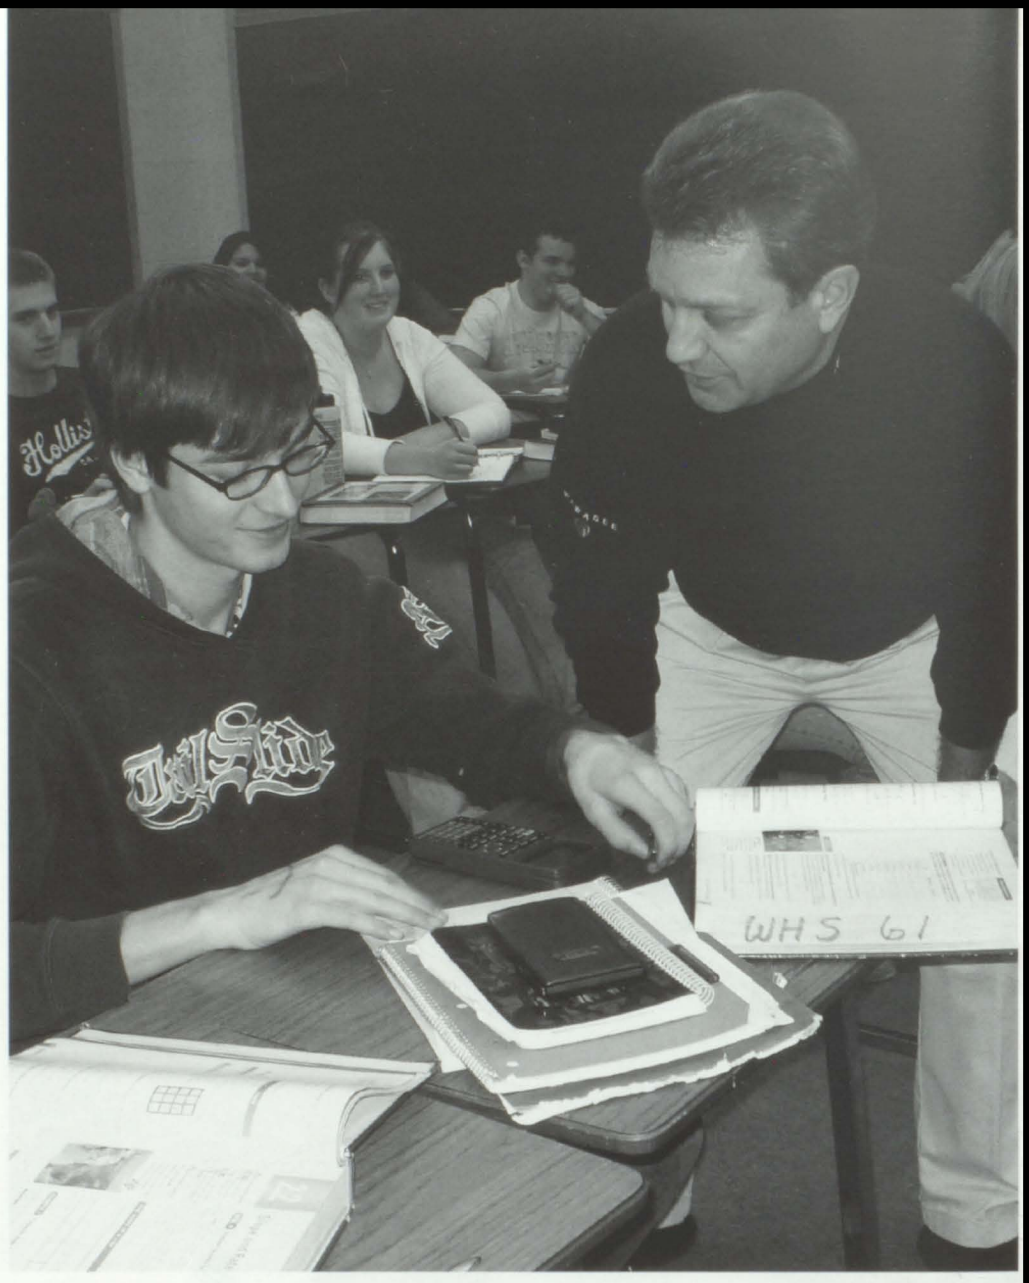

The computer technology office is always at work keeping the schools computer network running smoothly, helping out students and staff with technology problems, and replacing old computers with constant upgrades. The computer technology office includes Mr. Van Lue, Mr. Wirebaugh, and Dr. Cockburn.

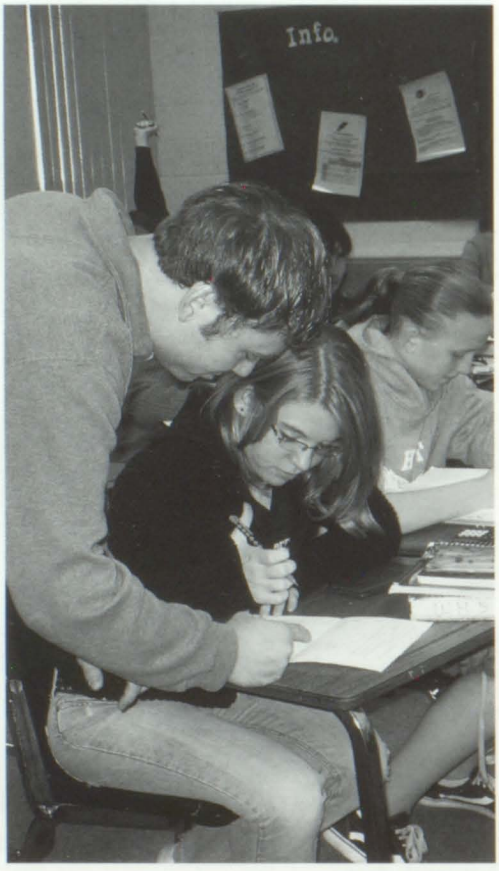

Megan Shortill uses the LRC for a quiet place to get her homework done.

Mr. Zolman shapes a young mind in his Geometry class.

Mrs. Martin helps Ryan Garrison out with a proof for Geometry.

It's All Adding Up

The Math department added a new face to the crew with Mr. Walmer. The Math department offers a wide cross-section of classes that include Discrete Math, Algebra I and II, Geometry, Calculus, and Math Lab. Math is an essential in all aspects of human life ranging from carpentry work to medication. Math is also an integral part of practical living that may be used when putting new carpet in a house, purchasing drapes, and cooking.

Mrs. Szynal teaches Heidi Warstler the nuances that make Geometry such an interesting subject.

Hot Off the Press

The WHS newspaper Smoke Signals covers events related to school and the community ranging from the coverage of new teachers, WHS sports, and the plays to new trends and fads such as text messaging and fashion. The paper comes out once a month, and the literary magazine and Senior issue comes out in May. Students learn responsibility and a lot of it. A student's responsibility in Newspaper is to write, take photos, do a layout, and peer edit. Before all this happens, the whole group gets together and brainstorms for juicy ideas. The editorial staff chooses the stories that fit best with the theme of the paper issued for that month. The Newspaper Advisor, Miss. Records, has a lot of responsibilities as well. She has to teach her students about all the importance of the Newspaper. She makes sure they stay on track and helps them when needed. She is a great teacher and you could learn a lot. The Newspaper is a fun and great way to get your ideas out there for the world to see!

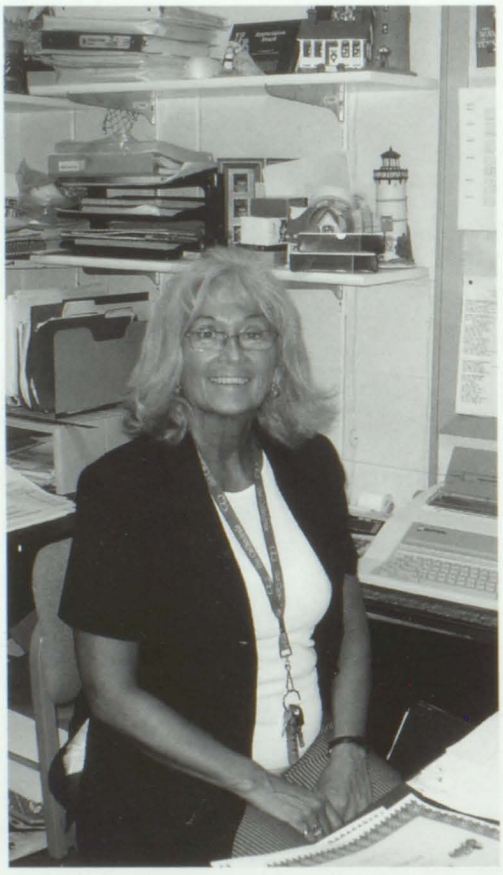

Keirstyn Jones is hard at work in newspaper. Kierstyn is one of the savy veterans of the Smoke Signals staff.

