Making Waves

to make a change in tom

As the years continue to roll by it seems that not much changes from one to the next, yet this school year was full of brand new experiences and fresh beginnings. This included different kinds of events for homecoming week and our first school's pep rallies for fall and winter sports. With new changes all around us, it's no wonder this yearbook's theme is "Making Waves". It represents our student body making changes and creating a path through our lives. It also defines all of our natural and beautiful lakes that surround the area that we call home. The lakes is what we grew up with and is part of us and this school. "Making Waves" entitles our generation to make a stand and create a difference in the world around us, to represent who we are and what we want to do with the rest of our lives. As Tennessee Williams once stated in a play, "the future becomes the present, the present the past, and the past turns into regret if [one] does not plan for it." This all starts here at this very high school, so get up and make some waves this year and for the years to come!

The People Person

Clarice Shear was nominated by the Yearbook Staff as this year's "People Person". She has earned this title by being one of the most friendliest people you will meet. She is always smiling and always says hello to people. She is not one to pass judgment and gets along with everyone. She is a person to meet and is definitely a "People Person".

Best Part of the Year

Summer is full of fun and exciting times. Summer is also a time to create memories. Luckily there is plenty of time to make these memories in the two and half month break we have off from school. Summer is thought of as a time of freedom for most students. As displayed across these two pages there's lots of things that go on during the freedom of summer break. This summer included playing in sandboxes, going on terrifying rides, whiffle ball tournaments, tubing, wake boarding, of course lots of hanging out with friends, and plenty more I am sure. Summer break is a great time to try new things. There's no doubt that this next summer won't let us down. This year's summer will indeed bring many more fantastic memories that will be remembered for a life time.

Wawasee High School went under intense construction over the summer. Carpets were tore up and the halls were cluttered. Teachers had to take out all their things and everything in the rooms had to be covered. Mrs. Judy exclaims, "Since I work all summer, I sometimes go barefoot in the main office-that was not a possibility this summer!" WHS is now filled with many new accommodations thanks to all the hard work done throughout the summer.

Changes @ WHS

a new look

Below are some of the faculty members that had to endure through the summer as the construction crew made many changes to their work areas. Even though it was difficult to maneuver around all the workers the faculty all agreed that the changes were definitely worth it.

"Contractors were unbelievable; they not only dug in to do the work, but were fun to do work with."

"There is a larger slider window to speak with students, parents, and school personnel." (on asked about changes to her area)

"There was one time when a chunk of concrete came flying towards my head from Mrs. Steven's office-missed me by about 10 in."

Below: The hallway is darkened while it is being worked on.

Homecoming Events

Homecoming was a little different this year. Mrs. Beer and Miss Blair headed the SRC to help make homecoming more enjoyable. Many students agreed that the changes were for the better---like the idea of a pep rally, a first for many Wawasee High Schoolers. When asked what she would change in next year's homecoming, Cassidy Freel said, "I would like to see more school participation."

In Boys' Volleyball (another first for Wawasee's homecoming week) the Junior boys won over the Seniors, Sophomores and Freshmen. In Girls' Powderpuff, the Senior girls (coached by senior boys) dominated the other classes.

Many students rated homecoming week anywhere between 6-10 on a scale of 1-10. As Nick Price put it, "I would rate it higher but the Juniors didn't win."

A New Look to

"My favorite part of homecoming? I would have to say, I pretty much liked it all, but if I had to choose one thing, I would say the talent show because it was very enjoyable!" says Kelcee Foerster. Many students thought the same, whether they best remembered the hilarious skits, dance routines, the comedic acts or songs.

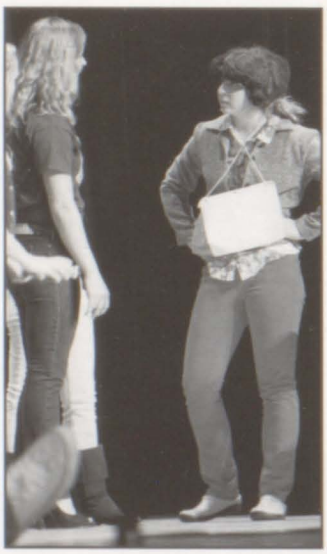

At the pep rally, Mr. Howland was made into a cake, an example of the effort we would put in to defeat Elkhart Memorial. The cheer squad got the Warriors pumped by leading everyone on in a contest and the band played the Warrior fight song.

