Feel the Music
Juniors Stephany Meija and Jade Skelton have a great time at the BAALS Music Festival in Fort Wayne.

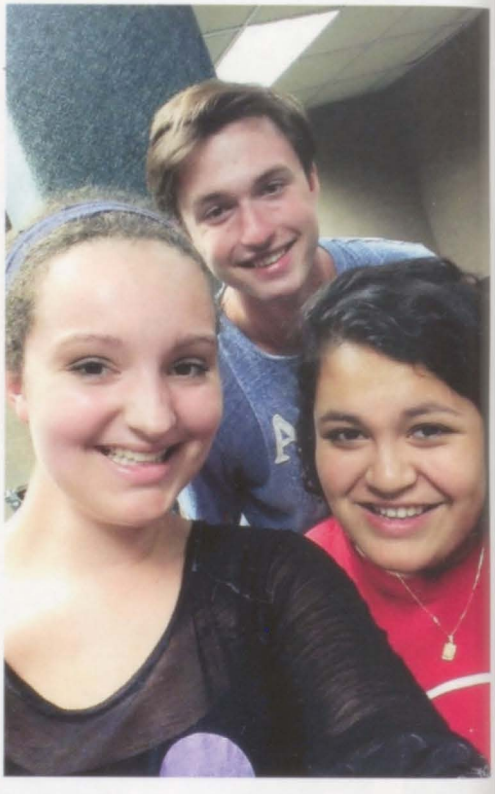

Lake Life
Living on Lake Wawasee and the surrounding area has its perks. Students enjoy sailing on a beautiful summer day.

All play and no work? Summer is a time where students get a break from books and pencils and get a change to relax. Many Wawasee students were able to take trips far and wide-some even crossed the globe! Those who stayed closer to home enjoyed the warm weather on the lake and outside. But as summer winds down and the school year gets closer, the work begins. Summer sports conditioning and band camp brings students back to campus early. Above: Brand new juniors Hannah LaMaine and Aidan Whalen take a break from marching to pose for a pic with senior Jessica Garcia (Photo by Hannah LaMaine).

Gridiron Boys

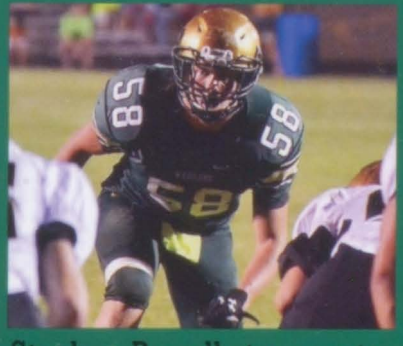

With a new offense and some coaching changes heading into the season, the Warriors were a bit different than in previous years. At 3-7, it wasn't the season anybody wanted. The boys' started 2-0 with big wins over first time foe Griffith and West Noble, but the NLC proved a new test for the Warriors. As they were unable to find a win until the offense exploded against Elkhart Memorial on Senior night. The Warriors played a familer team in Plymouth in the opening round of sectionals, but lost. As the season wrapped up, the Warriors looked back at the memories they made from the season as well as senior trip. This group of Warriors will forever be apart of a living Wawasee legacy.

Robotics

#wearegroot

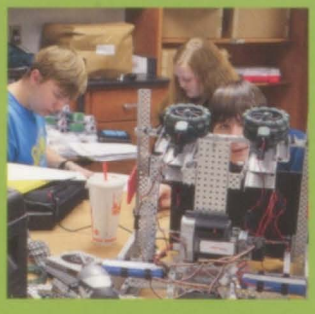

The Iron Pride strives for advancement in STEM concepts by creating robots each season and competing in a custom game created by VEX Robotics.

Each team is made up of 3-5 people each with unique jobs that are all equally important and crucial to the team. Throughout the season, every team grows close into their own family, creating bonds that prevail through anger, pressure to preform, distraught, anxiety, joy and frustration.

The Iron Pride embraces a concept warmly named "Groot" where "what happens to one of us, happens to all of us" is taken deeply to heart.

Each match consists of a fifteen second autonomous period where each robot must operate own it's own program without driver help.

The autonomous period is followed by one minute and forty-five seconds of driver-controlled play where each team is to attain a higher score than the opposing Alliance by Scoring green Balls and orange Bonus Balls in your Low and High Goals, and by Elevating Robots in their respective Climbing Zone

Wawasee vs. Plymouth: This game was dedicated to two students who passed at both schools in the same week. The cheerleaders got together and released balloons as a sign of unity.

Girls Tennis

The girls show off their team spirit at the end of a meet.

STROKES

Forehand	Serve	Bachnad	Overhead
This is the strongest shot becasue it uses the dominant hand.	This is the most important shot in tennis.. This takes alot of time & effort to master but it'll eventually opay off.	In this swing you can use one or two hands, it's you chice. One hand provides better reach & two handss provide more stability	This swing requires footwork.You should not plant your feet until before the ball's impact.