The Warriors Up Front

Wawasee is blessed with a wonderful group of secretaries. The secretaries do anything from handle the general paper flow to the office to manage student attendance on the school's grading program Harmony. The secretaries also schedule meetings and deliver messages to teachers. Another key cog in the Wawasee machine is the book keeper. Mrs. Hapner manages the finances here and sees to it that the bills are paid and budget is balanced. Mrs. Alexander is another important part of Wawasee High School. She tends to sick and ailing students, encourages staff and student wellness, and challenges the staff to exercise regularly. The paraprofessionals at Wawasee also aide in the school's smooth operation by working with students with special needs and with English as a Second Language students. Ms. Snavely supervises Study Hall making sure that students are using every bit of their school day to their advantage. Great work this year!

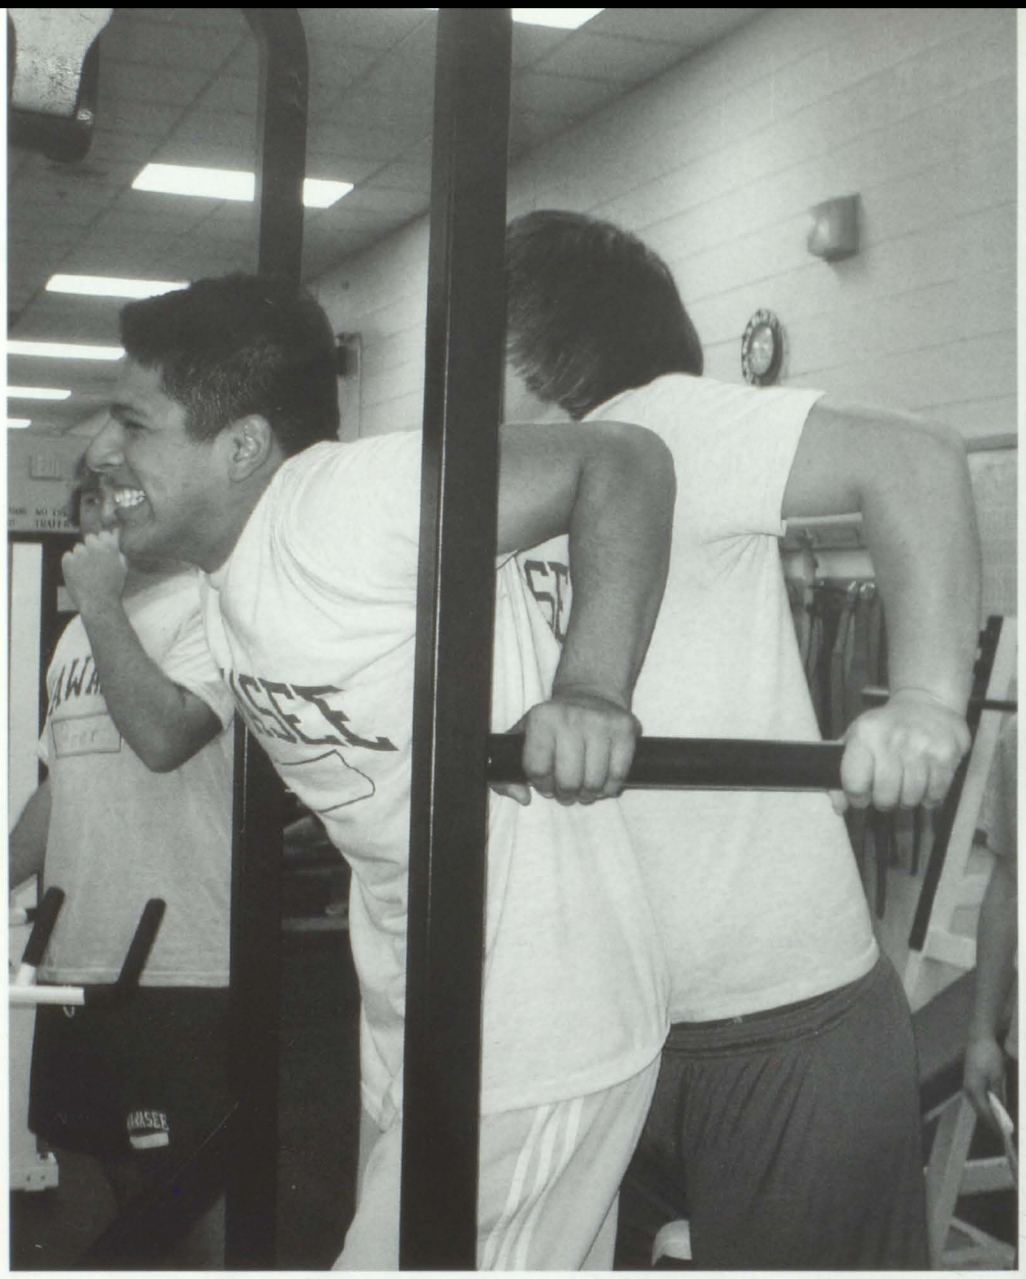

Mrs. Hutchinson is always busy at work scheduling buses for games, dealing with the athletic department public relations, and putting up with an ever ornry coaching staff.

Mrs. Alexander and her student aides keep the school healthy and fit.

Mrs. Henderson manages the Attendance office and is the field general in the ever-present fight against students with cell phones in class.

Mrs. Peterson and Mr. Mishler

Mr.Mishler guiding his class to following instructions. Showing students that responsibility and cooperation doesn't have to be involved in just a class room, but the gym as well.

Our new Physical Education teacher and football coach Mr. Wogomon observing his students in the weight room.