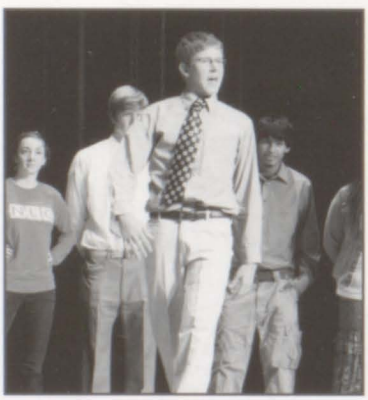

The single ladies of the talent show were Roxanne Schrock , Alyssa Brown and Katie Workman.

The Spirit of a Warrior

Students put a little bit more effort during the football games to show some school spirit. Almost every football game had a fun theme for everyone to be able to get involved in. Also, during Homecoming Week many students participated in all the dress up days that were provided for us. There were themes such as, Toga night, Warrior night, and Superhero night that gave many moments for the student body to show some much needed spirit. Everyone really seems to enjoy dressing up and seeing what other students thought of to wear. It really is a great way to get involved with your high school.

Alice in Wonderland

This year's fall play presented Alice in Wonderland. It was such a great and psychedelic experience that gave many opportunities for the actors and actresses to express their humor. All of the performers did a fantastic job really getting into character during the Friday and Saturday shows. The performance was very entertaining and all the cast members put a lot of effort and hard work into the show. This particular play presented a chance to really go all out on costumes and make-up and made the play even more enjoyable to watch. The audience seemed to completely get absorbed in to Wonderland.

Wave goodbye to our foreign friends

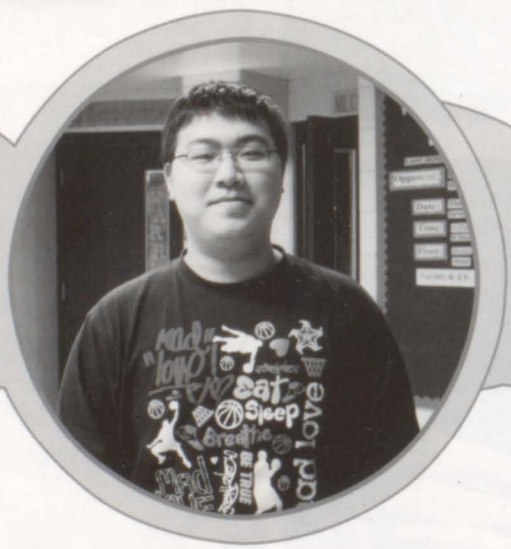

This year, Wawasee High School hosted seven foreign exchange students from five different countries in Europe, Asia, and South America. Three of our guests were from Germany, and the other four were from Thailand, South Korea, China, and Brazil. They all arrived in our community in early August, and stayed with host families for the entire school year. During their time in the states, the students had opportunities to travel to New York, California, Hawaii, or Las Vegas for a week. They had many experiences including the party that took place at Wawasee High School where all of the exchange students had a chance to really get to know one another.

A Night with the Stars

It was a "Starry Night" on the 7th of November. This year's Semi-Formal was truly a night to remember. The students poured into the annex gym ready for a terrific night and for a chance to get their groove on. As soon as they entered Keegan Beer and Luke Thompson insisted on requesting the two very popular Miley Cyrus songs, "The Climb" and "Party in the U.S.A." It seemed that everyone who was there had a fantastic time. Whitney Wright commented, "I thought the dance was awesome and a lot of fun. I loved it!" A big thanks to the SRC for planning and putting together a great dance. Unfortunately the night had to come to an end, but don't be too down about it, there is always next year's Semi-Formal! Which means another chance to let loose listening to your favorite tunes! See you there!

Holiday Cheer

This year's Christmas spirit was in full kick. The Seniors went all out wearing their Christmas sweaters every Thursday, and our new assistant principal, Mr. Howland, took it as far as dressing up as Santa Claus himself and visiting all the classes throughout the last day before break. It was quite a nice change to see everyone get so into the holidays. It's amazing when all the students and faculty are in a jolly mood and in high spirits for the upcoming family events and holidays. It seems that Wawasee High School definitely enjoyed the festivities that took place the last few weeks before Christmas break. The only negative was returning to school after break ended...

Express Yourself

Students at Wawasee are constantly doing new things. Whether it is a meaningful tattoo or the color of your hair, there are many different ways to express yourself. Everyone wants to be unique and stand out but do not always know the way to do it. Many students emphasize their personal style through piercings and tattoos. These are known to show that other side of you. If that way of expressing yourself is not for you, showing who you are through your wardrobe can be just as simple. Bright vibrant colors, in hair or in clothes, easily display your personality. Whether it's putting ink in your skin, holes through your body, or colorful dye on your head, standing out can be a super easy task as well as a fun an exciting one!

or Hardly Working...