Theatre: Just Like a Family

Being in an activity where it feels like everyone is part of a family is one of the greatest things in the world. That's how it felt for everyone who was in the musical. It didn't matter if they were onstage or behind the scenes, if it was their first musical or their last, or even if they already graduated and were just visiting the stage–at one point or another they all became part of the family. They will always be connected forever, even if it is through song.

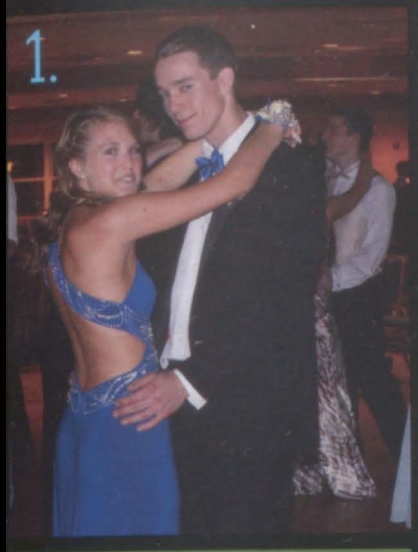

Prom 2016: Under the Stars

It's everyone's night to remember, and it only happens once: Prom Night. The students, even underclassmen, have been buzzing about it all week with who asked who, what everyone is wearing, and who will win prom king and queen (which ended up being Cameron Adams and Sarah Lancaster). Prom night is the night for the seniors. It's the night they can all be together, and enjoy their last few weeks as seniors before they realize they have their whole lives awaiting them.

Dancing the Night Away...

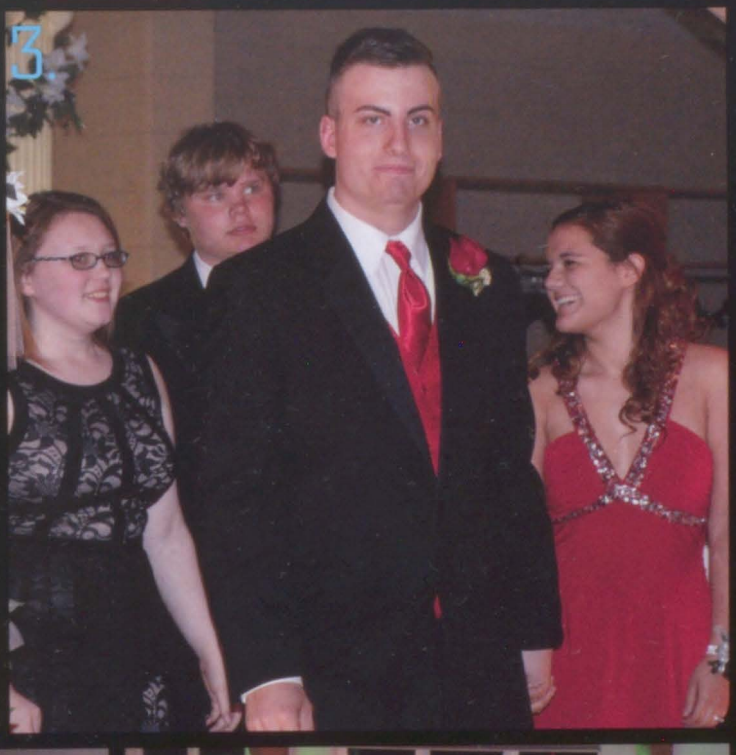

Wawasee seniors, along with their guests, enjoyed a beautiful night Under the Stars...

1.) Joe Smitts & Noelle Gagnon share a couple dance together.

2.) Alyssa Magira & Logan Dickerson have a great time dancing together on their prom night.

3.) Morgan Schmidt, Allen Bontrager, Michael Marsillett, and Shelby Adams walk into prom together.

The studetnts involved in Pops Show never fail to leave an impression on their audience. Most of everyone leaves with a smile on their face and a tune in their head. The students love what they can all achieve together in the end, despite all the long, and tiring houres they put in. They are tight-knit group, who all have high hopes, and goals for the future.

There are many clubs that Wawasee High School has to offer. Every person that gets involved in some sort of after school activity whether it be theatre, art club, robotics, or supermileage

Radio & TV

Taught by Mr. Van Lue and Mr. Huffman

Real world. That is what Mr. Van Lue teaches in his radio class. If you mess up in the radio world you cannot just hit undo. Well actually yes at times you can because the students pre-record everything that way they do not always have to be pefect. The radio class is not like a normal class. Students actually get to see and hear the work they are doing. It teaches you the ins and out of the radio world. Students have to learn how the radio works before they are allowed on air. Between working in the book and hands on experence students will learn quick weather this is the class for them or they have to make the short walk to guidence. After you pass the Radio class with at least a C- you have the option to take Tv. The Tv class is more project based all while learing the basic and essential skill from Mr. Huffman. Students from both Radio and Tv have the opportunity to produce a piece of work that will be looked at, and juged by the IASB committee. Student success is based on the attitude and work ethnic of the student themselves.