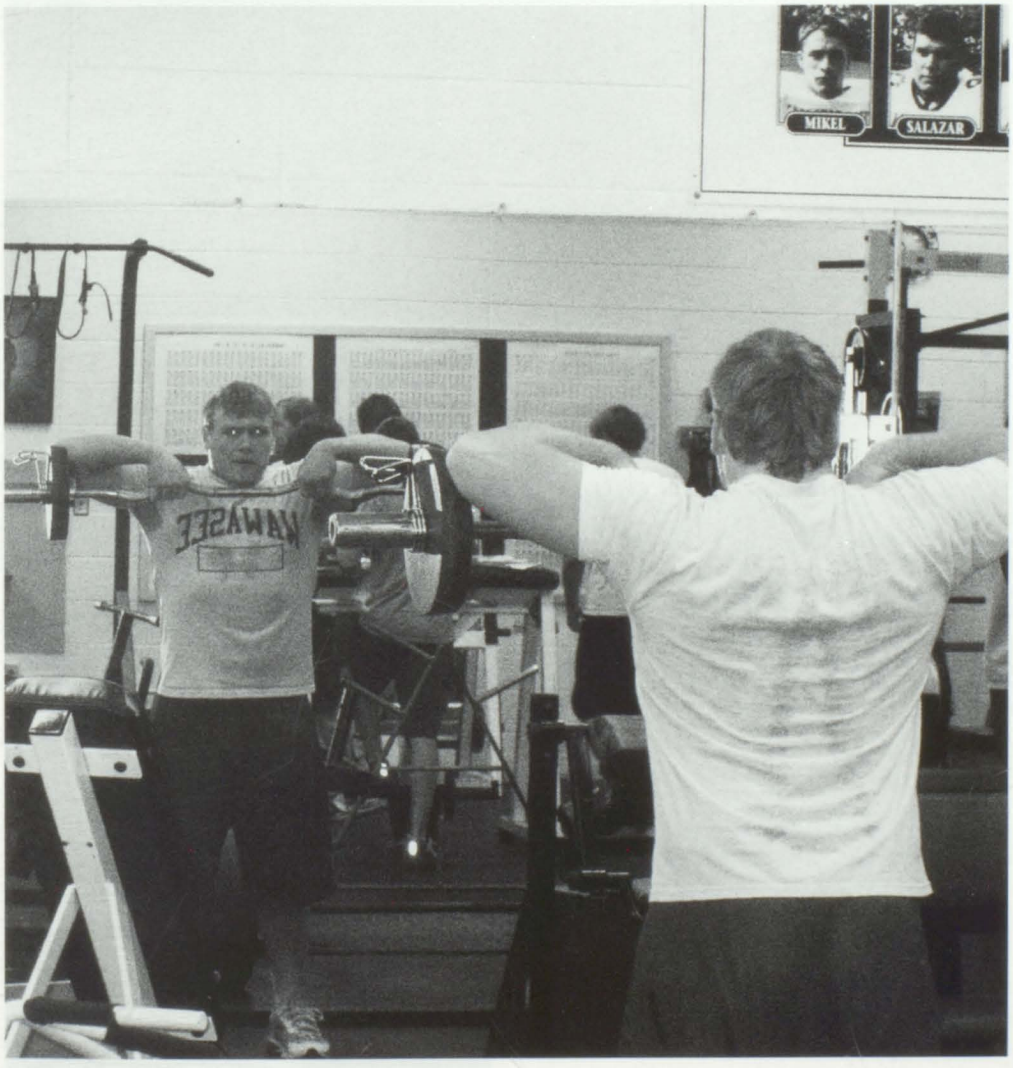

Shaping Up

Physical education is a class that you must take two trimesters of to be able to graduate. Mrs. Peterson, Mr. Mishler, and Mr. Wogomon do a great job at instucting and keeping their classes in line. Physical education consist of a bunch of random sports that the class play such as floor hockey, basketball, tennis and more. Sometimes the teachers will take their class up to the weight room to get a good work out while listening to fun and relaxing music. The class will come in at the beginning of the period and go into their locker rooms and get changed into the school gym uniform. then they will come out and sit in their assigned rows. The senior leaders will instruct the class at the beginning by doing warm ups to get their blood pumping then the class will run however many laps they are told. Then each P.E. class at the time starts their sport or event that they are on. At some point the P.E. class does an obstacle course kind of thing that works every part of your body. Physical education is a fun and healthy way to show kids how to stay in shape.

Mrs. Holsopple has a laugh with a student. An important part of being a good educator is building a sound professional relationship with students.

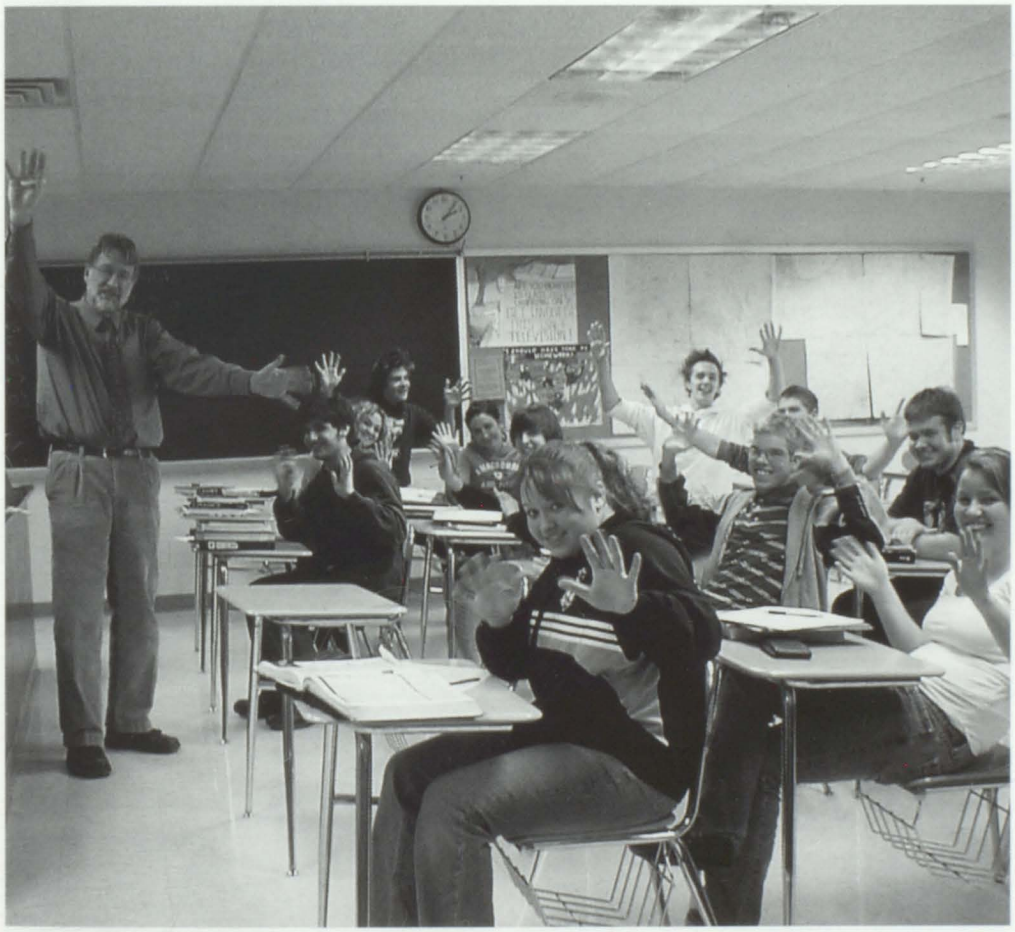

A Natural Selection

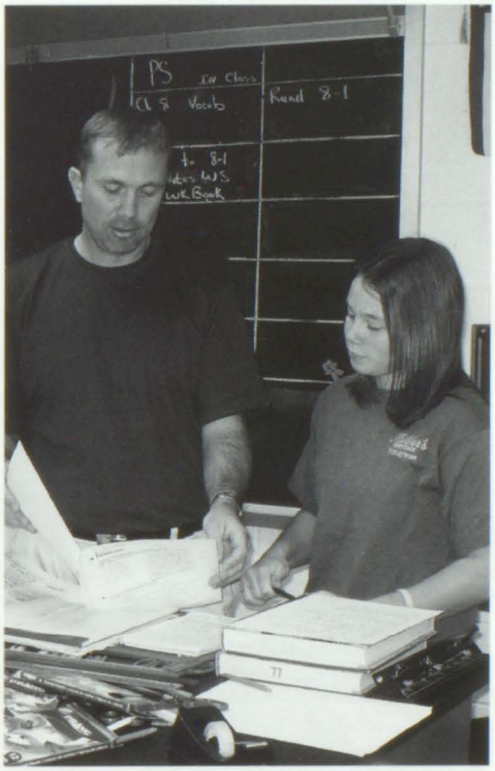

The Science department aims to create a group of scientifically literate citizens capable of understanding and solving real-world problems relating to science and the community. The department employs problem solving strategies that are designed to relate science to personal needs and social issues. The Science dpartment was yet another department with plenty of new faces, both in the classroom and out. Mr. Urednick and Mr. Grossnickle joined a formidable crew of science teachers. Outside of the classroom Mrs. Holsopple and Mr. Nguyen each had new additions to their families and the Wawasee community. Some classes offered by the Science department are Biology, Chemistry, Physics, Earth and Space Science, Human Physiology, Genetics and Bioethics, Integrated Chemistry-Physics, and Life Science. The department also offers several advanced placement courses.