Students that have jobs usually get them to be able to pay for the extra things their parents will not. Some students have cars with car insurance and gas that they have to pay. Some students have phones they have to pay for if they want them. Others just like to have a job for when they make plans for the movies or hanging out with friends they do not have to go ask their parents for money. It is a sort of freedom not always having to ask parents for money. Having a job may not always be fun, but in the end when the paycheck comes, it is all worth it.

Below: The four Rhodes sisters pose for a picture. Jenna(Grade 9), Brenna(10), Stephanie(11), and Nicole(11).

There are many different sets of siblings in this school. Some of them look exactly alike and others you may not even know that they were even related in anyway. Some siblings may or may not even get along. It does not matter if you get along or even if they are not blood related they are still your sister, your brother, or even your step- brother or sister.

Siblings in School

"Families are like fudge-mostly sweet with a few nuts!"

-Author Unknown

What is embarrassing about your siblings?

"They are embarrassing! They drive through town with the windows down yelling Voldemorts back! Everywhere I take them they have to make a scene especially ANTHONY!"

Dayna Gagliano said this about her brothers Anthony and Taylor.

Is it different seeing your sibling everyday at school?

"It is but I like it because we share a lot of friends and activities in common now"

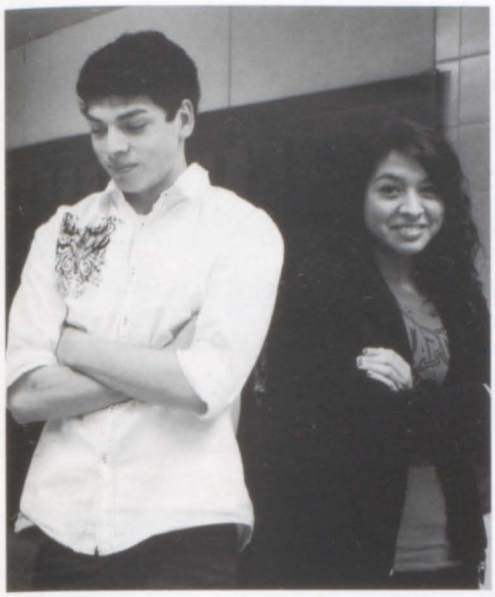

Audrey Stover said this about her younger sister, Alex, who is now a freshman.

Do you and your current sibling or siblings in school get along?

"Most of the time we don't have a problem getting along, sometimes we argue though."

Rocking..

Music is an important part in almost every student's life at Wawasee High School. Headphones seem to be a staple in the ears as they walk the halls or sit in class typing a paper. Some students define themselves by what they listen to. Their playlists go on and on. Some students have thousands of songs to choose from at their fingertips. Not only are students listening to music but they are creating their own. Students here at Wawasee High School have talent. Some sing others play. Each student has his or her own outlet to show off the skills. Some are able to play in their youth groups' band while others are able to play at local coffee shops. The talent shows at the high school have been yet another place for students to showcase their talents. Music has and always will be a staple in the lives of people everywhere.

Warrior Transportation

Rolling like BIG Shots

There are many different ways to get to and from school. The most common forms of getting to school are either driving your car, walking, or the dreaded bus. Sophia Katsaropoulous rides the bus occasionally and says," I don't like anything (referring to her bus rides). It's dirty and gross!" I think it's safe to say there are not too many that would rather ride the bus than drive themselves or get a ride from a friend or parent/guardian. Ky Carpenter on the other hand walks to school. He's happy with it and says, "It's quick, I live right next to the high school," but he does not like it when it's cold during the winter. One of the lucky ones, Taylor Slocum, is able to drive to school. I am very overjoyed with what I have now," Taylor excliams," and it gets him from "point A to point B fast." These students' forms of transportation are all different but in the end they all get to where they need to go. Thank goodness for transportation or else we would not be able to get to our lovely and enjoyable school and begin our day.

The school buses line up after school ready to take the Wawasee students home.

A Modern Twist

Above: Alona Scott wearing a black shirt with a crocheted back.

This year's trends are spreading like wildfire. From crocheted tops to knitted boots all the new styles are being expressed. With big head bands, florescent tops, and urban jackets, we are bringing a blast from the past. New sweaters and 80's biker boots display 2009 and 10's perfect combination of modern and vintage. Since the new style involves old clothing, raiding your mom's closet comes in very handy. Having such a popular wardrobe makes it even more motivating to get up and get dressed in the morning. Whether your dressing up or dressing down you always have an opportunity to look cute. Now everyone at Wawasee can be easily fashionable.