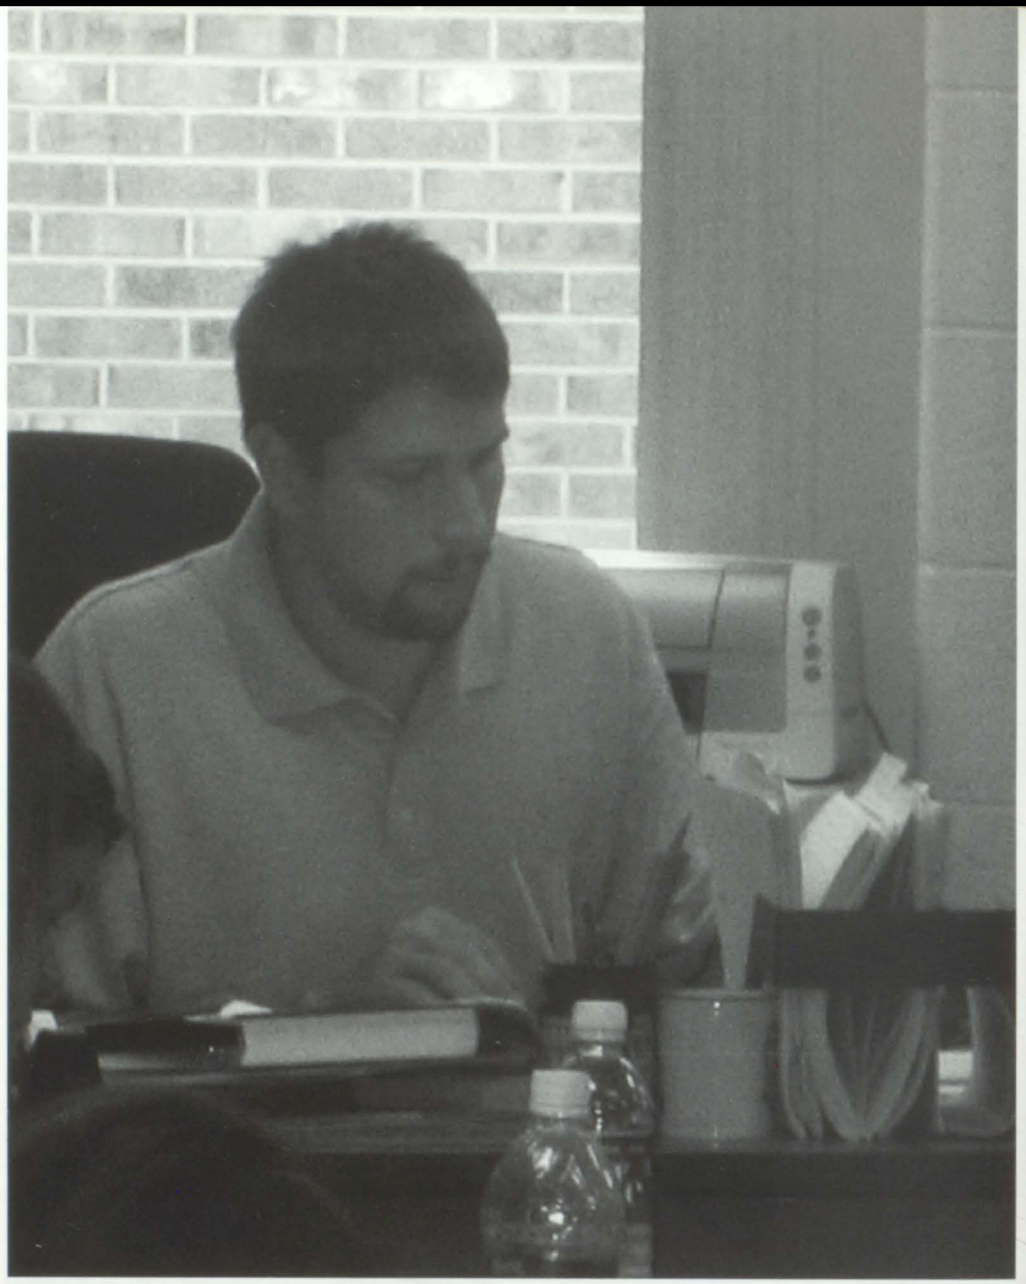

Mr. Lambert helps Levi Frank in Health Education.

Mr. Hassan displays a hands-on learning technique in Chem/Phys.

Mr. O'Dell works with Sara Blosser on her Earth and Space Science homework.

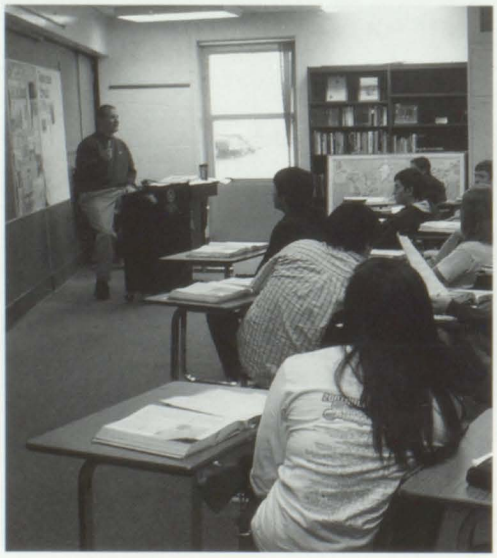

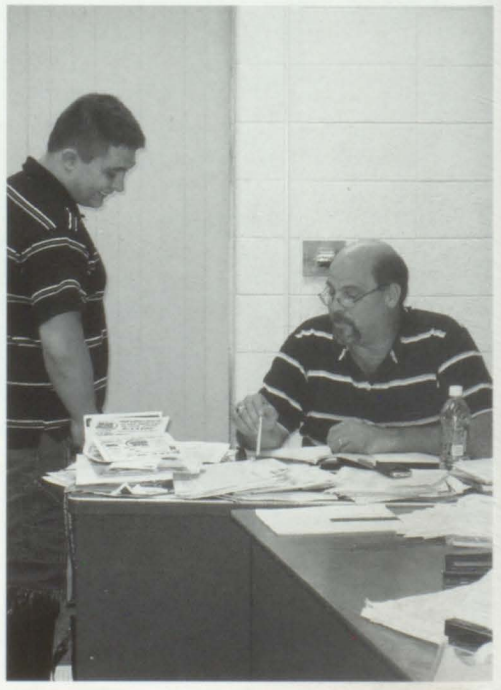

Using his time wisely, Mr. Phillips catches up on some grading while his class works on their assignment.

Mr. Casey, one of the many new faces at Wawasee, helps Blessing Longcor out on some psychology homework.

Mr. Lancaster imparts some words of wisdom to an eager class.