Spring Break

Spring break is a huge deal for students at Wawasee. It is a week for students to escape books and studying to just relax at home or in a warm summer climate. Most students go to all parts of Florida with family or friends. After the break the year always seems to fly by, which is why students seem to enjoy this vacation more than others. We had some students even go to Europe, Mexico, and the Virgin Islands. Spring Break is a good time for all, whether you're here or there.

Little Women

This year's spring musical was a huge success! Although the play may have been close to three hours long it was definitely worth the sit. The moment the curtains opened revealing the spectacular stage set-up you could feel the excitement of the audience. There were plenty of oohs and ahs. This year's spring musical was The Louisa May Alcott Classic Little Women. Little Woman is a play that tells the story of four little women and their journey to adult hood. It shows their realistic struggles to succeed and the fights they go through to live out there dreams. There were romances involved in this story. In the end these these little women that grew to young adults had learned a lot of hard life lessons. The moral of the story is you can get knocked down, you can lose people who are important in your lives, and you can achieve any dream you put your mind to. This year's spring musical was great. I am sure everyone is looking forward to next years.

Habitat for Humanity

Lending a Hand

Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit housing ministry that was found by Millard Fuller in 1976. Today they have built over 350,000 houses around the world. Wawasee High School's building trades was able to add one more house to the list. Families are selected through an application process where they are selected based upon their level of need as well as willingness to become partners in the program. "Habitat is not a giveaway program." Homeowners pay a down payment as well as a monthly mortgage. The monthly payments go towards building more Habitat houses. Going beyond the finances, they then volunteer hundreds of hours of their time to build more homes for other families in need.

Making of the News

Production Crew

The Wawasee High School Production Crew works hard to make sure that the student body is informed with current and upcoming events. It takes the work of everyone, behind and in front of the camera to pull it together. The anchors need to be good at public speaking and reading in order to successfully deliver the news. The rest of the crew needs some background in technological equipment to also make sure the show runs smoothly, Everyone plays a vital role to make sure you get the important information that you need, whether its a canceled practice, a new scholarship, or something else they make sure you hear it first.

How About You?

This year's art show was a huge success. Everyone had so much to contribute to the show. Bethaney Huffman also hosted an auction for "Relief towards Haiti" that raised quite a lot of money during the time of the art show. There was a variety of different things to look at including, ceramics, oil painting, water color, drawings with color pencil, ebony, and ink. Also there was photography-dark room and digital prints, and computer graphics. There were so many good pieces I couldn't imagine being a judge. Wawasee High School definitely has an art department to be proud of.

The Busy Body

Jacob Cantu was nominated by the Yearbook Staff as this year's "Busy Body". He has earned this title by being involved in many clubs and organizations. Some of these clubs include, KYLA, IMPACT, DECA, National Honor Society, and many others. He also holds down a job, takes classes at Ivy Tech, and also finds time to go to Youth Group and participate in church events. This is the reason why he is the "Busy Body".

The Intellectual

Tyler Guyas was nominated by the Yearbook Staff as this year's "Intellectual". He has earned this title by being a very intelligent person and taking strenuous classes. He took AP Calculus and AP Chemistry to push his limits in the math and science departments. He also participated in Super Mileage and so he is this year's "Intellectual".

Core Classes

Core classes (like math, social studies, English, and science) are what we need to graduate with at least a Core 40 diploma, as is required by the state. Teachers stay up late making their lessons and students stay up late to finish homework and projects. Sara Buyer, who is already involved in sports and other extra-curricular activities says, "I think there is way too much homework; we have a lot of classes so we already have a lot of homework. Every one is so demanding and there is a lot of stress that comes from them." Teachers are always trying to make them more exciting, whether it's a Socratic seminar in English or making a dragon in Biology. "Some Core classes have a lot of homework. I like some, others...not a lot." Brenna Rhodes says.

Outside of these four walls

The vocational building provides classes for students who are looking towards careers that deal with more hands on activities. The vocational building provides Autos and different Agriculture classes. Many students who are looking towards working with animals or a career of farming, take the Agriculture classes. Agriculture students get to do hands on activities with animals and learn many different planting skills. In Autos, students have the opportunity to use their car knowledge and expand it by working on their own cars or others. Students, staff, and anyone else can have the students look at it and the labor is free. People have to pay for the parts but the labor that goes into it is just a better way for students to better themselves at working on the cars for those who are thinking about becoming mechanics.