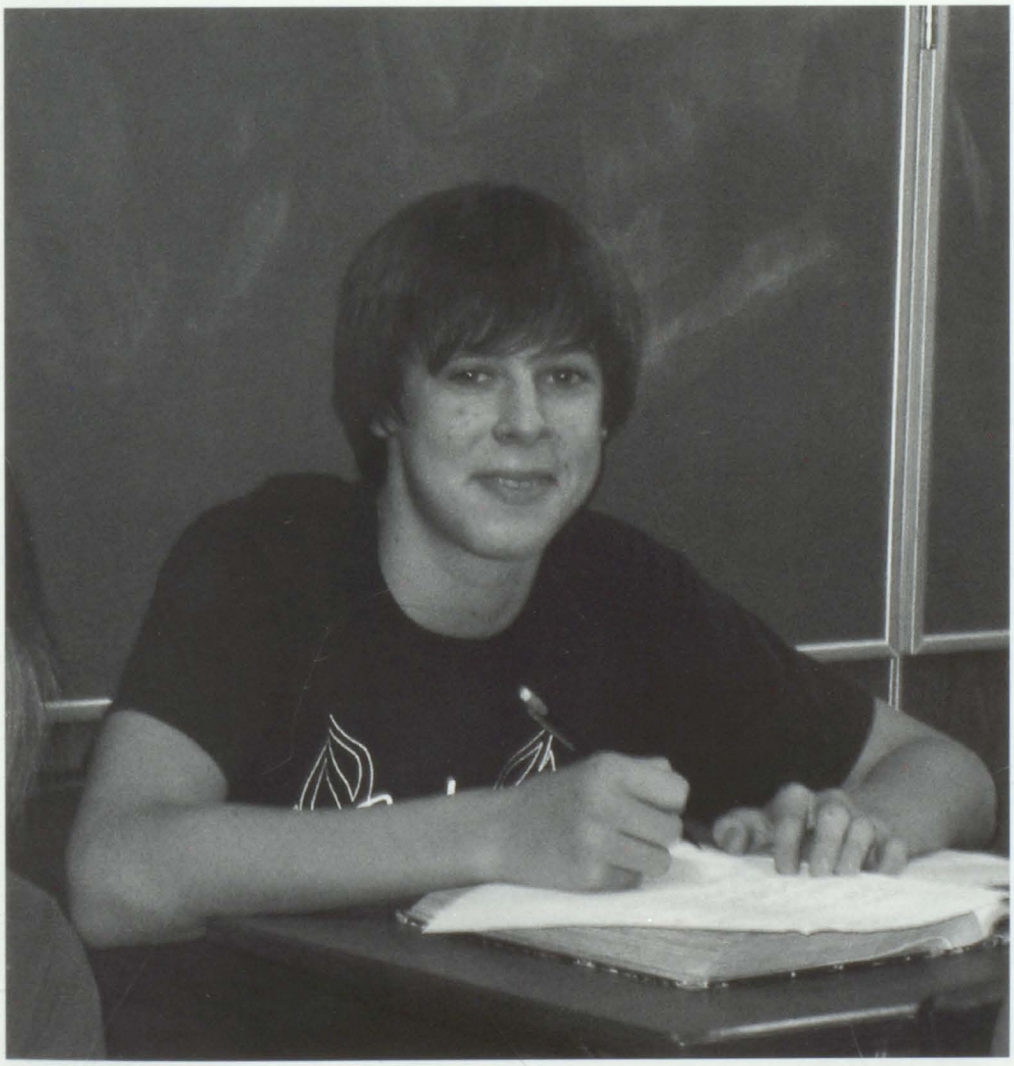

Mr. Karns goes over a test with Ian Garcia.

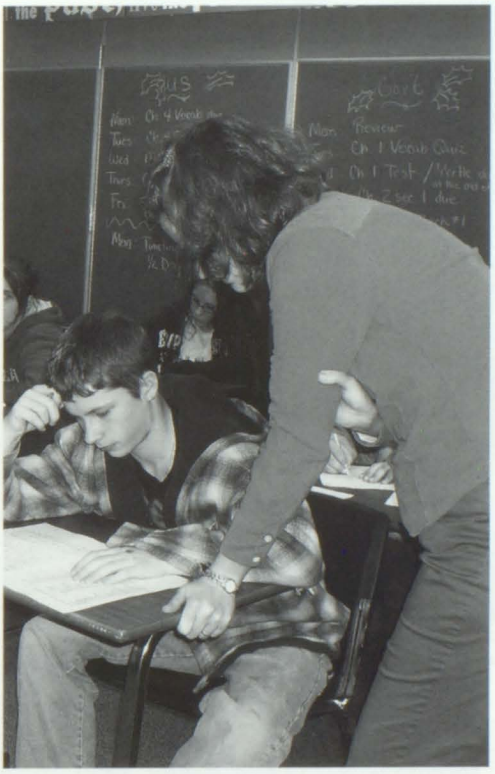

The Intelligent Vote

The Social Studies department was yet another department going through changes. While Mrs. Myers, Mr. Phillips, Mr. Karns and Mr. Lancaster are still staples of the Social Studies staff, Mr. Taylor vacated his spot as the Psychology, Sociology, and Current Problems teacher in favor of a move to the guidance staff. Mr. Casey was brought in to fill a portion of the vacancy by taking over Current Problems and Psychology. Also joining the Social Studies staff was Mr. DeHart who gracefully made the transition from Physical Education teacher to Social Studies teacher and Assistant Athletic Director. While there were many changes to the staff, there were not many changes to the common goal of the group, which is establishing a firm grasp of the subject vocabulary.

Mr. DeHart looks over some homework with Ryan Garrison. Mr. DeHart made the jump from P.E. teacher to S.S. teacher look easy.

Keeping her students hard at work, Mrs. Myers and the rest of the Social Studies department use a variety of engagement strategies to encourage student involvement.

To the left, Josh Gaff takes a moment to give us a smile before he finishes his homework for the class.

Taking Care of Business

Wawasee has been blessed with a very hard-working, knowledgeable, and friendly support staff. With a new computer system installed at the beginning of the year, the kitchen staff proved their patience and tenacity while working out all of the kinks in the system. They did that while facing the throngs of students bull-rushing the lunch lines as if they actually had to hunt their food. Sporting a main-line menu in all lines and one ale carte line, the kitchen staff ensures that students will get a good meal. A quality custodial staff is essential to the survival of the school. The custodians prepare the gyms for the various student social and athletic functions, they tend to various maintenence issues around the school, and they keep the school running in an organized and clean environment. The school would have no purpose if there were no students here. Fortunately, the Wawasee bus drivers ensure that the students make it to school in a safe and timely manner.

Byron Oswald heads a very admirable custodial staff.

"I've really enjoy playing soccer and I'm going to miss some of the teammates I've grown close with."

"My best memories of soccer come from being repeat regional champions and making it back to semi-state. It's been great being able to be involded with soccer along with my dad and sister. I will continue to be a huge fan seeing that I'm planning on attenting college close to home and playing soccer. GO WARRIORS!"

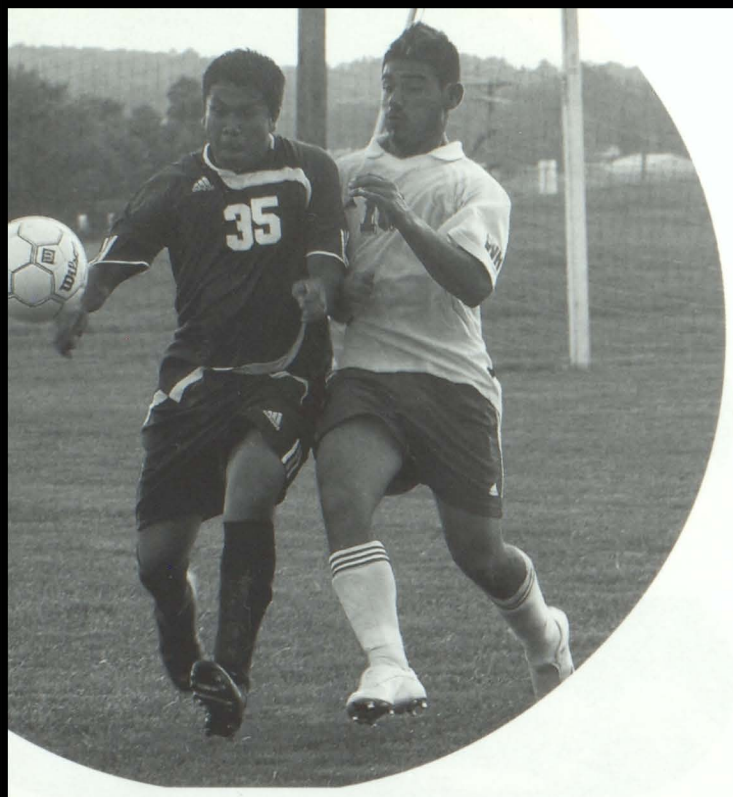

"I've loved playing soccer for the past 4 years and watching our team grow into making it into regionals and semi-state the past 2 years."

"My Best memory is Freshmen year of soccer when one of our players got so into the game that she hit someone in the face, now that's being aggressive."

A Warrior First

With much of their core players returning from the semi-state campaign of last year, the Lady Warrior Varsity Soccer team went into the season knowing the opportunity was there for another big year. In their first five games the ladies held a 4-1 record, and with a convincing 9-1 win over Culver, the ladies looked poised to make another push for state. The Varsity girls beat Northridge in an emotional Regional Championship game. The ladies won 3-1 when Brennan McAdams sealed the deal, sending the Warriors to Crown Point to face Penn in Semi-State action. For the first time ever the Lady Warrior Soccer team won regional titles in consecutive years.

Unfortunately, the ladies were bounced from tournament play by Penn in a 2-1 nail biter. While the girls were more competitive in semi-state than last year, the defeat still left something to be desired. While the team will lose some key players in Kristin Lemaitre, Francisca Hoffmann, Kaitlin Cunningham, and Kelsey Angel, the ladies still have a solid core returning next year.

Brad Granger, one of the teams captains, played midfield and displayed the leadership skills Coach Nguyen looks for in his players.

"This one time during a game I took a free kick. It hit a guy and he fell down. We were loring 4-0 so it was nice to have some comic relief"

Aaron Steele played defense contributing many incredible blocks on goal, giving the offense a chance to score.

Getting Better all the Time

The Boy's Soccer team had a tough year, finishing the season with a 6-10 record. Despite the record, the boys did have key victories at Lakeland and West Noble. The West Noble game was especially exciting. The game was tied for most of the game and with minutes left of the game Isaac Miller scored from about 25 yards out for the winning goal. Coach Nguyen is confident that this team is one that is on its way up, saying, "[w]e are a very fast, strong, and are a rapidly maturing team...I have a lot of nice players that bring great attitudes and work ethic to the soccer field." To ensure that the team keeps on improving, Coach Nguyen has isolated the teams weaknesses to ball control, first touch, and experience. Nguyen is planning on implementing new drills to improve these skill. While the departure of key seniors, Aaron Steele, Issac Miller, and Brad Granger will be detrimental, some key players returning next season are Ryan Koble, Chris Sausman, and Drew Johnson. In picking the team captains, Coach Nguyen looks for players who give it their all, communicate and educate younger players, and are willing to control the game when need be.

Junior, Taylor Goshert, won several awards and helped fight to a great season for the Girl's Golf Team.

Kelsey Mark, also a junior on the WHS Girl's Golf Team and co-captian, helped her team to Regionals for the second year in a row.

Paige Geer, another junior on the Girl's Golf Team, was a focused player and pushed hard for the Wawasee Team.

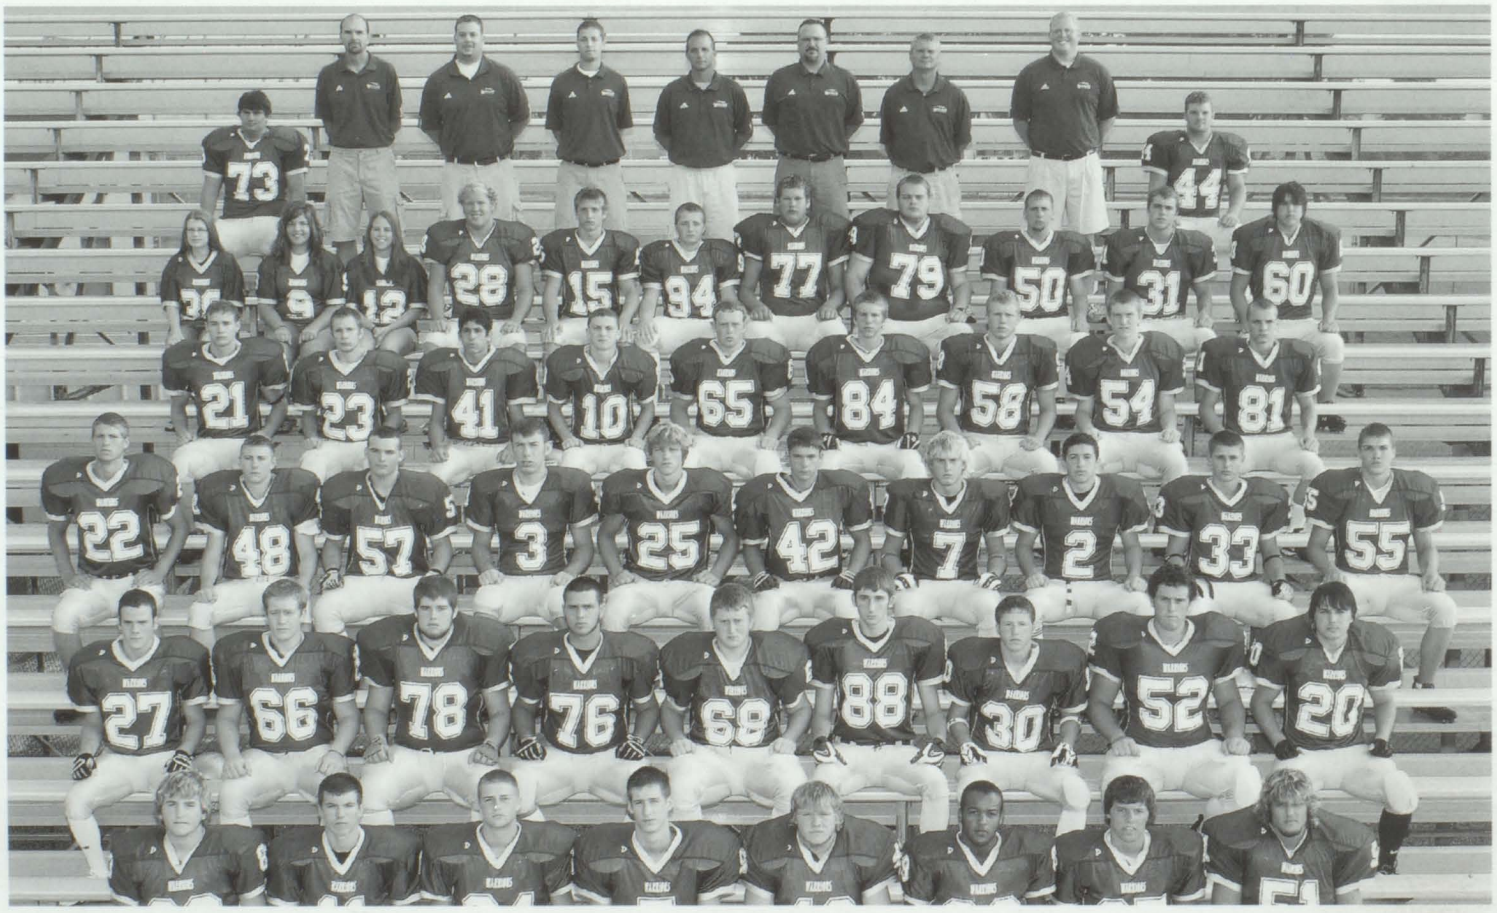

Coach Dehart let the girls to a great season while incouraging them and giving them some advice on their technique and how to improve their game.

Hitting the Links

This year the Girls Golf team had a great season with Taylor Goshert and Kelsey Mark as the Captins. The Girls Golf team attended many tournments including the Rochester Invatational, where they got 2nd, which was a new one for the girls this year. They team as a whole went to regionals for the second year in a row which would make that a first in Wawasee Girl's Golf hisotry. Taylor Goshert was a Conference Medalist breaking the school record with an 80. Highlighting the season the team broke the school's scoring record with a 166 and also in this match Taylor Goshert shot an even par of 36 which broke another school record. The Girl's Junior Varsity Team attended an invitational for the first time at New Haven getting a 3rd place. The team's record for the season was 16-3 overall. They were 5-3 in the conference, finishing 2nd place, which was their second year doing that. There were many awards given. The MVP award went to Taylor Goshert. The most improved award went to Kara Kaiser. The Mental Attitude Award and the Rookie of the Year Award went to Krista Zurcher. The Putting Adverage Award went to Taylor Goshert. Finally, the Outstanding Junior Varsity award went to Shelby Willard.

Tossing the Pigskin

This was a transition year for the Warrior football program. Coach Tom Wogoman came over from East Noble to take over the head coaching position vacated by Joe Reitveld. While Wogoman brought a wealth of knowledge with him, he inherited a team that graduated key starters at several key positions. The season began with promise as the Warriors looked good in a scrimmage against Marion and won their first game against Whitko 19-6. However, the Warriors went on a four game slide before beating Plymouth 30-14. After that the team lost two heart-breakers in a row. The big rivalry game against Warsaw went into three overtimes before the Tigers finally sealed the victory. The very next week saw Wawasee playing host to Elkhart Memorial in their homecoming game. The game went back and forth all through regulation and went into another overtime thriller. However, the Warriors could not pull off the victory. Despite their record, the future of the program is very bright as the freshman team went 7-4 and there will be several key starters returning.

Ryan Smythe has been a solid cog on the Warrior cross country team for a couple of years now.

All-NLC runner Ross Stichter will be returning next year for another run at a championship.

Coach Stoffel led an inexperienced Warrior team to a 6-1 conference record.