Different Styles of teaching

At Wawasee High School teachers try extremely hard to get students interested in what they're learning. They work towards keeping the young adults attention on the subject. These teachers have come up with creative ways in doing just that. Mrs. Szynal celebrated Pi Day with her math students and found creative ways in evaluating the value of Pi. Mrs. Beer's English classes read children's books in order to help identify themes in life. While Mr. Casey's Psychology class tested different brands of foods to see if students could actually taste a difference in flavor. All of these different teaching styles sure kept students awake and made the class a little more enjoyable.

Hands on Learning

Classes with Hands on Learning are a great way for all students to learn, especially those who do not learn very well by lectures or other types of teaching. Classes such as Biology, and other science classes make it fun for students to learn by doing experiments and fun labs. Students can sit and listen to a teacher talk about a chemical and what it does, but it is a lot more meaningful for the students if they can do something with the chemicals and actually do it themselves. Students also work well with other students that have HIT and can take the time to work on their own or with others to get things done. Students have a lot more fun working with a partner or in groups on things such as Mr. Casey's Sociology class that brought in things that meant something to them. Students that get to work with their hands are able to express their ideas and opinions so that more people can understand that task.

as Far as it Will Go...

AP stands for Advanced Placement and is one of the requirements for receiving an Academic Honors Diploma. These classes also offer the opportunity for students to acquire college credit if they score well enough on the AP exam given at the end of the year. Most tests, students needs to score a four or a five to be able to qualify for credit. Wawasee High School offers many courses such as, AP U.S. History, AP World History, AP Calculus, AP Biology, AP Chemistry, Advanced Animal and Life Science, and ACP English. Advanced Placement gives students a great chance to expand their knowledge and push their limits in their learning abilities. These classes also prepare students for the even more challenging years to come.

Experiencing

the future

At Wawasee High School, classes are given to students as options to take that will help them further their interest in a certain career. Nursing, E.M.T, Cosmetology, Welding, Autos, and Building Trades are all classes that can be take through Wawasee to better a students career choice. Other classes that are taken that can help students plan for their future are: Child Development, Personal Finance, Business Foundations, Nutrition and Wellness, Lifeguarding, Psychology, and Sociology. Each of these classes gives students some basic knowledge of things they may or may not need when they get out on their own.

Creative Presenting

Matt Emigh won the cereal box presentation contest in Economics class.

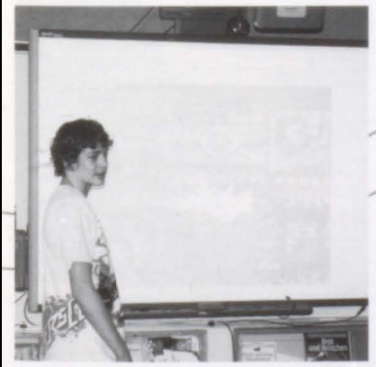

Giving presentation is a great way for students to show what they know at Wawasee. Presentations are done in a variety of classes and used in many ways. Power Point presentations are very popular. Mr. Shutz uses power points in his Computer Applications class as well as his business classes. Teachers have students do presentations so they can get more of an understanding of what they are learning and so they get the chance to work and learn with others. Presentations help students improve their speech capabilities. A student must learn how to be comfortable with speaking in front of a large group of people and speak loud and clear as to prepare them for college or for the workforce. The latest way of doing a presentation is on a smart board. Smart boards are used commonly in the foreign language classrooms. The smart board is a fun and interactive way for students to give an interesting and good presentation.

Exploring...

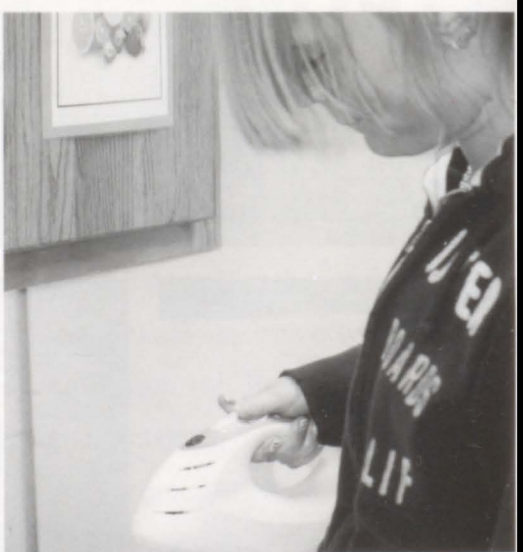

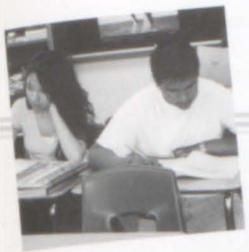

Electives

the Alternatives...

Electives at Wawasee are classes that students are able to take that seem of interest to them. Some give credit and some do not but all are there for better learning purposes. Psychology is an elective that students can take who are interested in the study of human behavior. Creative writing gives students a chance to express themselves and who enjoy writing. Speech is an elective that students can take to better their speech skills to make it easier on them when they get a job or go to college. Art classes are there for students who enjoy creativity and being able to express themselves on paper or in pictures. These are just a few of the many electives that Wawasee has to offer students. Electives are a great way for students to expand and gain more knowledge to help them decide for their future.

The Newbies

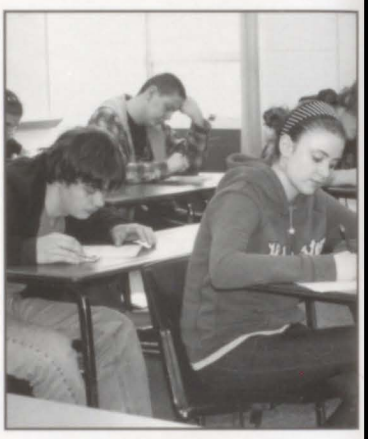

Every year we get a new batch of people we upper classmen like to call "stupid freshmen." Then once those freshmen near the end of their first high school year, they cannot wait until it is their turn to pick on the newbies. We all know what its like to be one and through all the picking on, we all love them. It's not as scary as some people make it out to be. If your a freshman and you make it through the first couple days then everything else should be a breeze. LIke all of your years in high school, your done before you know it. Under classmen will be upper classmen in a blink of an eye. Just remember, when your old and school is way behind you, it's your first years in high school your going to miss.

One-on-One

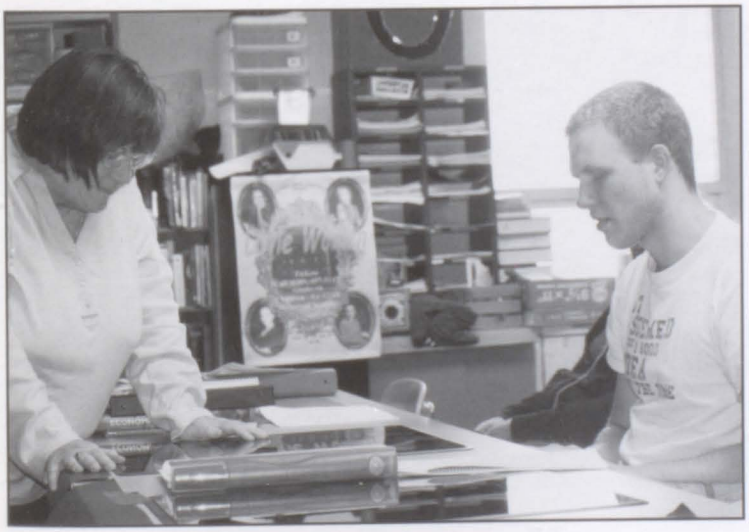

Teachers play a big role in the learning development of the students. Teachers are asked a lot for one-on-one time to help students get a better understanding of the material they are suppose to learn. Many teachers come up with different ways every year to make it easier for the students to learn. In science classes, teachers have labs so students get some hands on experience of what they are learning. Some math classes, like Geometry, students are told the SOH CAH TOA story to get them interested. For English classes, some teachers change it up when it comes to reading stories. They try to make it fun when they choose to read the stories to you by acting out the character in the story to help the students stay attentive. In History classes, such as Government, Mrs. Myers tries to make the class interesting by doing a lot of group opinion time. Students should also be thankful for those teachers who are willing to take their time before or after school to help any student succeed.

Wawasee sports

The All-Star Athlete

Keegan Beer was nominated by the Yearbook Staff for this year's "All-Star Athlete". He has earned this title be being involved in three different sports, Soccer, Basketball, and Baseball. He also gets this honor because this year he was the only Senior on the basketball team and brought a lot of victory to the team. This is why he is this year's "All Star Athlete".

Pushing Forward

for a better day on the field

The Warrior varsity football team, coached by Tom Wogomom, finished their season with a record of 2-8. Even though their record showed few wins, it could not begin to show the rugged determination and never ending spirit they displayed throughout the season. Captains of the Wawasee team this year were Jacob Sommers, Joey Melendez, and Joshua Dingeldein. Jacob Sommers said, " I think next year's team will have a solid group of seniors and they should be successful."

and kicking it to them

This year's boy's soccer team had its ups and downs just like every other sports team. Keegan Beer said, "It was pretty good. I had a lot of fun, but I wish we could have went further into sectionals." Although, they did not make it as far as they wanted to, the team grew,"Yes, we continued to grow throughout the season and I think they(next year's team) will continue to improve.".said Beer. Heading it in to Improve for tomorrow!