Running Wild

The boy's Cross Country team had a big year this year, losing only once and finishing second in the NLC with a 6-1 record. The season began at St. Patrick's park in South Bend for The South Bend Stampede. The freshman/sophomore race put four Warriors in the top 25. The junior/senior race proved to be less promising as Chris Sindelar was the only Warrior to place in the top 35. The boy's opened the conference season with a win, defeating Warsaw 22-33. They would carry that momentum through conferences, but hit a snag in the NLC championship. Going up against NLC powerhouse Northridge, the team picked a bad time to run less than their best. Ryan Smythe finished sixth and that proved to be the best performance by a Warrior runner. Their performance at Semi-State was also less than memorable as Wawasee ran almost a minute slower on a historically fast course. While the Warrior runners slowed down at the end of the season, there is still reason for hope as next year the Warriors are returning a strong cast of characters. All-NLC selections Jose Mejia (sophomore) and Ross Stichter (junior) will be coming back for another run at a championship.

Abby Gilbert gave the Warriors an early season boost to propel the team through injuries.

Stephanie Rhodes finished 16th at the NLC Championship.

Nicole Rhodes placed 20th at the NLC Championship.

Running For It

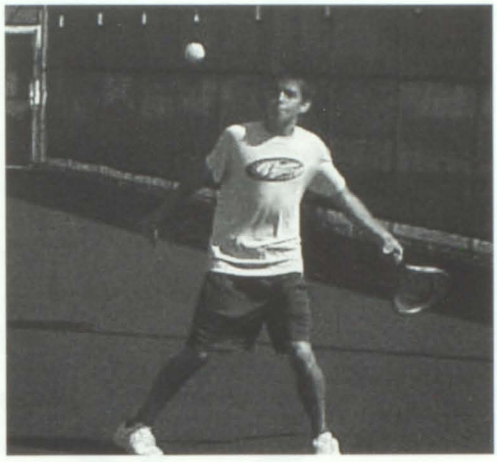

The girl's Cross Country team began the season a little banged up with Abby Gilbert and Catherine Giltner unable to run. Opening the season in South Bend for the South Bend Stampede, Katherin Follert was the only lady Warrior to finish in the top ten while three others placed in the top 30. Once Gilbert and Giltner returned to action the girls showed promise, placing ninth out of 28 teams at Culver. At Culver, all but two of the Warriors set personal bests. The ladies suffered through injury and inexperience to put together a 2-5 season. Like the boys, the girls also had trouble with Northridge, placing seventh at the NLC championship. Stephanie and Nicole Rhodes were the top runners. Stephanie finished 16th with a 20:59 time and Nicole came in 20th with a time of 21:19. Giltner finished 31st and Ellie Gilbert placed 37th. While the season had its hills and valleys, the emergence of Stephanie and Nicole Rhodes as well as the return of Jessica Goldsmith and Jamie Plake shows there is promise for the future.

All That Racket

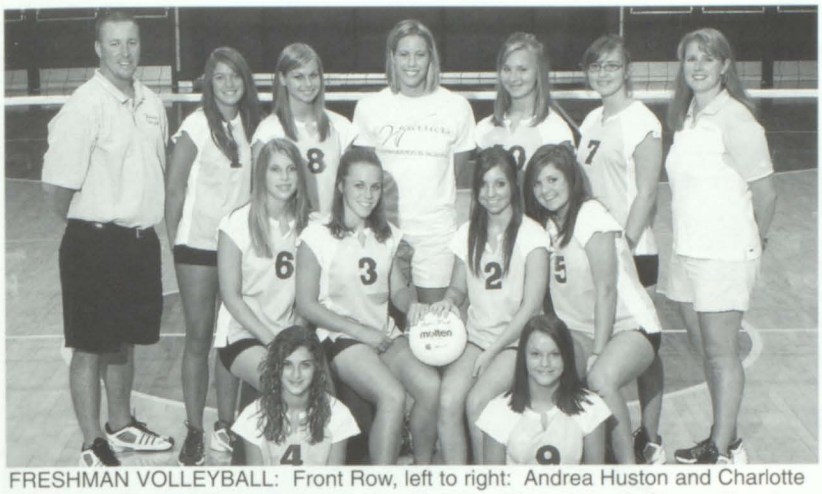

The boy's tennis team rolled with the punches of a winless year. Yet, while the record may not be too impressive, the Warriors took it in stride placing an emphasis on progress as opposed to record and results. The focus this year was on mental toughness and learning to bounce back. The team did not have one senior on the team, and while the lack of a senior leader this year may have hurt the Warriors this year, it put younger guys into leadership roles. The boys showed how tough they could be while facing perennial powerhouse Plymouth. While the team did not win a game, there were several opportunities where they could have won. The Warriors continued to show their progress when Garly Windle and Ryan Hoover scored a 6-2, 6-2 victory in doubles over Ethan and Thad Wysong. Wawasee may have lost the match, but 4-1 is better than 5-0. The boys have a lot to look forward to as they will not be graduating anyone from this year's team.

Krista Spearman led the Warriors with 196 kills, an average of 3.3 per game. She was named team MVP.

Kindra Wright put up 12 assists in a heartbreaking sectional loss to Northwood.

Sarah McBride was given the Mental Attitude award for her veteran leadership.

Hannah Rozow was named Wawasee's Defensive Player of the Year.

Above the Net

The Warrior Volleyball team had a season filled with ups and downs. On senior night the trio of seniors showed what they could do when everything was clicking. Krista Spearman paved the way with 11 digs, nine kills, and five blocks, Kindra Wright added five assists, and Sarah McBride nailed down four aces for the Warriors. With the three seasoned seniors, the ladies propelled themselves to a 14-14 record through 28 games, but a four game skid that included a sectional loss to Northwood left a feeling of disappointment in the hearts of the graduating seniors. All three games were fought tooth and nail, but Northwood just had Wawasee's number that night. While the season may have left something to be desired, the three seniors have all had good careers in gold and green, and there is also hope for the future. Bringing back a solid core of Hannah Rozow, Meghan McDaniel, Bailey Land, and Erika Long, as well as the Freshman Award winner Andi Banghart means there is promise for the future of Wawasee Volleyball.

Maddie Miller
"My most memorable moment in swimming was my freshman year, when I walked by the boys changing room and the door was wide open, I got to know more about the swim boys than I wanted to know!"

Into the Drink

The Lady Warrior Swim team had a season filled with ups and downs finishing with a 4-6 record. The Warriors went through a grueling three week conditioning program over winter break and the momentum carried them to a key 108-76 victory over Goshen. The ladies showed their grit at sectionals. Although the girls swam pretty well at the finals, Natalie Plummer was the only swimmer to place better than her preliminary performance. Kelsey Weideman, Keerstin Whitefield, and Julia Allen finished sixth in the sectional finals in the medley relay with a 2:00.33 time. Whitefield also placed sixth in the individual medley with a 2:26.64 time.

Nothing but Net

The Warrior Basketball team had a solid but tough season this year. At times they seemed to take the court by storm, and at others they seemed like the storm took them. However, the season had plenty of exciting moments, the most notable being the two epic battles against Northwood. In their first meeting the game began with a defensive 11-10 first quarter in favor of Wawasee, but that was a trend that would not continue. After leading Wawasee 57-49 early in the fourth quarter, Northwood got into foul trouble and allowed Wawasee to come back from the deficit. A clutch three point buzzer beater by Chas Amadeo sent the game into overtime. The game quickly became a battle of foul shots with the Warriors hitting 38 of 44. The next matchup was almost as equally exciting. Wawasee took an early 12-4 lead in the first quarter of the 3A Sectional meeting between Northwood and Wawasee. However, the Panthers had a lot of time left and a key 13-0 run in the third quarter made it a tough game for the Warriors and they lost the heartbreaker 62-53.

Beyond the Arch

The Lady Warrior Basketball team had a season filled with ups and downs. The Warriors were met with great expectations when they were voted a pre-season number one. Only one year removed from a state championship run and returning a solid core of players, the Warriors, led by Kalyn Lantz and a group of talented Juniors made another push to meet the goal they came so close to reaching last year. In the regional championship Wawasee took on a number three ranked state powerhouse in Ft. Wayne Elmhurst. Elmhurst brought its fast paced game to the Lady Warriors to take an early lead. The game bounced back and fourth for much of the game.