The Girls Soccer Team had a season of playing their hardest. Kayla Courtney and Lauren Tait gave some insight on this year's season. Courtney claimed, "We went up and down throughout the season but by the end we progressed a lot." Tait agreeing with Courtney points out how they won't forget the memorable, crazy bus rides. Tait also observes that, "This was definitely a rebuilding year. We had a lot of talent as individuals but working as one unit was a difficult process." Next year should be one to look forward to for improved Warrior Soccer.

"In all sports you gain teammates, but in Cross you gain brothers," says Matt Rensberger. He, and others, have said this season's cross country was the most fun. Most of the season for the boys' and girls' team were great and held many achievements and everyone grew as a team. "My most memorable moment was getting covered in bugs and not being able to see the course," says Desi List. Headed by Coach Dave Stookey, the teams raged on to try and make this year a successful one for Wawasee High School. Their record this year was 4-3 for the boys, and 1-6 for the girls. Spiking for the kill and getting the win

This year's volleyball season was good, though it had its ups and downs. Our lady warriors trained hard to achieve what they won. In the struggle, all of the girls became really good friends, almost a family. When asked what her most memorable moment was, Adrienne Drooke said, "At one of our home games, I hit the ball and it soared into the top level of the gym. It was really embarrassing". Through the season the team grew stronger, "We grew so much as a team and pushed ourselves to improve every day.", says senior Susie Hershberger, "I think the girls will do a fabulous job (next year) of playing as a team, working hard, and WINNING SECTIONALS!"

we've got spirit, yes we do!

This year's cheer season was "Great!," said varsity cheerleaders Dayna Gagliano and Kyla Hasse. This year the football cheer squad made it all the way to state and took third place. Throughout these experiences senior and varsity cheerleader, Chelsea Coy, said her favorite parts were, "making so many friends, how I grew as a person, and how much I improved as a cheerleader this year." Senior and varsity cheerleader Joy Targgart said she is going to miss "supporting the teams, cheering to the crowd, and growing as a squad." Overall this year's season was a memorable one. Their team support was awesome and their spirit was greatly appreciated.

Swimming and Diving

Warriors making it happen!

Just about everyone has taken swim lessons during their lifetime, but their are few who take it to the next level. They become swimmers and divers. There is more to swimming and diving than meets the eye. No matter how hard you try you are always pushing yourself to either get that perfect dive or to improve your time even the littlest bit. In order to make yourself the best you can possibly be you must put time, dedication, and effort into every single time you practice so it shows in the end at meets. Brittany Robinson was a great example of dedication and pushing yourself. She made it to state this year.

Boys Take It To The Hoop

doing it Wawasee style

The Boys' Basketball team had a swell season, especially due to the fact that they only had one Senior, Keegan Beer, on the team. Keegan Beer was known as the "glue that held the team together." Riley Stichter broke the record for most points scored in a game. All in all it was a very exciting year for the boys, and since they have so many young players there are sure to be plenty more exciting years to come.

Going for the Lay Up and not stopping until they score!

The Wawasee Girls Basketball team put their best foot forward this year and gave it their all in order to play as a team. They play well as a team too. The girls are like a family with Coach Zolman more as a father figure who believes in tough discipline and good morals. His famous daughter, Shana Zolman, even came and practiced with the girls from time to time. With a record of 12-9 the girls did not do too bad and showed a lot of improvement.

Wawasee Wrestling

take it to the mats

Through intense practices and nerve racking weight cuts the boys' wrestling team safely made it through their season. Each and every boy put their heart and soul into this sport and it showed. Jacob Rhodes said, "It was an overall great experience and a good way to stay in shape." It may have been tough but the boys pulled through and did a great job. Way to go boys!

Tumbling & Flipping

through the year

The gymnastics team "had a really high scoring season" states Stephanie Kuhn, a senior this year who participates in vault, beam, and floor. She also mentions that, "floor is my absolute favorite, because I like to do cool moves to my music...and flip around." The team showed a lot of improvement throughout their events and had a lot of fun getting closer to one another. They are all really good friends and enjoy working hard and improving, which shows in their high scores this year.

Working as a team

on the track

Most would agree that the members of the track team have improved a lot, both as a kind of family-away-from-home and as an embodiment that represents Wawasee High School. New friendships were forged, skills were formed, and a lot of effort went into making the Wawasee track team what it was. When asked what her favorite memories were, Sarah Steele reminisces, "Any practice with the hurdlers was fun and funny." She also went on to say, "As individuals, we really improved. We had two girls go to regionals."

Batter Up!

Hit, Home Run!

"It was fun, the whole season was over-all not too bad," says Jessica Wilson. She and others agree that the season helped them learn and grow as a team. As with many sports, they had to fit in softball with a highschooler's already busy schedule, some of them having to share spaces with work. Many of the members of the softball team were seniors, and the whole team will miss them. They'll have to really work hard next year to make up for the loss, but with a little work, we know that they'll be able to pull it off!

Boys Baseball

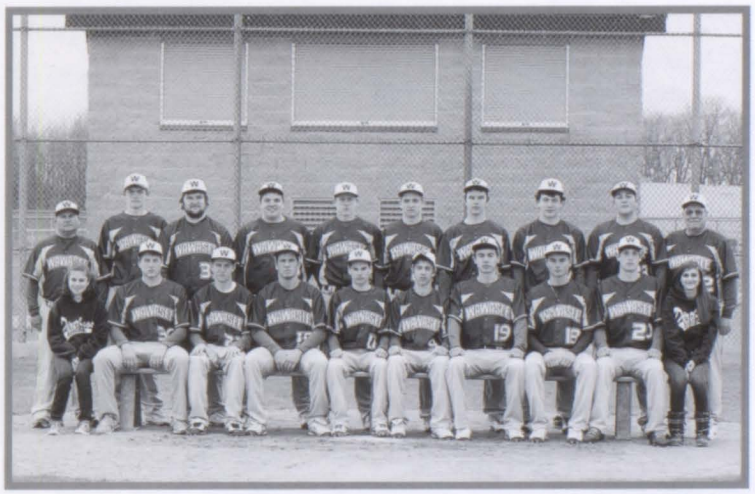

The Warrior baseball season this year may have been rained out almost every other day, but that didn't put a damper on the teams' Wawasee spirit. The boys did an excellent job this season and really worked their hardest. They had some amazing wins with a 6-1 win against Bethany Christian, a 16-3 win against Whitko, a 15-5 against NorthWood, and a 7-3 win against Lakeland. They gave it their best and in all had a good season.

Go for the Ace

game, set, match

Tennis players at Wawasee High School were able to make memories on the courts this year. Each year comes with its own successes and challenges. All players no doubt did their best out on the court. Sports take so much time and commitment. Students are able to mature through sports. They work hard to keep their grades up and keep their games up as well. Students at Wawasee High School step up to the challenge each and every year giving their school something to be proud of. Great job guys!

Drivin' Towards the Green and hoping for the best!

Girls and Boys golf did an excellent job this season. The boys played their hearts out, winning eight out of the ten games. With John Kirkwood as the boys star player, he really brought home some wins for his team. On the girls side, Krista Zurcher lead the way. She did her best and made the effort to be a good influence on her team.

Playing with pride

on and off the field.

Have you ever drove through the parking lot at 7 o'clock in the morning and wondered why the marching band was out there practicing already? That just shows the dedication that has to be put into Marching Band. Although the band did not get as far as they would have hoped. They still held it together. "We definitely improved as a band as the season went on. You learn to rely on your band members and trust them", says junior Harley Thompson. That is just the truth. The marching band learns to work together as if it almost becomes a family of its own.

Making Connection

the people you meet

The Class Clown

Kelcee Foerster was nominated by the Yearbook Staff as this year's "Class Clown". He has earned this title by just being the goofiest, most hilarious kid in the school. He is always doing random and crazy things and yelling out obscenities. Just ask anyone and they will tell you that he is definitely a "Class Clown".

Midnight Masquerade

Prom 2010 was a huge success this year. The theme was Midnight Masquerade and friends danced to the Cupid shuffle, did the electric slide, and even got crazy with the YMCA. Even the guarder ceremony was a hit! With good cake, punch, and friends, the night was a blast for seniors. Alyssa Brown was our prom queen and Jake Bowerman was our king. They shared their dance and both seemed to have an enjoyable night. Prom was definitely a night that no one will forget!

The End...

At the end of each school year students must say goodbye. They say goodbye to their teachers, to the hallways, to everything they have known for the past four years. Some even say goodbye to friends. A page has turned in their lives and it is now time to start the next chapter. Some will go away to continue their education at a university and others at technical schools. Some will jump right into the workforce and others will prepared to defend our country. No matter where they go they will no doubt have the memories made at Wawasee High School stamped in their hearts forever.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

or just the beginning?

Was it the end or just the beginning? Graduates may feel that it's the end as they turn their tassel and toss their hats. It's hard to imagine life beyond the four walls of the school that they have known for the past four years. The years in high school fly by faster than anyone can imagine. While it is the end, it is also the beginning. It is now time for these young adult to make their way into the world and shine.