The Ladies took a solid 47-43 lead into the fourth quarter and never looked back finishing the game with a 56-49 victory. The team received a boost from the Orts with Kylee producing 12 points and seven rebounds and Ashlee pitching in eight points and five rebounds of her own. Lantz and Taylor Goshert also put in respectable games to give the Ladies a true team victory. However, despite being the favorite, the Ladies could not continue the momentum and their state drive was halted at Plymouth in a very close game. The Warriors bring back four out of their five starters and will look to make another push for a state title next year.

The Gymnastics team had tough year this year dealing with injuries to several key gymnasts including key senior Jeni Dunithan. The ladies finished with a record of 4-6, and after stumbling into sectionals after a rocky performance at West Noble where Laura Capps was the only gymnast to score above an 8 on the bars, the ladies were due for a breakout. At sectionals several ladies stepped up their game as Stephanie Kuhn recorded a personal best 8.7 on her floor routine and Laura Capps qualified for regionals and eventually went on to state where she placed.

Jordan Dawes "My freshman year we were all messing around on our way back from regionals, we got a bunch of ice cream and had an ice cream fight on the bus. We took more ice cream and smeared it all over Concord's bus."

Rees Woodcock Advancing through sectionals last year and winning the Hall of Fame Invite this year.

Michael Jenkins "When Andrew Custer and Jordan Dawes were wrestling on Stonehenge's putting green and Andrew passed Jordan out and he was laying down passed out. Everyone was staring and Wawasee was cracking up!"

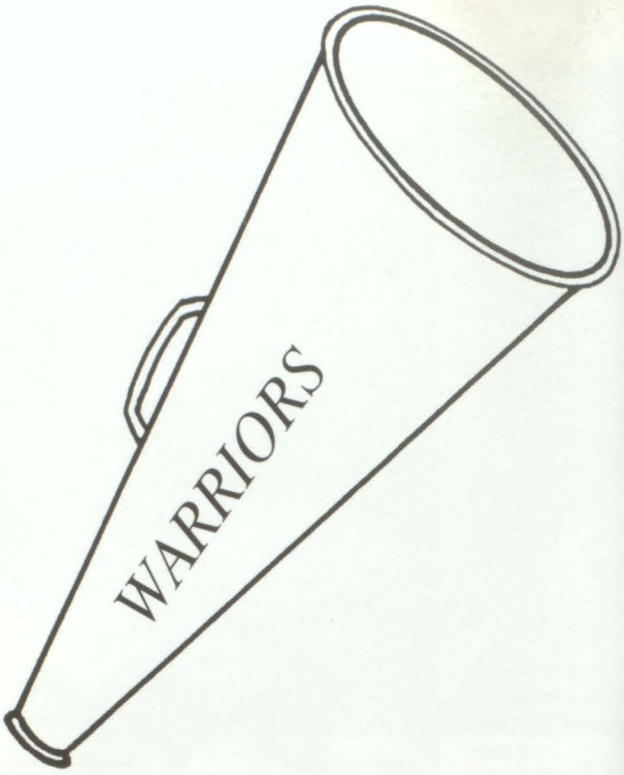

Curtis Coverstone "When I was a freshman, we went to the State Finals in Franklin."

Style and Grace

The golf team this year had a good year.

Allie Lemin.
"My most memorable moment in cheerleading is when we cheered at Conseco Fieldhouse for the girls' state. It was so fun to [illegible] and be on T.V."

Hannah Hutchitson.
"Having the opportunity to cheer at Conseco Fieldhouse during the girls' state championship game is something I will never forget! It was a great experience that few people get to have!"

Jenna Myers.
"Cheering at the girls state basketball game. It was so exciting to be cheering for the girls at Conseco Fieldhouse!"

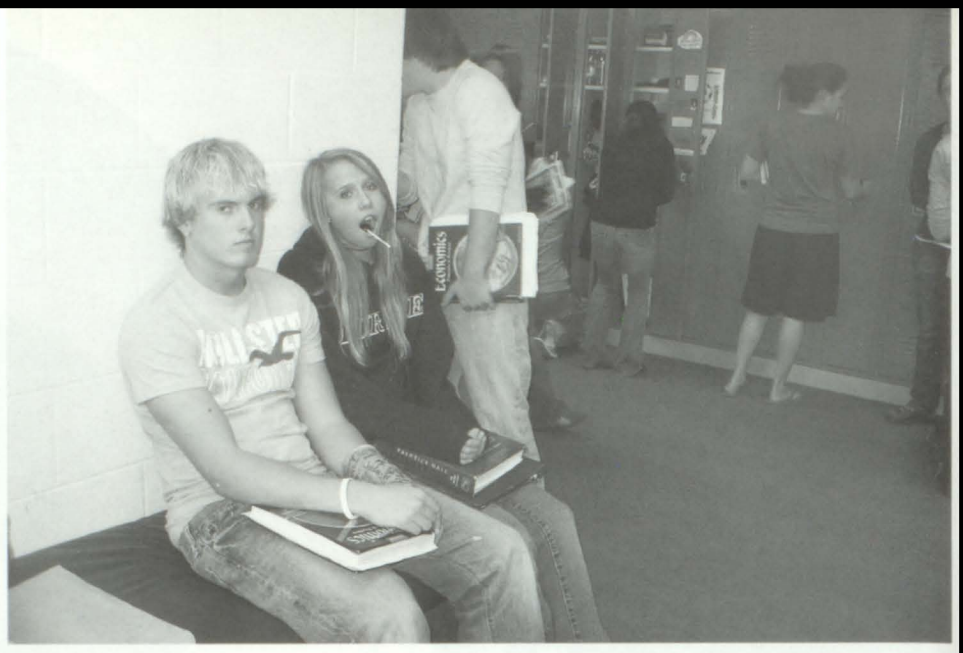

Paige Geer and Jenna Myers help lead the Wawasee fans in support of the Boy's Basketball team.

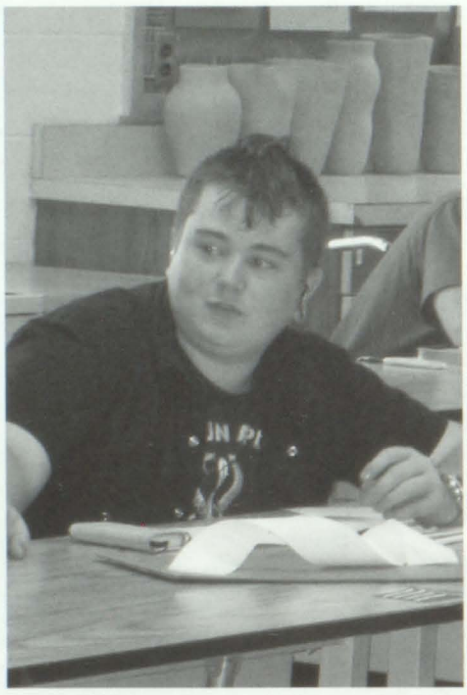

Something to Yell Out

The Wawasee Cheerleading team, led by a solid group of seniors, kept fans in the game with their enchanting cheers. Cheerleading demands great athleticism, an outgoing personality, and an impeccable sense of timing. The team must be able to read a game and keep the fans into a game no matter what the circumstances are. Not only do the cheerleaders do that well, but they are also in their own competitions. This year the girls placed eighth in the state tournament, and with a young team it looks like they will keep on getting better.

On the Right: Chelsea Nyce and Andy Rigleman finish up their layouts. Below: Jenna Wiggsand Alle Lemmon take a time out from yearbook picures and have a little fun!

Andy Rigleman works on putting together his department layout.

Taking a Look Back

The Wawasee yearbook staff aims to take an objective look on every school year to give students a book that capture the true experience of being a student at Wawasee High School. The staff covers many of the school's functions, ranging from sports to the productions of the drama club. The staff began the year by choosing the theme of "The Anatomy of a Warrior," and put together some very nice layouts throughout the year. Some of the challenges the staff met this year included meeting deadlines, covering the various school functions, and getting used to the various personalities on the staff. The Alle Lemmon was a key part of the yearbook staff, designing the cover as well as the sports layouts.
